Terrorism Thomas. M. Pick, Anne Speckhard, Beatrice Jacuch, 2009 This book is part of the NATO Science for Peace and Security Series E Human and Societal Dynamics and is based upon the presentations of a NATO Research Workshop by the same title There are many recent examples of terrorist acts committed by radicalised Europeans with an immigrant heritage in 2004 the Dutch filmmaker Theo Van Gogh was assassinated by a Dutch citizen from Morocco origins because he produced a movie portraying Islam in an unconventional manner The same year in the United Kingdom the police foiled a potential terrorist attack and arrested eight men all of whom were British citizens of Pakistani descent Why some individuals with a migrant background become radicalised Issues about marginalisation societal exclusion lack of integration feelings of isolation powerlessness and humiliation are all part of the problem No amount of military or other coercive action will in itself do the trick of countering terrorism effectively without remedial action based upon a thorough knowledge of the underlying processes involved This book is meant to be a small but significant step in that direction With this purpose it gathers the views of a wide range of multidisciplinary experts about how to prevent home grown terrorism and what strategies should be developed to hinder its development It includes recommendations on how to counteract processes that provide a fertile subsoil for terrorism to develop how to interfere in the recruitment of potential terrorists and specific research recommendations with a special focus on young Muslims in Europe This publication is of interest to all international relations and security and defence specialists with a special relevance to those involved in the study of terrorism as a global threat

Jørgensen, Giuseppe Bertola, Ayhan Kaya, Alex Vines, Simon Glendinning, Giancarlo Casale, Mensur Akgün, Ahmet Cemal Ertürk, Tefta Kelmendi, Ulrich Kühn, Johanna Ketola, Bradley Reynolds, Ville Sinkkonen, Mehmet Bardakçı, Stewart Fleming, Nuno Wahnou Martins, 2022-06-01 The publication of this issue on Future for Europe marks a new milestone for TPQ The journal was founded in 2002 and we celebrated its 20th anniversary with the last issue on Artificial Intelligence and Democratic Values Among many academics and AI policy professionals it was considered a landmark publication Turkish Policy Quarterly TPQ now has a new identity as Transatlantic Policy Quarterly TPQ Our plans to move with this name have been ongoing for a while The success of the last issue was a perfect illustration of the necessity of this change TPQ's editorial and curatorial policies have and will continue to reflect a global perspective without sacrificing its roots This means we will extend our coverage beyond what we currently offer In the wake of the Russian incursion into the Ukraine European soil has seen a return of tragedy As memories of the Second World War on the continent have receded it has been argued that the European project has lost appeal over the past few decades This is no longer the case The war has also exposed the EU's deficiencies and highlighted the fact that it must be reformed to fulfill the needs of the twenty first century The Covid 19 pandemic is also one of the most significant events in our lifetime and it has radically altered the way Europeans perceive their own societies and the world in general Nonetheless one of the most important lessons we can learn from these tragic events is that we must show a strong constant and united capability to deter and confront acts of violence Professor Thomas Diez writes that the war in Ukraine fundamentally challenges the post Cold War international order In that regard he believes that alternative visions of a European order should be developed to counter the scenario of a renewed Cold War The author reassesses the concepts of interdependence socialization normative power and international society in his contribution to uncover some general lessons for the European order as well as provide concrete suggestions for alternative policy strategies As he points out such an order would require more honest engagement a system of great power

management with social links and a creative approach to thinking about joint institutions and regional overlaps Professor Knud Erik Jørgensen starts with a timely question Europe's hour of reckoning In his view the hour of reckoning refers to when one must confront past mistakes and determine a course of action He says Russia's war in Ukraine exposes numerous mistakes Europe made in the past and accelerates the development of a new foreign policy paradigm As a result he examines the role played by the emerging policy paradigm in shaping the politics of EU foreign policy Furthermore the article argues that the emerging paradigm is closely linked if not dependent on the ongoing processes of reckoning that is to the extent with which past mistakes are acknowledged Lastly the article makes a case that the twin processes of reckoning and paradigm change make up a crucial element of Europe's future Professor Giuseppe Bertola explores a different perspective According to her the common market project that after World War II aimed to prevent future wars among European nations has evolved through crises into a complex and unstable set of policies and institutions to govern the European Union A pandemic caused by the COVID 19 virus and the war in Ukraine strengthened coordination and added issuance of common debt to the supranational policy toolkit Nevertheless NextGenEU relies heavily on government subsidies rather than on market incentives and Russian invasion of the Ukraine demonstrates that economic integration can only shift the boundaries of war from nation based to those of the integrated economic area We invite you to learn more about the factors that will shape the future of Europe

UK MI5 Security Service Handbook: Volume 1 Strategic Information, Activities and Regulations IBP, Inc, 2009-03-30 UK MI5 Security Service Handbook Roots of violent radicalisation Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Home Affairs Committee, 2012-02-06 In this report the Home Affairs Committee concludes that the internet is one of the most significant vehicles for promoting violent radicalism more so than prisons universities or places of worship although direct personal contact with radicals is in many cases also a significant factor Although there are statutory powers under the Terrorism Act 2006 for law enforcement agencies to order unlawful material to be removed from the internet the Committee recommends that internet service providers themselves should be more active in monitoring the material they host with appropriate guidance advice and support from the Government The Government should work with internet providers to develop a code of practice for the removal of material which promotes violent extremism There should be more support for civil society groups who want to challenge on line extremist material In addition the Committee highlights the need for better liaison and information sharing between prison authorities the police the UK Border Agency and other relevant authorities following the release of prisoners who have been convicted of terrorist offences or who are otherwise considered to be at risk of violent radicalisation the importance of reviewing the list of proscribed organisations the prospect of de proscription could create an incentive for organisations to renounce their support for violence the threat from the far right so far not an organised threat The current name of the counter radicalisation strategy Prevent should be changed to Engage to reflect a more supportive partnership based approach to working with those at risk of radicalisation

Homegrown Piotr M. Szpunar,2018-04-10 An insightful study of how identity is mobilized in and for war in the face of homegrown terrorism You are either with us or against us is the refrain that captures the spirit of the global war on terror Images of the them implied in this war cry distinct foreign others inundate Americans on hit television shows Hollywood blockbusters and nightly news However in this book Piotr Szpunar tells the story of a fuzzier image the homegrown terrorist a foe that blends into the crowd who Americans are told looks talks and acts like us Homegrown delves into the dynamics of domestic counterterrorism revealing the complications that arise when the terrorist threat involves Americans both residents and citizens who have taken up arms against their own country Szpunar examines the ways in which identities are blurred in the war on terror amid debates concerning who is the real terrorist He considers cases ranging from the white supremacist Sikh Temple shooter to the Newburgh Four ex convicts caught up in an FBI informant led plot to bomb synagogues to ecoterrorists to the Tsarnaev brothers responsible for the Boston Marathon bombing Drawing on popular media coverage court documents as well as terrorist produced media Szpunar poses new questions about the strategic deployment of identity in times of conflict The book argues that homegrown terrorism challenges our long held understandings of how identity and difference play out in war beyond us versus them and more importantly that the way in which it is conceptualized and combatted has real consequences for social cultural and political notions of citizenship and belonging The first critical examination of homegrown terrorism this book will make you question how we make sense of the actions of ourselves and others in global war and the figures that fall in between
