communication and translation World Englishes in the Arab Gulf States Kay Gallagher, 2025-04-29 Kay Gallagher gathers insightful research from across the lower Arabian Gulf to uncover the richness and diversity of World Englishes within the contemporary Arab Gulf states. Her volume presents novel research from this emerging nexus of rapid economic, social, and linguistic development. The countries of the lower Arabian Gulf—Bahrain, Kuwait, Oman, Qatar, Saudi Arabia, and the United Arab Emirates—have to varying degrees harnessed English as an internal working language and as a means to communicate globally. Gulf countries that have not featured much in the WE literature to date are highlighted in this volume, including Bahrain and Kuwait, and the use of English in the emerging colossus of Saudi Arabia is examined. Novel insights from more prominent locations are presented here for the first time, including the use of English to counter negative Islamic stereotypes during the FIFA World Cup 2022 in Qatar and its role in ensuring safety in a multilingual, high-risk industry in the UAE. New research into the challenges encountered in English-medium higher education in Oman and Kuwait is reported also. The linguistic features of Gulf English are explored, and the interplay and tensions between Arabic and English and other languages are addressed. The Englishes of expatriate populations in the Gulf are examined, including the English identity of majority and minority resident transnational groups. The issue of whether a distinctive variety of Gulf English has emerged in this multilingual melting pot, characterized by transience and flux, is debatable, and the establishment of Gulf English as an endonormative new variety remains elusive. This book will appeal to those with an interest in World Englishes in general, as well as those who are interested in the roles and varieties of English in use in this globally unique and rapidly evolving context. The six states of the Lower Gulf—Bahrain, Kuwait, Oman, Qatar, Saudi Arabia, and the United Arab Emirates (UAE)—form an economic and political alliance known as the Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC). The region's oil-rich economies have attracted millions of migrant workers, both blue-collar and white-collar, from East and West. Transnational workers have brought linguistic diversity along with multiple varieties of English to this traditionally Arabic-speaking region, amplifying an increased internal demand for English such that English is shifting in the Gulf from a foreign language to a lingua franca.

Living Language Laura M. Ahearn, 2016-12-19 Revised and updated the 2nd Edition of Living Language: An Introduction to Linguistic Anthropology presents an accessible introduction to the study of language in real-life social contexts around the world through the contemporary theory and practice of linguistic anthropology. Presents a highly accessible introduction to the study of language in real-life social contexts around the world. Combines classic studies on language and cutting-edge contemporary scholarship and assumes no prior knowledge in linguistics or anthropology. Features a series of updates and revisions for this new edition, including an all-new chapter on forms of nonverbal language. Provides a unifying synthesis of current research and considers future directions for the field. Linguistic Landscapes and Educational Spaces Edina Krompák, Víctor Fernández-Mallat, Stephan Meyer, 2021-12-20 How do written and other signs shape our educational spaces and practices, and how in turn are these written and other signs shaped by the educational spaces and practices they inhabit?

Building on enquiries into the linguistic landscapes of public spaces this volume addresses these questions and thereby further advances the educational turn in linguistic and semiotic landscapes studies Prompted by social changes associated with migration and superdiversity as well as imperatives to promote pluri and multilingualism the studies collected here speak to the interest of researchers and practitioners in educational linguistics and educational sciences They confirm the value of combining empirical analyses of linguistic and semiotic educationscapes with action research on mobilising linguistic landscapes as pedagogical resources to promote multilingual equality Translanguaging as Transformation Emilee

Moore, Jessica Bradley, James Simpson, 2020-05-12 This book examines translanguaging as a resource which can disrupt the privileging of particular voices and a social practice which enables collaboration within and across groups of people Addressing the themes of collaboration and transformation the chapters critically examine how people work together to catalyse change in diverse global contexts experiences and traditions The authors suggest an epistemological and methodological turn to the study of translanguaging which is particularly reflected in the collaborative arts based and action research activist approaches followed in the chapters The book will be of particular interest to scholars using ethnographic critical and collaborative action and activist research approaches to the study of multilingualism in educational and creative arts contexts Heritage Daniela Turcanu-Carutiu, 2022-09-07 This Edited Volume Heritage New Paradigm is a collection of reviewed and relevant research chapters offering a comprehensive overview of recent developments in the field of social sciences and humanities The book comprises single chapters authored by various researchers and edited by an expert active in the social sciences and humanities research area All chapters are complete in themselves but united under a common research study topic This publication aims at providing a thorough overview of the latest research efforts by international authors on social sciences and humanities and opens new possible research paths for further novel developments

The Politics of Researching Multilingually Prue Holmes, Judith Reynolds, Sara Ganassin, 2022-02-21 This book offers a unique understanding of how researchers linguistic resources and the languages they use in the research process are often politically and structurally shaped and constrained with implications for the reliability of the research The chapters are written by both experienced and novice researchers who examine how they negotiated the use of their own and others linguistic and communicative resources when undertaking their research in politically charged and linguistically and culturally diverse contexts The contributing authors are either from the Global South or engaged in work which is contextualised within the Global South or they face linguistic structural hegemonies in the Global North which challenge their research processes They utilise diverse theoretical methodological and disciplinary approaches to produce a collection of engaging and accessible accounts of researching multilingually in their contexts These accounts will help readers to make theoretically and methodologically informed choices about the political dimensions of languages in their own research when researching multilingually Bourdieu, Language-based Ethnographies and Reflexivity Michael Grenfell, Kate

Pahl,2018-10-31 Offering a unique and original perspective on Bourdieu language based ethnographies and reflexivity this volume provides a nuanced in depth discussion of the complex relationship between these interconnected topics and their impact in real world contexts Part I opens the book with an overview of the historical background and development of language based ethnographic research and Bourdieu s work in this space Part II presents a series of case studies that highlight a Bourdieusian perspective and demonstrate how reflexivity impacts language based ethnography In each study Bourdieu s conceptual framework of reflexively informed objectivity examines the ways in which the studies themselves were constructed and understood Building on Parts I and II the concluding set of chapters in Part III unpacks the messiness of the theory and practice of language based ethnography and provides insights into what reflexivity means for Bourdieu and in practical contexts Arguing for a greater reflexive understanding in research practice this volume sets an agenda for future literacy and language research Anthropological Linguistics Andrea Hollington,Alice Mitchell,Nico

Nassenstein,2024-02-15 This collection presents new research on key topics in anthropological linguistics with a focus on African languages While Africanist linguists have long been concerned with sociocultural aspects of language structure and use no comprehensive volume dedicated to the anthropological linguistics of Africa has yet been published This volume seeks to fill this gap The chapters address a broad range of topics in anthropological linguistics including classic themes such as spatial reference color kin terms and emotion as well as emerging interests in the linguistic expression of personhood sociality and language ideology All contributions are based on original empirical research and present insights into African language practices from a sociocultural perspective The volume showcases research on dozens of African languages spoken across the continent with particular emphasis on languages of East Africa This book will be of interest to areal specialists as well as to anthropological linguists worldwide Applied Linguistics and Language Education Research Methods: Fundamentals and Innovations Bui, Hung Phu,2024-05-06
