The Palgrave Handbook of Educational Leadership and Management Discourse Fenwick W. English, 2022-10-13 This Handbook explores the discourse within the field of educational leadership and management It provides a clear analysis of the current field as well as older foundational ideas and newer concepts which are beginning to permeate the discussion The field of educational leadership and management has long acknowledged that educational contexts include a variety of leaders beyond school principals and other school officials such as informal and middle level leaders By looking at the knowledge dynamic rather than a static knowledge base this Handbook allows research to be presented in its multidimensional evolving reality

Mindfulness for Educational Leadership in the 21st Century Elizabeth Nakayiza RSCJ (Ph.D.), 2016-04-27 This book proposes a method for making educational systems and their curriculum leaderships in Sub Saharan Africa particularly Ugandarelevant functional and generative in the current unfolding of a fast paced technology driven future that prompts questions about educational leadership in a society where many traditional educational systems are failing The book poses the following question What might constitute effective leadership in our heightened global nexus of realities often described as globalization Nonhuman technologies are moving people away from connections that once strengthened human relationships and fostered collective actions Too many workplace pressures and demands cause educational leaders to function on autopilot without involving others in the process of mindful leadership of educational reform Focusing on mindfulness its application in different educational settings and its advantages for educational leadership this book argues that contemporary meditation practices and their benefits can inform effective successful twenty first century leadership practices in Africa particularly Uganda It draws on numerous theories from literature in the fields of business and management medicine psychology theology and the social and behavioral sciences The selected theories represent the growing research grounded in contemporary thoughts on leadership epistemology with inclination toward the mindfulness that grows out of regular practice of meditation The book concludes with the argument that collective mindful educational leadership emerges when all stakeholders are able to participate in the leadership of their institution or school and contribute to the entire systems development If practiced regularly mindfulness would conduce to healthier collaborative behavior that would markedly improve Ugandan and other African educational systems This kind of mindful leadership requires each stakeholder to lead from inside the self and interconnection with others in a profound way This means leading by listening attentively and intently and embracing one another's voice nonjudgmentally for the common good

Intersectional Identities and Educational Leadership of Black Women in the USA Sonya Douglass Horsford, Linda C. Tillman, 2016-04-08 This volume examines the educational leadership of Black women in the U S as informed by their raced and gendered positionalities experiences perspectives and most importantly the intersection of these doubly marginalized identities in school and community contexts While there are bodies of research literature on women in educational leadership as well as the leadership development philosophies and approaches of Black or African American educational leaders this issue interrogates the ways in which the Black woman's socially constructed intersectional identity informs her leadership values approach and impact As an act of self invention the volume simultaneously showcases the research and voices of Black women scholars perspectives traditionally silenced in the leadership discourse generally and educational leadership discourse specifically Whether the empirical or conceptual focus is a Black female school principal African American female superintendent Black feminist of the early twentieth century or Black woman education researcher the framing and analysis of each article interrogates how the unique location of the Black woman at the intersection of race and gender shapes and influences their lived personal and or professional experiences as educational leaders This collection will be of interest to education leadership researchers faculty and students practicing school and district administrators and readers interested in education leadership studies leadership theory Black feminist thought intersectionality and African American leadership This book was originally published as a special issue of the International Journal of Qualitative Studies in Education Higher Education Leadership Rozana Carducci, Jordan Harper, Adrianna Kezar, 2024-02-06 Sharing the new and evolving approaches to higher education leadership that foster liberatory systemic change Higher Education Leadership offers a groundbreaking exploration of leadership in higher education Rozana Carducci Jordan Harper and Adrianna Kezar challenge traditional paradigms and ideologies that hinder progress advocating instead for liberatory systemic change The authors highlight new and evolving interdisciplinary leadership approaches for resisting and dismantling oppressive systems including neoliberalism and white supremacy within and beyond higher education organizations This comprehensive textbook synthesizes decades of leadership scholarship and dissects the limitations of hierarchical and individual centered models prevalent in higher education Through critical analysis the authors unveil process centered shared power and equity oriented approaches that prioritize liberation By translating classic and revolutionary theories they empower current and aspiring higher education leaders to reimagine their roles to create more meaningful impact The authors bring theory to life by exploring the specific context of higher education and providing practical applications Their survey also identifies gaps in knowledge and methodologies and provides ideas for future leadership research They invite readers to view leadership as both a problem to be interrogated and dismantled as well as a pathway to a more liberatory future By recognizing these dual possibilities of leadership the authors open the door to powerful insights while also offering a cautionary tale With enriching case studies vignettes and discussion questions Higher Education Leadership serves as an essential resource for graduate classrooms and professionals seeking to critique existing leadership practices and forge new pathways that foster equity and systemic transformation This thought provoking textbook offers a new vision for higher education scholars and leaders committed to fostering inclusive anti racist and equitable universities
