The Politics of Ethnolinguistic Mobilization in Europe Alistair Cole, Jean-Baptiste Harguindeguy, 2017-07-05 Language constitutes a very sensitive nexus between the concepts of territory and community Though a fundamental issue in contemporary societies it remains relatively unaddressed by political scientists This book promotes a better understanding of the connection between the concepts of identity territory and language in the context of an enlarged Europe We propose a portrait of the actual place of regional languages in European politics Ethno linguistic mobilisations have occurred in very different contexts and their interpretation needs to take into account varying configurations and conditions of success that we label as situational institutional and socio political The book combines empirical case studies drawn from Spain the UK Poland France Ireland and Canada with comparative conceptual and theoretical insights into linguistic uniformity and diversity The various chapters in the book go beyond description The originality of the work is to bridge the institutionalisation of language regimes the sociological analysis of languages rights movements and the normative underpinnings that ought to underpin language claims This book was published as a special issue of Regional and Federal Studies
