Religion and Film S. Brent Plate,2017-09-05 Religion and cinema share a capacity for world making ritualizing mythologizing and creating sacred time and space Through cinematography mise en sc ne editing and other production activities film takes the world out there and refashions it Religion achieves similar ends by setting apart particular objects and periods of time telling stories and gathering people together for communal actions and concentrated focus The result of both cinema and religious practice is a re created world a world of fantasy a world of ideology a world we long to live in or a world we wish to avoid at all costs Religion and Film introduces readers to both religious studies and film studies by focusing on the formal similarities between cinema and religious practices and on the ways they each re create the world Explorations of film show how the cinematic experience relies on similar aesthetic devices on which religious rituals have long relied sight sound the taste of food the body and communal experience Meanwhile a deeper understanding of the aesthetic nature of religious rituals can alter our understanding of film production Utilizing terminology and theoretical insights from the study of religion as well as the study of film Religion and Film shows that by paying attention to the ways films are constructed we can shed new light on the ways religious myths and rituals are constructed and vice versa This thoroughly revised and expanded new edition is designed to appeal to the needs of courses in religion as well as film departments In addition to two new chapters this edition has been restructured into three distinct sections that offer students and instructors theories and methods for thinking about cinema in ways that more fully connect film studies with religious studies

Catalog of Copyright Entries. Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office,1971 Coming of Age in Jim Crow DC Paula C. Austin,2019-12-10 The fullest account to date of African American young people in a segregated city Coming of Age in Jim Crow DC offers a complex narrative of the everyday lives of black young people in a racially spatially economically and politically restricted Washington DC during the 1930s In contrast to the ways in which young people have been portrayed by researchers policy makers law enforcement and the media Paula C Austin draws on previously unstudied archival material to present black poor and working class young people as thinkers theorists critics and commentators as they reckon with the boundaries imposed on them in a Jim Crow city that was also the American emblem of equality The narratives at the center of this book provide a different understanding of black urban life in the early twentieth century showing that ordinary people were expert at navigating around the limitations imposed by the District of Columbia s racially segregated politics Coming of Age in Jim Crow DC is a fresh take on the New Negro movement and a vital contribution to the history of race in America Schooling the Movement Derrick P.

Aldridge,Jon N. Hale,Tondra L. Loder-Jackson,2023-04-20 A fresh examination of teacher activism during the civil rights movement Southern Black educators were central contributors and activists in the civil rights movement They contributed to the movement through their classrooms schools universities and communities Drawing on oral history interviews and archival research Schooling the Movement examines the pedagogical activism and vital contributions of Black teachers throughout the Black freedom struggle By illuminating teachers activism during the long civil rights movement the editors and contributors connect the past with the present contextualizing teachers longstanding role as advocates for social justice Schooling the Movement moves beyond the prevailing understanding that activism was defined solely by litigation and direct action forms of protest The contributors broaden our conceptions of what it meant to actively take part in or contribute to the civil rights movement

A Lot to Tackle Belle Payton,2015-09-15 The Tigers have made it to the state championship in the ninth book of the It Takes Two series Alex has just gotten the worst grade of her life in French one of her best subjects As she studies like crazy to make up for the terrible grade she ends up missing an important student council meeting leaving her more frustrated than ever Alex begins to wonder why she should even care about her grades and extra curricular activities if she isn t doing well Meanwhile Ava s football team lost their last playoff game leaving them out of the finals Even though she didn't play particularly well Ava knows she wasn't the only one so she doesn't understand why some of the boys on the team are blaming her Her teammates are also saying that if the Tigers don't win the state championship her father will be out of a job and he isn't denying it Ava is horrified by the idea of leaving Ashland behind for good but Alex doesn't seem to care With so much going on at once can Ava get her twin to snap out of it so they can rally around their family and cheer the Tigers on to victory
