especialmente en lo que concierne a la ortografía y la ortotipografía a caballos de batalla de cuantos nos movemos en los medios universitarios editoriales y profesionales en los que el lenguaje escrito adquiere importancia decisiva. En más de una ocasión se observa una postura crítica del autor con las decisiones académicas relacionadas con estas materias. No es una postura de oposición sistemática e injustificada. Persigue un objetivo que probablemente algún día se pueda ver cumplido que los académicos desempeñen plenamente la función para la que según entendemos fueron elegidos. En la obra se puede advertir una clara insistencia en la necesidad de que la Academia se ponga por fin de acuerdo consigo misma y resuelva de forma coherente los problemas del lenguaje en general y especialmente de la ortografía y la ortotipografía. Hasta ahora cuando un problema parece resuelto los académicos se encargan de sacarnos de nuestra creencia mediante la publicación de normas que van contra su mismo sistema. Los editores, escritores, traductores, periodistas, profesores, científicos, publicitarios, correctores de estilo y tipográficos etc. etc. se sentirán satisfechos si la Academia por fin introdujera lógica y coherencia en su sistema. A ello tal vez puedan contribuir modestamente los trabajos reunidos en esta obra. José Martínez de Sousa es ortógrafo, ortotipógrafo, lexicógrafo, bibliólogo y técnico editorial.
