Governance, Natural Resources and Post-Conflict Peacebuilding Carl Bruch, Carroll Muffett, Sandra Nichols, 2016-04-07

When the guns are silenced those who have survived armed conflict need food water shelter the means to earn a living and the promise of safety and a return to civil order Meeting these needs while sustaining peace requires more than simply having governmental structures in place it requires good governance Natural resources are essential to sustaining people and peace in post conflict countries but governance failures often jeopardize such efforts This book examines the theory practice and often surprising realities of post conflict governance natural resource management and peacebuilding in fifty conflict affected countries and territories It includes thirty nine chapters written by more than seventy researchers diplomats military personnel and practitioners from governmental intergovernmental and nongovernmental organizations The book highlights the mutually reinforcing relationship between natural resource management and good governance Natural resource management is crucial to rebuilding governance and the rule of law combating corruption improving transparency and accountability engaging disenfranchised populations and building confidence after conflict At the same time good governance is essential for ensuring that natural resource management can meet immediate needs for post conflict stability and development while simultaneously laying the foundation for a sustainable peace Drawing on analyses of the close relationship between governance and natural resource management the book explores lessons from past conflicts and ongoing reconstruction efforts illustrates how those lessons may be applied to the formulation and implementation of more effective governance initiatives and presents an emerging theoretical and practical framework for policy makers researchers practitioners and students Governance Natural Resources and Post Conflict Peacebuilding is part of a global initiative to identify and analyze lessons in post conflict peacebuilding and natural resource management The project has generated six books of case studies and analyses with contributions from practitioners policy makers and researchers Other books in this series address high value resources land water livelihoods and assessing and restoring natural resources

Assessing and Restoring Natural Resources In Post-Conflict Peacebuilding David Jensen, Stephen Lonergan, 2013-02-15

When a country emerges from violent conflict the management of the environment and natural resources has important implications for short term peacebuilding and long term stability particularly if natural resources were a factor in the conflict play a major role in the national economy or broadly support livelihoods Only recently however have the assessment harnessing and restoration of the natural resource base become essential components of postconflict peacebuilding This book by thirty five authors examines the experiences of more than twenty countries and territories in assessing post conflict environmental damage and natural resource degradation and their implications for human health livelihoods and security The book also illustrates how an understanding of both the risks and opportunities associated with natural resources can help decision makers manage natural resources in ways that create jobs sustain livelihoods and contribute to economic recovery and reconciliation without creating new grievances or significant environmental degradation Finally the book offers lessons from the remediation of environmental hot spots restoration of damaged ecosystems and reconstruction of the environmental services and infrastructure necessary for a sustainable peace Assessing and Restoring Natural Resources in Post Conflict Peacebuilding is part of a global initiative to identify and analyze lessons in post conflict peacebuilding and natural resource management The project has generated six books of case studies and analyses with contributions by practitioners policy makers and researchers Other books address highvalue resources land water livelihoods and governance Livelihoods, Natural Resources, and Post-Conflict Peacebuilding Helen Young,Lisa Goldman,2015-04-10 Sustaining and strengthening local livelihoods is one of the most fundamental challenges faced by post conflict countries By degrading the natural resources that are essential to livelihoods and by significantly hindering access to those resources conflict can wreak havoc on the ability of war torn populations to survive and recover This book explores how natural resource management initiatives in more than twenty countries and territories have supported livelihoods and facilitated post conflict peacebuilding Case studies and analyses identify lessons and opportunities for the more effective design of interventions to support the livelihoods that depend on natural resources from land to agriculture forestry fisheries and protected areas The book also explores larger questions about how to structure livelihoods assistance as part of a coherent integrated approach to post conflict redevelopment Livelihoods and Natural Resources in Post Conflict Peacebuilding is part of a global initiative to identify and analyze lessons in post conflict peacebuilding and natural resource management The project has generated six books of case studies and analyses with contributions from practitioners policy makers and researchers Other books in this series address high value resources land water assessing and restoring natural resources and governance High-Value Natural Resources and Post-Conflict Peacebuilding Pivi Lujala,2012-03-29 For most post conflict countries the transition to peace is daunting In countries with high value natural resources including oil gas diamonds other minerals and timber the stakes are unusually high and peacebuilding is especially challenging Resource rich post conflict countries face both unique problems and opportunities They enter peacebuilding with an advantage that distinguishes them from other war torn societies access to natural resources that can yield substantial revenues for alleviating poverty compensating victims creating jobs and rebuilding the country and the economy Evidence shows however that this opportunity is often wasted Resource rich countries do not have a better record in sustaining peace In fact resource related conflicts are more likely to relapse Focusing on the relationship between high value natural resources and peacebuilding in post conflict settings this book identifies opportunities and strategies for converting resource revenues to a peaceful future Its thirty chapters draw on the experiences of forty one researchers and practitioners as well as the broader literature and cover a range of key issues including resource extraction revenue sharing and allocation and institution building The book provides a concise theoretical and practical framework that policy makers researchers practitioners and students can use to understand and address the complex interplay between the management of high value resources and peace High Value Natural Resources and Post Conflict Peacebuilding is part of a global initiative led by the Environmental Law Institute ELI the United Nations Environment Programme UNEP the University of Tokyo and McGill University to identify and analyze lessons in natural resource management and post conflict peacebuilding The project has generated six edited books of case studies and analyses with contributions from practitioners policy makers and researchers Other books in the series address land water livelihoods assessing and restoring natural resources and governance

