Lesbian Love Story Amelia Possanza,2024-05-28 For readers of Saidiya Hartman and Jeanette Winterson Lesbian Love Story is an intimate journey into the archives uncovering the romances and role models written out of history and what their stories can teach us all about how to love When Amelia Possanza moved to Brooklyn to build a life of her own she found herself surrounded by queer stories she read them on landmark placards overheard them on the pool deck when she joined the world s largest LGBTQ swim team and even watched them on TV in her cockroach infested apartment These stories inspired her to seek out lesbians throughout history who could become her role models in romance and in life Centered around seven love stories for the ages this is Possanza s journey into the archives to recover the personal histories of lesbians in the twentieth century who they were how they loved why their stories were destroyed and where their memories echo and live on Possanza s hunt takes readers from a drag king show in Bushwick to the home of activists in Harlem and then across the ocean to Hadrian s Library where she searches for traces of Sappho in the ruins Along the way she discovers her own love for swimming for community for New York City and adds her record to the archive At the heart of this riveting inventive history Possanza asks How could lesbian love help us reimagine care and community What would our world look like if we replaced its foundation of misogyny with something new with something distinctly lesbian Our Voices, Our Histories Shirley Hune,Gail M. Maier,Rachel M. Friars,2025-09-09 In Neo Victorian Lesbians on Screen Maier and Friars argue that the on screen portrayal of lesbians situated in the long nineteenth century across various countries is at the very least a dual task the imperative project of revoicing lesbian silence and female companionship is complicated by the lack of and or complex representation of such women in the past The adaptations with varying degrees of success carefully manipulate the gaze of the viewer to illustrate both how crucial the act of looking proves to be for lesbian attachment in these films and how the viewer's own gaze changes the way the lesbian is represented. Maier and Friars consider the adaptations' awareness of the audience and the ways in which the films implicitly acknowledge the stakes behind bringing the lesbian to life as it were in visual media. Because screen adaptations disrupt historical distance by literally picturing Victorian subjects via a medium they did not have, film adaptations of novels and biofictions and original screenplays are challenged by the lesbian subject's vivid presence on screen. The lesbian is no longer a contained neo-Victorian presence in the othered nineteenth century but her very existence on screen signals her effervescent modernity which filmmakers alternately embrace or reject.

Sex, Breath, and Force Ellen Mortensen, 2006-01-01. Living in the post-modern age there is a growing sentiment of disenchantment in relation to the most facile aspects of dogmatic feminism. Nevertheless the question of sexual difference still remains. Sex, Breath, and Force asks how we should approach such a questioning today given the fall of the great narratives and the plethora of theoretical discourses in circulation. What are the conditions of possibility for thinking of sexual difference as a foundational problem in the age of technology? And how do the disciplines of social science, literary studies, philosophy and film studies answer this challenge? This collection of essays provides a reassessment of the question of sexual difference taking into account important shifts in feminist thought, post-humanist theories and queer studies. The contributors offer new and refreshing insights into the complex question of sexual difference from a post-feminist perspective and how it is reformulated in various related areas of study such as ontology, epistemology, metaphysics, biology, technology and mass media.
