Linguistic Variation Confronting Fact And Theory:

Linguistic Variation Rena Torres Cacoulllos, Nathalie Dion, André Lapierre, 2014-10-24 Linguistic Variation Confronting Fact and Theory honors Shana Poplack in bringing together contributions from leading scholars in language variation and change. The book demonstrates how variationist methodology can be applied to the study of linguistic structures and processes. It introduces readers to variation theory while also providing an overview of current debates on the linguistic cognitive and sociocultural factors involved in linguistic patterning. With its coverage of a diverse range of language varieties and linguistic problems, this book offers new quantitative analyses of actual language production and processing from both top experts and emerging scholars and presents students and practitioners with theoretical frameworks to meaningfully engage in accountable research practice.

Locative and existential predication Chris Lasse Däbritz, Josefina Budzisch, Rodolfo Basile, 2025-09-29 Locative and existential predications are fundamental linguistic constructions that exhibit significant formal overlap while serving distinct communicative functions. Locative clauses typically anchor a definite referent to a spatial context, whereas existential clauses introduce new, often indefinite referents into discourse. Despite their central role in syntactic and typological research, the cross-linguistic diversity of these predications remains largely underexplored. This collective volume originates from workshops held in 2023 at the Annual SLE Meeting in Athens and the International Conference on Historical Linguistics in Heidelberg. It brings together in-depth analyses of locative and existential predications across a wide range of languages, drawing on diverse methodological and theoretical approaches. Rather than imposing a single framework, the volume deliberately allows for variation in how these constructions are defined and analyzed, reflecting the complexity and diversity of linguistic structures. A key theme of the book is the relationship between locative, existential, and possessive predication. Many of the included studies highlight the formal and functional connections between these domains, illustrating how different languages encode possession through structures that overlap with locative and existential constructions. The volume also challenges conventional assumptions about structural distinctions between these predications, showing that in many languages, such boundaries are blurred or even nonexistent. The introductory chapter reviews key findings from prior research and offers a refined typology of locative and existential predications It also highlights the major insights from the remaining chapters each of which provides a detailed empirical analysis of these constructions in one or several underdescribed languages The contributions address i the structural and functional properties of locative and existential clauses ii criteria for distinguishing these constructions in languages where formal differentiation is minimal iii their frequency and usage in natural discourse and iv grammaticalization pathways that link locative existential and possessive predication By integrating data from a broad range of languages and perspectives this volume advances our understanding of locative and existential predication and offers a foundation for future research in typology syntax and historical linguistics

Forms and Functions of Meta-Discourse Maria Cristina Lo Baido, 2024-07-01
This book constitutes the first systematic analysis of meta discourse in the spoken domain addressing the question of how why and when speakers switch from discourse to meta discourse by means of comment clauses e.g I think The case of Present day Italian is considered exploring the internal properties of comment

clauses e.g. morphosyntax and semantics of the verb their relations with the surrounding discourse e.g. position of comment clause and their prosodic profiles This study shows that speakers recur to meta discourse to convey a non random set of functions having mainly to do with the online process of reference construction e.g. approximation and reformulation and with the degree of speaker's commitment e.g. epistemicity and emphasis Comment clauses are also used as attention getting or topic resuming devices though less frequently One of the most interesting results of this study is the identification of a close relation between meta discourse and stance taking in spoken domain with speakers recurring to comment clauses to convey their attitude Finally meta discourse turns out to be highly influenced if not constrained by universal properties of the spoken domain i.e. non linearity

The Rise of Discourse Markers Bernd Heine, Gunther Kaltenböck, Tania Kuteva, Haiping Long, 2021-06-24 Discourse markers constitute an important part of linguistic communication and research on this phenomenon has been a thriving field of study over the past three decades However a problem that has plagued this research is that these markers exhibit a number of structural characteristics that are hard to interpret based on existing methodologies such as grammaticalization This study argues that it is possible to explain such characteristics in a meaningful way It presents a cross linguistic survey of the development of discourse markers their important role in communication and their relation to the wider context of sociocultural behaviour with the goal of explaining their similarities and differences across a typologically wide range of languages By giving a clear definition of discourse markers it aims to provide a guide for future research making it essential reading for students and researchers in linguistics and anyone interested in exploring this fascinating linguistic phenomenon
