Partner Earth Pam Montgomery, 1997-10-01 A well respected herbalist describes how opening ourselves to the spirit forces of nature can promote personal well being and restore a healthy relationship between humanity and Earth The pace and demands of modern life have caused a great split between the material and the spiritual in our lives Our bodies reflect this through fatigue depression and chronic illness To become whole beings again the author asserts that we must reclaim our birthright as partners with all of creation opening ourselves to the spirits of plants animals and the elements known as devas through whom we can bridge the gap between the physical body and the energetic patterns that support all life Partner Earth provides a wide range of practical exercises based on traditional wisdom visualizations and the author s experience as an herbalist that enable one to create sacred space find plant and animal allies and create flower essences that can help heal the rift between individuals and their environment

Nature and Culture in the Northern Forest Pavel Cenkl, 2010-03-15 Nearly 30 million acres of the Northern Forest stretch across New York Vermont New Hampshire and Maine Within this broad area live roughly a million residents whose lives are intimately associated with the forest ecosystem and whose individual stories are closely linked to the region s cultural and environmental history The fourteen engaging essays in Nature and Culture in the Northern Forest effectively explore the relationships among place work and community in this complex landscape Together they serve as a stimulating introduction to the interdisciplinary study of this unique region Each of the four sections views through a different lens the interconnections between place and people The essayists in Encounters have their hiking boots on as they focus on personal encounters with flora and fauna of the region The energizing accounts in Teaching and Learning question our assumptions about education and scholarship by proposing invigorating collaborations between teachers and students in ways determined by the land itself not by the abstractions of pedagogy With the freshness of Thoreau's irreverence the authors in Rethinking Place look at key figures in the forest's literary and cultural development to help us think about the affiliations between place and citizenship In Nature as Commodity three essayists consider the ways that writers from the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries thought about nature as a product and thus how their conclusions bear on the contemporary retailing of place The writers in Nature and Culture in the Northern Forest reveal the rich affinities between a specific place and the literature thought and other cultural expressions it has nurtured Their insightful and stimulating connections exemplify adventurous bioregional thinking that encompasses both natural and cultural realities while staying rooted in the particular landscape of some of the Northeast's wildest forests and oldest settlements
