Division of Epidemiology and Prevention Research, 1999 This monograph is based on the papers from a technical review on Drug abuse prevention through family interventions held on January 25 26 1996 The review meeting was sponsored by the National Institute on Drug Abuse Handbook of Evidence-Based Therapies for Children and Adolescents Ric G. Steele, T. David Elkin, Michael C. Roberts, 2007-12-03 Growing numbers of young people some 10% to 20% of school age populations have mental health problems requiring intervention and current policy initiatives identify evidence based therapies as the most effective and relevant forms of treatment. By reviewing evidence based treatments EBTs across a wide spectrum of conditions the Handbook of Evidence Based Therapies for Children and Adolescents Bridging Science and Practice closes the gaps between children's needs and services as well as those between research training and practice. Several EBT options both proved and promising are offered for each covered disorder and are bolstered by case examples, tables and reference lists. Features include chapters on implementation issues such as diversity, family treatment, assessment strategies and community settings and step by step guidance for the researcher looking to gather empirical support for therapies. With comprehensive coverage provided by numerous leading experts in the field this volume covers the broadest range of disorders over the widest pediatric adolescent age range including Behavioral disorders, ADHD, aggression, bullying, Phobias, panic disorders, school refusal and anxiety, Autism and pervasive developmental disorders, Depression, mood disorders and suicidal behavior, Alcohol and drug abuse, Eating disorders and obesity, PTSD. With its emphasis on flexibility and attention to emerging issues the Handbook of Evidence Based Therapies for Children and Adolescents is essential reading for anyone who works to address the mental health needs of children including clinical child, school and counseling psychologists, clinical social workers and child psychiatrists as well as advanced graduate level students in these and other related fields.

The Practice of Child Therapy Richard J. Morris, Thomas R. Kratochwill, 2008. Consistent with previous editions this book assembles in a single volume summaries of the treatment literature and treatment procedures of the most common childhood behavior disorders facing persons who practice in applied settings: clinics, schools, counseling centers, psychiatric hospitals and residential treatment centers. Its 16 chapters cover the historical context of child and adolescent therapy, obsessive compulsive disorders, childhood depression, childhood fears, phobias and related anxieties, attention deficit hyperactivity disorder, academic problems, conduct disorder, somatic disorders, autism spectrum disorder, intellectual disabilities, children medically at risk, sexual and other abuse of children, child and adolescent psychopharmacotherapy, prevention and child therapy and the law. Key features include Treatment Orientation. Although some chapters include a discussion of theoretical issues the primary emphasis is on intervention techniques and strategies for changing various behavior and learning problems. Case examples are often used to illustrate treatment procedures. Empirical Orientation. While most authors have adopted a broad based behavioral or cognitive behavioral orientation they were encouraged to review the entire treatment literature and to construct their presentations on the basis of empirically supported treatment techniques and procedures. Psychopharmacotherapy. Chapter The chapter on child and adolescent psychopharmacotherapy focuses on psychopharmacological interventions rather than on which drugs should be prescribed for specific behavior or learning problems. Author Expertise. Each chapter is written by experts who are well qualified to discuss treatment practices for the specific topic under discussion. This book is intended for individuals who have entered or plan to enter the mental health profession or such related professions as counseling, special education, nursing and rehabilitation. It is especially useful for individuals taking child and adolescent therapy and intervention courses and practicum courses Finally it is suitable for persons who work in applied settings including clinics schools counseling centers psychiatric hospitals and residential treatment centers
