Miller, Michele Irwin, Kelli Nigh, 2014-07-01 Forward by Nel Noddings This book includes papers written by teachers and how they engage holistic education in their classrooms The papers come from a course taught by Jack Miller at the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education at the University of Toronto entitled The Holistic Curriculum This is a rich and diverse collection of papers showing how holistic education can be brought into public education despite the pressures of testing and other accountability measures Although most of the teachers teach in public schools there are also examples from teachers working in private and post secondary settings This book can inspire other teachers who are looking for ways to teach the whole person in a more connected manner There are very few texts in the field of holistic education that include the voices and practices of teachers particularly those working in public schools Many of the examples of holistic education in practice come from Waldorf Montessori Reggio Emilia and alternative schools A unique feature of this book is the many different voices of teachers describing their work in the classroom they talk about their successes the challenges and even a few failures Heart-Oriented Thinking Sonia Easley, 2010-07-29 Heart Oriented Thinking helps you enter a state of mind in which you can achieve your goals and realize your dreams This gentle and uplifting process aligns the physical and spiritual aspects of your being for a fulfilling life on Planet Earth Sonia takes you on a spiritual journey introducing you to her powerful guides Ruby Heart Woman Noble Nerve Man and Rolling Thunder Being With their expert direction you learn to Use the Golden Formula to manifest your desires Write and express affirmations declarations and prayers Create a Board of Directors to assist in obtaining your aspirations Appreciate the importance of gratitude and journaling Understand the I AM in modern day life Establish equanimity between thoughts and emotions Turn to Heart Oriented Thinking to reinvent how you think and feel You will then hold and embody a vital key to spiritual expansion Heart Thinking Rudolf Steiner, 2017-04-18 The concepts of thinking with the heart or emotional intelligence are often used today usually in contrast to intellectual thought When Rudolf Steiner used the phrase heart thinking however he meant it in a very specific sense Drawn primarily from his lectures the compiled texts in this anthology illuminate his perspective that heart thinking is intimately related to the spiritual faculty of Inspiration The heart he says can become a new organ of thinking through the practice of exercises that work towards the transformation of feeling shedding its personal and subjective character The exercise sequences presented here call for two fundamental gestures Firstly renunciation which extends from an extinguishing of images engendered in meditation through inner silence to a conscious suppression of sense perception The second gesture involves the development of new feelings towards natural phenomena as well as to the reports of spiritual scientific research By practising these methods we can attain a kind of thinking that is in harmony with the true nature and reality of what we seek to know Rudolf Steiner s texts are collected together by Martina Maria Sam who contributes a lucid introduction and notes

Philosopher of the Heart Clare Carlisle,2020-05-05 Philosopher of the Heart is the groundbreaking biography of renowned existentialist Søren Kierkegaard's life and creativity and a searching exploration of how to be a human being in the world Søren Kierkegaard is one of the most passionate and challenging of all modern philosophers and is often regarded as the founder of existentialism Over about a decade in the 1840s and 1850s writings poured from his pen pursuing the question of existence how to be a human being in the world while exploring the possibilities of Christianity and confronting the failures of its institutional manifestation around him Much of his creativity sprang from his relationship with the young woman whom he promised to marry then left to devote himself to writing a relationship which remained decisive for the rest of his life He deliberately lived in the swim of human life in Copenhagen but alone and died exhausted in 1855 at the age of 42 bequeathing his remarkable writings to his erstwhile fiancée Clara Carlisle's innovative and moving biography writes Kierkegaard's life as far as possible from his own perspective to convey what it was like actually being this Socrates of Christendom as he put it living life forwards yet only understanding it backwards

Polysemy, Diachrony, and the Circle of Cognition Michael Fortescue, 2021-01-25 Verbs of mental states or activity constitute a subject of considerable interest to both Cognitive Linguistics and Linguistic Typology They promise to open a window on the invisible workings of the mind while at the same time displaying a wide variety of historical sources across languages In this book Michael Fortescue presents an innovative approach to the semantics and diachronic source of cognitive verbs across a representative array of the world's languages The relationship among the cognitive verbs of individual languages is essentially one of metonymy and the book investigates in detail the specific metonymic relationships involved as revealed largely by the polysemous spread of word meanings The data is projected against a circular map of interrelated cognitive categories

The Chinese HEART in a Cognitive Perspective Ning Yu, 2009-02-26 This book is a cognitive semantic study of the Chinese conceptualization of the heart traditionally seen as the central faculty of cognition The Chinese word xin which primarily denotes the heart organ covers the meanings of both heart and mind as understood in English which upholds a heart head dichotomy In contrast to the Western dualist view Chinese takes on a more holistic view that sees the heart as the center of both emotions and thought The contrast characterizes two cultural traditions that have developed different conceptualizations of person self and agent of cognition The concept of heart lies at the core of Chinese thought and medicine and its importance to Chinese culture is extensively manifested in the Chinese language Diachronically this book traces the roots of its conception in ancient Chinese philosophy and traditional Chinese medicine Along the synchronic dimension it not only makes a systematic analysis of conventionalized expressions that reflect the underlying cultural models and conceptualizations as well as underlying conceptual metaphors and metonymies but also attempts a textual analysis of an essay and a number of poems for their metaphoric and metonymic images and imports contributing to the cultural models and conceptualizations It also takes up a comparative perspective that sheds light on similarities and differences between Western and Chinese cultures in the understanding of the heart brain body mind self and person The book contributes to the understanding of the embodied nature of human cognition situated in its cultural context and the relationship between language culture and cognition
