Janet Beizer, 2011-03-15 If questions of subjectivity and identification are at stake in all biographical writing they are particularly trenchant for contemporary women biographers of women Often their efforts to exhume buried lives in hope of finding spiritual foremothers awaken maternal phantoms that must be embraced or confronted Do women writing in fact have any greater access to their own mothers lives than to the lives of other women whose stories have been swept away like dust in the debris of the past In Thinking through the Mothers Janet Beizer surveys modern women's biographies and contemplates alternatives to an approach based in lineage and the form of thought that emphasizes the line the path hierarchy unity resemblance reflection and the aesthetic mimesis that depends on these ideas Through close readings of memoirs and fictions about mothers Beizer explores how biographers of the women who came before rehearse and rewrite relationships to their own mothers biographically as they seek to appropriate the past in a hybrid genre she calls bio autography Thinking through the Mothers features the work of George Sand and Colette and spans such varied figures as Gustave Flaubert Julian Barnes Louise Colet Eunice Lipton Vladimir Nabokov Huguette Bouchardeau and Christa Wolf Beizer seeks an alternative to women's salvation biography or resurrection biography that might resist nostalgia be attentive to silence and reinvent the means to represent the lives of precursors without appropriating traditional models of genealogy

Love Troubles Federica Gregoratto, 2025-01-21 What does it mean to love Does love complete us giving us purpose and meaning Or does it tie us down and even harm us Is erotic desire complicit in oppression or could it deliver liberation Are our desires extricable from the wrongs of our societies And in today's world is love still worth the trouble This book develops a critical theory of sexual love and friendship offering profound new ways to understand the troublesome nature of eros Federica Gregoratto explores the ambivalence of erotic love which is at once intimately interwoven with heterosexism racism and neoliberal capitalism yet entices us with the tantalizing possibility of transformation Drawing on a rich array of sources from Frankfurt School critical theory to feminist thought and contemporary philosophies of emotions and affects as well as poetry novels films and music she argues that love provides unexpected resources for political agency resistance and emancipation Gregoratto makes a passionate defense of erotic freedom as an adventurous process through which we understand together with others who we are and who we want to become both in our individual existences and in our social lives Wide ranging and daring Love Troubles invites us to reflect on our fraught amorous experiences showing why we should cherish and learn from them

Braving the Erotic Field in the Psychoanalytic Treatment of Children and Adolescents Mary Brady, 2022-03-17 Braving the Erotic Field in the Psychoanalytic Treatment of Adolescents and Children is a groundbreaking collection of chapters by an international group of analytic authors The book addresses the general lack of psychoanalytic writing on working with erotic feelings in the consulting room when treating children and adolescents This lack is doubly odd given Freud's emphasis on childhood sexuality as well as the intensities of the adolescent body mind This book takes the view that the subtle interchange of feelings dreams narratives and images that arise when erotic feelings are in the fore is better conceptualized as an erotic field than with the binary of transference countertransference In contemporary psychoanalysis the idea that transference love offers the possibility of knowing the other in the deepest possible way is supplanting an attitude of suspicion Clinical work with small children to late adolescents will be offered including gay and gender fluid adolescents This book makes a decisive contribution to assist clinicians to brave the erotic field with children and adolescents

Critique on the Couch Amy Allen, 2020-12-01 Does critical theory still need psychoanalysis In Critique on the Couch Amy Allen offers a cogent and convincing defense of its ongoing relevance Countering the overly rationalist and progressivist interpretations of psychoanalysis put forward by contemporary critical theorists such as Jürgen Habermas and Axel Honneth Allen argues that the work of Melanie Klein offers an underutilized resource She draws on Freud Klein and Lacan to develop a more realistic strand of psychoanalytic thinking that centers on notions of loss negativity ambivalence and mourning Far from leading to despair such an understanding of human subjectivity functions as a foundation of creativity productive self transformation and progressive social change At a time when critical theorists are increasingly returning to psychoanalytic thought to diagnose the dysfunctions of our politics this book opens up new ways of understanding the political implications of psychoanalysis while preserving the progressive emancipatory aims of critique Mothering and Psychoanalysis:

Clinical, Sociological and Feminist Perspectives Petra Bueskens,2014-07-01 Kohut, Loewald and the Postmoderns Judith G. Teicholz,2015-12-22 In Kohut Loewald and the Postmoderns Judith Teicholz using the contemporary critique of Kohut and Loewald as a touchstone of inquiry into the current status of psychoanalysis focuses on a select group of postmodern theorists whose recent writings comprise a questioning subtext to Kohut s and Loewald s ideas Acutely aware of the important differences among these theorists Teicholz nonetheless believes that their respective contributions which present psychoanalysis as an interactive process in which the analyst s own subjectivity plays a constitutive role in the joint construction of meanings achieve shared significance as a postmodern critique of Kohut and Loewald She is especially concerned with the relationship both theoretically and technically between Kohut s emphasis on the analyst s empathic resonance with the analysand s viewpoint and affect and the postmodern theorists shared insistence on the expression of the analyst s own subjectivity in the treatment situation Her analysis incorporates fine insight into the tensions and ambiguities in Kohut and Loewald whose work ultimately emerges as a way station between modern and postmodern viewpoints and her appreciation of Kohut and Loewald as transitional theorists makes for an admirably even handed exposition She emphasizes throughout the various ways in which Kohut and Loewald gave nascent expression to postmodern attitudes but she is no less appreciative of the originality of postmodern theorists who address genuine lacunae in the thought and writings of these exemplars of an earlier generation Teicholz s examination of what she terms two overlapping partial revolutions in psychoanalysis that of Kohut and Loewald on one hand and of the postmoderns on the other throws an illuminating searchlight on the path psychoanalysis has traveled over the last quarter of the 20th century Trauma-Informed Pedagogy

Death and Mastery Benjamin Y. Fong, 2016-11-08 The first philosophers of the Frankfurt School famously turned to the psychoanalytic theories of Sigmund Freud to supplement their Marxist analyses of ideological subjectification Since the collapse of their proposed marriage of Marx and Freud psychology and social theory have grown apart to the impoverishment of both Returning to this union Benjamin Y Fong reconstructs the psychoanalytic foundation stone of critical theory in an effort to once again think together the possibility of psychic and social transformation Drawing on the work of Hans Loewald and Jacques Lacan Fong complicates the famous antagonism between Eros and the death drive in reference to a third term the woefully undertheorized drive to mastery Rejuvenating Freudian metapsychology through the lens of this pivotal concept he then provides fresh perspective on Theodor Adorno Max Horkheimer and Herbert Marcuse's critiques of psychic life under the influence of modern cultural and technological change The result is a novel vision of critical theory that rearticulates the nature of subjection in late capitalism and renews an old project of resistance
