Back to Fort Scott Karen E. Haas, Peter W. Kunhardt, 2015 The first African American photographer to be hired full time by Life magazine Gordon Parks was often sent on assignments involving social issues that his white colleagues were not asked to cover In 1950 he returned on one such assignment to his hometown of Fort Scott in southeastern Kansas he was to provide photographs for a piece on segregated schools and their impact on black children in the years prior to Brown v Board of Education Parks intended to revisit early memories of his birthplace many involving serious racial discrimination and to discover what had become of the 11 members of his junior high school graduation class since his departure 20 years earlier But when he arrived only one member of the class remained in Fort Scott the rest having followed the well worn paths of the Great Migration in search of better lives in urban centers such as St Louis Kansas City Columbus and Chicago Heading out to those cities Parks found his friends and their families and photographed them on their porches in their parlors and dining rooms on their way to church and working at their jobs and interviewed them about their decision to leave the segregated system of their youth and head north His resulting photo essay was slated to appear in Life in the spring of 1951 but was ultimately never published This book showcases the 80 photo series in a single volume for the first time offering a sensitive and visually arresting view of our country's racialized history Gordon Parks 1912-2006 was born into poverty and segregation in Fort Scott Kansas The self-taught photographer also found success as a film director author and composer He was awarded the National Medal of Arts and over 50 honorary degrees Jet, 2006-04-03 The weekly source of African American political and entertainment news segregated schools during the Jim Crow era      The New Art Museum Library Amelia Nelson, Traci E. Timmons, 2021-04-15

The New Art Museum Library addresses the issues facing today's art museum libraries through a series of scholarly essays written by top librarians in the field. In 2007 the publication Art Museum Libraries and Librarianship edited by Joan Benedetti was the first to solely focus on the field of art museum librarianship. In the decade since then many changes have occurred in the field both technological and ideological prompting the need for a follow up publication. In addition to representing current thinking and practice this new publication also addresses the need to clearly articulate and define the art museum library's value within its institution. It documents the broad changes in the environment that art museum libraries now function within and to celebrate the many innovative initiatives that are flourishing in this new landscape. Librarians working in art museum face unique challenges as museums redefine what object based visitor centric learning looks like in the 21st century. These unique challenges mean that art museum libraries are developing new strategies and initiatives so that they can continue to thrive in this environment. The unique nature of these initiatives mean that they will be useful to librarians working in a wide range of special libraries as well as more broadly in academic and public libraries. The New Art Museum Library is uniquely positioned to present new strategies and initiatives including digital art history initiatives the new norms in art museum library staffing and the public programming priorities that are core to many art museum libraries today. This book is an endorsed project of ARLIS NA.

A fascinating exploration of how photography graphic design and popular magazines converged to transform American visual culture at mid century. This dynamic study examines the intersection of modernist photography and American commercial graphic design between 1930 and 1960. Avant garde strategies in photography and design reached the United States via European migr's including Bauhaus artists forced out of Nazi Germany. The unmistakable aesthetic made popular by such magazines as Harper's Bazaar and Vogue whose art directors Alexey

Brodovitch and Alexander Liberman were both immigrants and accomplished photographers emerged from a distinctly American combination of innovation inclusiveness and pragmatism Beautifully illustrated with more than 150 revolutionary photographs layouts and cover designs Modern Look considers the connections and mutual influences of such designers and photographers as Richard Avedon Lillian Bassman Herbert Bayer Robert Frank Lisette Model Gordon Parks Irving Penn Cipe Pineles and Paul Rand Essays draw a lineage from European experimental design to innovative work in American magazine design at mid century and offer insights into the role of gender in fashion photography and political activism in the mass media LIFE ,1968-11-15 LIFE Magazine is the treasured photographic magazine that chronicled the 20th Century It now lives on at LIFE com the largest most amazing collection of professional photography on the internet Users can browse search and view photos of today s people and events They have free access to share print and post images for personal use
