M. Curtis,2011-09-09 This book is meant to offer Architects Property Managers Facility Managers Building Engineers Information Technology Professionals Data Center Personnel Electrical Mechanical Technicians and students in undergraduate graduate or continuing education programs relevant insight into the Mission Critical Environment with an emphasis on business resiliency data center efficiency and green power technology Industry improvements standards and techniques have been incorporated into the text and address the latest issues prevalent in the Mission Critical Industry An emphasis on green technologies and certifications is presented throughout the book In addition a description of the United States energy infrastructure s dependency on oil in relation to energy security in the mission critical industry is discussed In conjunction with this either a new chapter will be created on updated policies and regulations specifically related to the mission critical industry or updates to policies and regulations will be woven into most chapters The topics addressed throughout this book include safety fire protection energy security and data center cooling along with other common challenges and issues facing industry engineers today Recoding America Jennifer Pahlka,2023-06-13 Named one of more about Jennifer Pahlka s work at recodingamerica us The book I wish every policymaker would read Ezra Klein The New York Times A bold call to reexamine how our government operates and sometimes fails to from President Obama s former deputy chief technology officer and the founder of Code for America Just when we most need our government to work to decarbonize our infrastructure and economy to help the vulnerable through a pandemic to defend ourselves against global threats it is faltering Government at all levels has limped into the digital age offering online services that can feel even more cumbersome than the paperwork that preceded them and widening the gap between the policy outcomes we intend and what we get But it s not more money or more tech we need Government is hamstrung by a rigid industrial era culture in which elites dictate policy from on high disconnected from and too often disdainful of the details of implementation Lofty goals morph unrecognizably as they cascade through a complex hierarchy But there is an approach taking hold that keeps pace with today's world and reclaims government for the people it is supposed to serve Jennifer Pahlka shows why we must stop trying to move the government we have today onto new technology and instead consider what it would mean to truly recode American government DOD Pam United States. Office of Armed Forces Information and Education, Ideas in Conflict United States. Directorate for Armed Forces Information and Education, 1962 Recognizing Public Value Mark H. Moore, 2013-02-15 Moore's classic Creating Public Value offered advice to managers about how to create public value but left unresolved the question how one could recognize when public value had been created Here he closes the gap by helping public managers name observe and count the value they produce and sustain or increase public value into the future
