of a business tax reform with special emphasis on a dual income tax With regard to the latter conceptual problems of tax law and of tax administration were to be addressed as well as possible transitional problems when implementing a dual income tax This book presents an English version of the original report completed in April 2006 ECRM 2018 17th European Conference on Research Methods in Business and Management Prof. Michela Marchiori, 2018-07-12 These proceedings represent the work of researchers participating in the 17th European Conference on Research Methodology for Business and Management Studies ECRM which is being hosted this year by Universit Roma TRE Rome Italy on 12 13 July 2018 ECIE2012-7th European Conference on Innovation and Entrepreneurship ,2012 The Role of Innovations Created in the Internationalization Process for Company Performance Adam Dymitrowski, 2014 It is commonly believed that innovations are crucial in company s activity The significance of the role that is assigned to the issue of innovation is confirmed by numerous scientific research studies that indicate the existence of a link between innovativeness and company performance In terms of the dynamically progressing process of globalization it seems that the relationship between innovation and company performance should be examined in the context of entities participating in international expansion The process of internationalization may influence the creation of innovations by enterprises and at the same time the achieved results Despite many literature publications in the field of economics and management concerning internationalization and innovations there is a small number of publications describing the influence of internationalization on the innovation activities of enterprises in a comprehensive manner Likewise there is no answer to the question on how the innovations created in the process of internationalization influence the results of companies Due to the identification of a substantial research gap this book undertakes an attempt at determining the manner in which internationalization affects the process of enterprises creating innovations and ascertaining their impact on company results The conclusions presented in the book may be used by researchers representing many fields of science and be the subject of interest to the representatives of business practice In addition it is one of the few domestic and foreign studies concerning the innovations created in the process of internationalization Entrepreneurship in the Region Michael Fritsch, Jürgen Schmutte, 2007-10-23 Entrepreneurship in the Region approaches many different aspects of entrepreneurship from a regional perspective The regional influences on entrepreneurship analyzed entail regional peculiarities and disparities in new business formation processes the success and the employment effects of new firms the importance of social capital and of network structures as well as entrepreneurship education and training provided in the regions The articles in this book provide strong evidence for the importance of regional factors that shape entrepreneurship and new firm formation processes It is shown that regional differences of start up rates and entrepreneurial attitudes are not at all elusive but tend to be rather persistent and prevail over longer periods of time The evidence clearly suggests that the regional level can be an appropriate starting point for entrepreneurship policy and that research on the issue may considerably benefit from properly accounting for the spatial dimension Innovation and Employment in Services Johanna Nählinder, 2005-10-07 This is a study of innovation in Knowledge Intensive Business Services KIBS and the impact innovation has on employment The thesis relies on theories within the fields of innovation in services in particular KIBS and innovation and employment taking as its point of departure the taxonomy of product and process innovation The thesis is based on a discussion of innovation in services with a focus on how innovation in services may be understood and delineated A long discussion is dedicated to the taxonomy of product and process innovation and the extent to which these concepts may be applicable to innovation in services The thesis also scrutinises the concept of KIBS and how this can be defined It further discusses features commonly associated with KIBS firms The thesis is also rooted in the broader issue of innovation as a creator and destroyer of employment and makes a contribution in applying these issues to service sectors The empirical part of the thesis builds on a database compiled for the research project comprised of 967 Swedish KIBS firms The database covers issues of innovation employment and characteristics of the firm The findings indicate that innovation was common in Swedish KIBS firms and that innovations often had an impact on employment However the thesis did not detect a straightforward relation between type of innovation technological process innovation organisational process innovation goods product innovation and service product innovation and the impact on employment Explanations other than type of innovation have to be considered to analyse the impact of innovation on employment The thesis further suggests that although innovation in KIBS is common innovation itself is difficult to conceptualise and delineate OECD Economic Studies ,2004 Big Data Approach to Firm Level Innovation in Manufacturing Seyed Mehrshad Parvin Hosseini, Aydin Azizi, 2020-08-03 This book discusses utilizing Big Data and Machine Learning approaches in investigating five aspects of firm level innovation in manufacturing 1 factors that determine the decision to innovate 2 the extent of innovation 3 characteristics of an innovating firm 4 types of innovation undertaken and 5 the factors that drive and enable different types of innovation A conceptual model and a cost benefit framework were developed to explain a firm's decision to innovate To empirically demonstrate these aspects Big data and machine learning approaches were introduced in the form of a case study The result of Big data analysis as an inferior method to analyse innovation data was also compared with the results of conventional statistical methods The implications of the findings of the study for increasing the pace of innovation are also discussed Fuelling Economic Growth Michael Graham, Jean Woo, 2009 The private sector is playing an increasingly important role in the funding of scientific research As public sector research declines in the countries of the north and the south research and development carried out by the private sector becomes more important for innovations that have economic potential In some cases networks between local firms and multinationals can support learning which leads to economic growth What are the policies which support such partnerships and what are the institutional arrangements that foster research Seven case studies from Argentina China Costa Rica El Salvador Tanzania Peru the Philippines and Vietnam examine how policies have been developed and implemented to encourage innovation Strategic Alliances Albert Link, Cristiano Antonelli, 2018-02-02 Strategic alliances have generally been used to refer to relationships that allow an organization to access the strengths and capabilities of other organizations with the organization often focused on being the firm. The strategy behind such an alliance is for each firm in the alliance to draw on the core competencies of the other firms with the goal of facilitating the growth and development of each member. Strategic alliances have long been studied from several perspectives including the way in which the alliance is brought about, alternative forms of relationships that form the structure of the alliance, efficiency gains from the alliance and the life cycle of the alliance. The strategic alliances that are now being observed are those that involve partners other than firms. In many advanced nations strategic alliances are subsidized by the public sector in the belief that they advance economic growth. One such form of this public private partnership involves universities as the public partner; another form involves a government agency as the public partner; and a third form involves both. This book transcends the traditional approach to a strategic alliance. As such, this collection might represent the locus of observational points that make up a new frontier re-defining the scope of research that falls under the rubric of strategic alliances. This book was originally published as a special issue of Economics of Innovation and New Technology.
