different methods and in their combination can provide an answer to the research question the consumers of literature the readers literature itself the selected genre is the novel and the media theories of the 20th century which have already dealt with media change

The Software Arts Warren Sack,2019-04-09 An alternative history of software that places the liberal arts at the very center of software's evolution In The Software Arts Warren Sack offers an alternative history of computing that places the arts at the very center of software's evolution Tracing the origins of software to eighteenth century French encyclopedists step by step descriptions of how things were made in the workshops of artists and artisans Sack shows that programming languages are the offspring of an effort to describe the mechanical arts in the language of the liberal arts Sack offers a reading of the texts of computing code algorithms and technical papers that emphasizes continuity between prose and programs He translates concepts and categories from the liberal and mechanical arts including logic rhetoric grammar learning algorithm language and simulation into terms of computer science and then considers their further translation into

Technē Gerald Hiestand, Todd A. Wilson, 2022-11-18 Christians have an increasingly complex and often conflicted relationship with technology As Genesis 1 succinctly and profoundly declares God created humanity in his image and as part of that vocation we are called to make something of the world Technology is one of the most important and powerful ways that human beings exercise this dominion But while technology can extend our humanity in powerful and exciting ways many of us feel that it can compromise or fracture our humanity at its core As a result questions quickly emerge What does it mean to be human How does our creation in the image of God affect the way we use design and understand technology Should our general posture toward technology be cautious or optimistic This collection of scholarly and pastoral essays drawn from the 2019 annual theology conference of the Center for Pastor Theologians offers substantive Christian reflection on a wide range of issues pertinent to a distinctly Christian vision of technology today and in the future
