Situated Fathering William Marsiglio, Kevin Roy, Greer Litton Fox, 2005-07-28 Situated Fathering proposes a new theoretical framework for studying how various contingencies of physical space in conjunction with social symbolic issues affect men's identities as fathers and their involvement with children. Written largely for family scholars and students by an interdisciplinary team of leading scholars, this distinct volume of original research explores fathers in a wide range of physical and social spaces. Contributors outline directions for theoretically guided research in specific often gendered fathering sites.

Stepdads William Marsiglio, 2004 In Stepdads: Stories of Love, Hope, and Repair William Marsiglio addresses provocative and timely questions facing stepfathers, single mothers, and remarried couples today. This book speaks to those who study and work with stepfamilies as well as persons who have ever thought about or lived in a stepfamily.

Calling Home Janet Zandy, 1990 Working class women are the majority of women in the United States and yet their work and their culture are rarely visible. Calling Home is an anthology of writings by and about working class women. Over fifty selections represent the ethnic, racial, and geographic diversity of working class experience. This is writing grounded in social history, not in the academy. Traditional boundaries of genre and periodization collapse in this collection, which includes reportage, oral histories, speeches, songs, and letters as well as poetry, stories, and essays. The divisions in this collection, telling stories bearing witness, celebrating solidarity, address the distinction of by or about working class women and show the connections between individual identity and collective sensibility in a common history of struggle for economic justice. The geography of home, identity, parents, sex, motherhood, the dominance of the job, the overlapping of private and public worlds, the promise of solidarity and community are a few of the themes of this book. Here is a chorus of working class women's voices: Sandra Cisneros, Barbara Garson, Meridel Le Sueur, Tillie Olsen, Barbara Smith, Endesha I. M. Holland, Mother Jones, Nellie Wong, Agnes Smedley, Bobbie Louise Hawkins, Sharon Doubiago, Carol Tarlen, Hazel Hall, Margaret Randall, Judy Grahn, and many others. The aesthetic impulse is shaped by class but not limited to one ruling class. What connects these writers is a collective consciousness, a class which rejects bondage and lays claim to liberation through all the possibilities of language. Calling Home is illustrated with family photographs as well as images of working women by professional photographers.

Place and Phenomenology Janet Donohoe, 2017-03-17 This cross-disciplinary book uses phenomenological method and description to explore questions of place, underscoring the significance of phenomenology for place and place for phenomenology. The book brings together prominent scholars in phenomenology of place. Covering a range of issues from sacred places to embodiment and identity and from environmental art and architecture to limit places, the contributors explore theoretical foundations through thinkers such as Heidegger, Marion, Young, Husserl, and Leopold, among others. Phenomenological method and description are brought to bear on concrete places such as rivers, the Himalayas, modern transit, sacred architecture, and more. The book is accessible and pertinent to ongoing discussions in human geography.
