In addition to the five main windows, SketchUp also includes several different windows, such as the Component window that's open in Figure 1-1. You can open and close these as needed by using the Window menu. With the tools in these windows, you'll apply color and shading to your models, select prebuilt components, add shadows and lighting effects, and export your project.

What's New

Don't Be Afraid to Play

When you get started, you'll see a lot of windows. Don't be afraid to play with them. The SketchUp window is the main window for a SketchUp project. The SketchUp window is the main window for a SketchUp project.

It's a good idea to play with the SketchUp window. The SketchUp window is the main window for a SketchUp project. The SketchUp window is the main window for a SketchUp project.

SketchUp's menu bar is similar to the menu bars in other software, such as File, Edit, Window, and Help. SketchUp's View menu is a little different from the ones in most programs (Figure 1-2). The View menu has items in the SketchUp window that you can show or hide, including things like the drawing guides, wireframe, measurement tools, and view different models. If you're looking for tools that change over time of the SketchUp window, such as a View or the View menu, look under the View menu.
