The Roots of Low Achievement Sandra Stotsky, 2019-07-02 The chief purpose of this book is to explain how public education in this country became dysfunctional as a result of the education policies and programs funded by the federal government to address low academic achievement It highlights student effort as a central factor in academic achievement based on research noting its significance Teachers and school administrators cannot make children ready for college or career by grade 12 if their parents do not make them ready for school learning by kindergarten or grade 1 Once both the schools and students parents together made students ready for membership in our civic culture They learned they were politically equal to each other with a shared civic identity regardless of academic achievement Yet policy makers at USED and philanthropists in this country with a professed interest in the education of low achievers want low achievers to believe that their academic status is all that matters and that they haven't succeeded academically because of bigoted teachers administrators and communities Parent school partnerships need to revive their community's agreed upon mission for public education if we are to alter the roots of low achievement in this country

Koehn, Piotr Szymczak, Einat Aharonov, 2017-02-07. Fluid flow in transforming porous rocks, fracture networks and granular media is a very active interdisciplinary research subject in Physics, Earth Sciences and Engineering. Examples of natural and engineered processes include hydrocarbon recovery, carbon dioxide geo-sequestration, soil drying and wetting, pollution remediation, soil liquefaction, landslides, dynamics of wet or dry granular media, dynamics of faulting or friction, volcanic eruptions gas venting in sediments karst development and speleogenesis ore deposit development and radioactive waste disposal Hydrodynamic flow instabilities and pore scale disorder typically result in complex flow patterning In transforming media additional mechanisms come into play compaction de compaction erosion segregation and fracturing lead to changes in permeability over time Dissolution precipitation and chemical reactions between solutes and solids may gradually alter the composition and structure of the solid matrix either creating or destroying permeable paths for fluid flow A complex dynamic feedback thus arises where on the one hand the fluid flow affects the characteristics of the porous medium and on the other hand the changing medium influences the fluid flow This Research Topic Ebook presents current research illustrating the depth and breadth of ongoing work in the field of flow and transformation in porous media through 15 papers by 72 authors from around the world The body of work highlights the challenges posed by the vast range of length and time scales over which subsurface flow processes occur Importantly phenomena from each scale contribute to the larger scale behavior The flow of oil and gas in reservoirs and the flow of groundwater on catchment scale is sensitively linked to pore scale processes and material heterogeneity down to the micrometer scale The geological features of the same reservoirs and catchments evolved over millions of years sometimes as a consequence of cracking and fracture growth occurring on the time scale of microseconds The research presented by the authors of this Research Topic represents a step toward bridging the separation of scales as well as the separation of scientific disciplines so that a more unified picture of flow and transformation in porous media can start to emerge
