ethnography with NASA's robotic spacecraft teams to create a comparative account of two great space missions of the early 2000s Although these missions featured robotic explorers on the frontiers of the solar system bravely investigating new worlds their commands were issued from millions of miles away by a very human team By examining the two teams formal shows just how deeply entangled a team's local organizational context is with the knowledge they produce about other worlds Using extensive embedded experiences on two NASA spacecraft teams this is the first book to apply organizational studies of work to the laboratory environment in order to analyze the production of scientific knowledge itself Engaging and deeply researched Shaping Science demonstrates the significant influence that the social organization of a scientific team
