The Maid-at-Arms, a Novel, by Robert W. Chambers,... Robert W. Chambers,1902 The Maid-At-Arms: A Novel Robert William Chambers,2020-09-28 After a hundred years the history of a great war waged by a successful nation is commonly reviewed by that nation with retrospective complacency Distance dims the panorama haze obscures the ragged gaps in the pageant until the long lines of victorious armies move smoothly across the horizon with never an abyss to check their triumph Yet there is one people who cannot view the past through a mirage The marks of the birth pangs remain on the land its struggle for breath was too terrible its scars too deep to hide or cover For us the pages of the past turn all undimmed battles brutally etched stand clear as our own hills against the sky for in this land we have no haze to soften truth Treading the austere corridor of our Pantheon we too come at last to victory but what a victory Not the familiar gracious goddess wide winged crowned bearing wreaths but a naked desperate creature gaunt dauntless turning her iron face to the west The trampling centuries can raise for us no golden dust to cloak the flanks of the starved ranks that press across our horizon Our ragged armies muster in a pitiless glare of light every man distinct every battle in detail Pangs that they suffered we suffer The faint hearted who failed are judged by us as though they failed before the nation yesterday the brave are re enshrined as we read the traitor to us is no grotesque Guy Fawkes but a living Judas of to day We remember that Ethan Allen thundered on the portal of all earthly kings at Ticonderoga but we also remember that his hatred for the great state of New York brought him and his men of Vermont perilously close to the mire which defiled Charles Lee and Conway and which engulfed poor Benedict Arnold We follow Gates s army with painful sympathy to Saratoga and there we applaud a victory but we turn from the commander in contempt his brutal selfish shallow nature all revealed We know him We know them all Ledyard who died stainless with his own sword murdered Herkimer who died because he was not brave enough to do his duty and be called a coward for doing it Woolsey the craven Major at the Middle Fort stammering filthy speeches in his terror when Sir John Johnson s rangers closed in Poor who threw his life away for vanity when that life belonged to the land Yes we know them all great greater and less great our grandfather Franklin who trotted through a perfectly cold and selfishly contemptuous French court aged alert cheerful to the end Schuyler calm and imperturbable watching the North which was his trust and utterly unmindful of self or of the pack yelping at his heels Stark Morgan Murphy and Elerson the brave riflemen Spencer the interpreter Visscher Helmer and the Stoners The Maid-at-arms Robert William Chambers,1902

Chambers,2014-02-19 You will answer that question for yourself when you meet your kin the Varicks and Butlers he said and the reply had an insolent ring that did not please me yet I was loath to quarrel with this boyish giant whose amiable company I had found agreeable on my long journey through a land so new to me My friend I said you are blunt Only in speech sir he replied lazily swinging one huge leg over the pommel of his saddle Sitting at ease in the sunshine he opened his fringed hunting shirt to the breeze blowing So you go to the Varicks he mused aloud eyes slowly closing in the sunshine like the brilliant eyes of a basking lynx Do you know the lord of the manor I asked Who The patroon I mean Sir Lupus Varick Yes I know him I know Sir Lupus We call him the patroon though he s not of the same litter as the Livingstons the Cosbys the Phillipses Van Rensselaers and those feudal gentlemen who juggle with the high justice the middle and the low and who will juggle no more Am I mistaken said I in taking you for a Boston man In one sense you are he said opening his eyes I was born in Vermont Then you are a rebel Lord he said laughing how you twist our English tongue Tis his Majesty across the waters who rebels at our home made Congress Is it not dangerous to confess such things to a stranger I asked smiling His bright eyes reassured me Not to all strangers he drawled swinging his free foot over his horse s neck and settling his bulk on the saddle One big hand fell as by accident over the pan of his long rifle Watching without seeming to I saw his forefinger touch the priming stealthily and find it dry You are no King s man he said calmly Oh do you take me for a rebel too I demanded No sir you are neither the one nor the other like a tadpole with legs neither frog nor pollywog But you will be Which I asked laughing My wisdom cannot draw that veil for you sir he said You may take your chameleon color from your friends the Varicks and remain gray or from the Butlers and turn red or from the Schuylers and turn blue and buff You credit me with little strength of character I said I credit you with some twenty odd years and no experience With nothing more Yes sir with sincerity and a Spanish rifle which you may have need of ere this month of May has melted into June I glanced at the beautiful Spanish weapon resting across my pommel What do you know of the Varicks I asked smiling More than do you he said for all that they are your kin Look at me sir Like myself you wear deer skin from throat to ankle and your nose is ever sniffing to windward But this is a strange wind to you You see you smell but your eyes ask What is it You are a woodsman but a stranger among your own kin You have never seen a living Varick you have never even seen a partridge Your wisdom is at fault there I said maliciously Have you seen a Varick No but the partridge Maid-At-Arms Robert W. Chambers: Master of The King in Yellow Shawn M. Tomlinson,2015-11-09 It has taken me 37 years to write this biography of author Robert W Chambers Along the way I wrote and published many articles about him but did not complete the biography until 2014 I got the idea of writing it when I was 15 and the reason I got the idea is the same reason it has taken so long to write the book There simply is not that much information about Chambers out there Despite his fame and thorough integration in New York high society very little was written about him during his lifetime This volume contains the Expanded Edition of the biography Robert W Chambers Maker of Moons as well as the collection of articles originally titled Robert W Chambers In Search of the Unknown Author of The King in Yellow Cardigan Robert W. Chambers Robert W. Chambers,2016-08-31 Those who read this romance for the sake of what history it may contain will find the histories from which I have helped myself more profitable Those antiquarians who hunt their hobbies through books had best drop the trail of this book at the preface for they will draw but a blank covert in these pages Better for the antiquarian that he seek the mansion of Sir William Johnson which is still standing in Johnstown New York and see with his own eyes the hatchet scars in the solid mahogany banisters where Thayendanegea hacked out polished chips It would doubtless prove more profitable for the antiquarian to thumb those hatchet marks than these pages But there be some simple folk who read romance for its own useless sake To such quiet minds innocent and disinterested I have some little confidences to impart There are still trout in the Kenneyto the wild ducks still splash on the Vlaie where Sir William awoke the echoes with his flintlock the spot where his hunting box stood is still called Summer House Point and huge pike in golden green chain mail still haunt the dark depths of the Vlaie water even on this fair April day in the year of our Lord 1900 The Trevor Case Natalie Sumner Lincoln,1912 Bambi Marjorie Benton Cooke,1914