Water and Post-Conflict Peacebuilding Erika Weinthal, Jessica J. Troell, Mikiyasu Nakayama, 2014-02-24 As a basic human need the provision of safe water is among the highest priorities of government and humanitarian interventions during post conflict recovery and peacebuilding In the aftermath of war water sanitation and infrastructure play a critical role in the recovery of livelihoods and economic development Moreover shared waters have great potential for interstate cooperation assisting to rebuild trust following conflict and to prevent a return to conflict This volume draws on studies from around the world to create a framework for understanding how water resources decisions and activities can facilitate or undermine peacebuilding in a post conflict setting

Water and Post-Conflict Peacebuilding Erika Weinthal, Jessica J. Research Handbook on International Law and Environmental Peacebuilding Daniëlla Dam-de Jong, Britta Sjöstedt, 2023-08-14 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4.0 License It is free to read download and share on Elgaronline.com This incisive Research Handbook addresses the growing recognition within the international law community that natural resource governance and environmental protection are crucial aspects of peace processes both as a security

imperative and as an opportunity for peacebuilding Examining the impact of international normative and institutional frameworks on environmental peacebuilding this Research Handbook features contributions from distinguished experts and global case studies on integrated legal approaches to the governance of natural resources Conflict-Sensitive Conservation Carl Bruch, Geeta Batra, Anupam Anand, Shehla Chowdhury, Sierra Killian, 2023-08-10 This book provides an empirically formulated foundation for conflict sensitive conservation a field in which the existing literature relies primarily on anecdotal evidence Seeking to better understand the impact of conflict on the implementation and outcomes of environmental projects the Global Environment Facility GEF Independent Evaluation Office and the Environmental Law Institute undertook an evaluation of GEF support to fragile and conflict affected contexts Following a qualitative and quantitative analysis of documents from more than 4 000 projects the research team discovered a statistically significant negative correlation between a country s Fragile States Index score and the implementation quality of environmental projects in that country In this book the evaluation and research team explain these groundbreaking findings in detail highlighting seven key case studies Afghanistan Albertine Rift Balkans Cambodia Colombia Lebanon and Mali Drawing upon additional research and interviews with GEF project implementation staff the volume illustrates the pathways through which conflict and fragility frequently impact environmental projects It also examines how practitioners and sponsoring institutions can plan and implement their projects to avoid or mitigate these issues and find opportunities to promote peacebuilding through their environmental interventions Examining data from 164 countries and territories this innovative book will be of great interest to students and scholars of environmental management conservation international development and the fast growing field of environmental peacebuilding It will also be a great resource for practitioners working in these important fields The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license International Law and the War with Islamic State Saeed Bagheri, 2021-07-15 Armed non state actors ANSAs often have economic aims that international law needs to respond to This book looks at the aim of Islamic State to create an effective government with an economically independent regime which focused on key oilfields in Syria and Iraq Having addressed Islamic State s quest for energy resources in Iraq and Syria the book explores the lawfulness of the war with Islamic State from a variety of legal aspects It has been attempted to make inroads into the most controversial aspects of contradictions in the application of jus ad bellum and jus in bello particularly when discussing the use of extraterritorial armed force against ANSAs and the obligation to protect civilian objects including the natural environment The question is whether the targeting of energy resources should be regarded as a violation of the laws of armed conflict even though the war with Islamic State being classified as a non international armed conflict Ambitious in scope the study argues that legal theory and state practice are still problematic as to how and under what conditions states can justify resorting to military force in foreign territory and to what extent they can target natural resources as being part of state property Furthermore it goes on to examine the differences between international and non international armed conflicts to establish whether there is any difference in the targeting of energy resources as part of the war sustaining capabilities of either party Through an examination of the Islamic State case the book offers a comprehensive study to close the gaps in jus in bello by contextualising the questions of civilian protection victimisation and state responsibility by evaluating the US s war sustaining theory as a justification for the destruction of a territorial state s natural resources that are occupied by ANSAs

Land and Post-Conflict Peacebuilding Jon Unruh,Rhodri Williams,2013-07-18 Claims to land and territory are often a cause of conflict and land issues present some of the most contentious problems for post conflict peacebuilding Among the land related problems that emerge during and after conflict are the exploitation of land based resources in the absence of authority the disintegration of property rights and institutions the territorial effect of battlefield gains and losses and population displacement In the wake of violent conflict reconstitution of a viable land rights system is crucial an effective post conflict land policy can foster economic recovery help restore the rule of law and strengthen political stability But the reestablishment of land ownership land use and access rights for individuals and communities is often complicated and problematic and poor land policies can lead to renewed tensions In twenty one chapters by twenty five authors this book considers experiences with and approaches to post conflict land issues in seventeen countries and in varied social and geographic settings Highlighting key concepts that are important for understanding how to address land rights in the wake of armed conflict the book provides a theoretical and practical framework for policy makers researchers practitioners and students Land and Post Conflict Peacebuilding is part of a global initiative to identify and analyze lessons in post conflict peacebuilding and natural resource management The project has generated six edited books of case studies and analyses with contributions from practitioners policy makers and researchers Other books in the series address high value resources water livelihoods assessing and restoring resources and governance

Environmental Protection and Transitions from Conflict to Peace Carsten Stahn,Jennifer S. Easterday,Jens Iverson,2017 This book examines the protection of the environment in post conflict societies with regard both to the maintenance of natural ecosystems and to the function of environmental protection in the peace building process addressing the strengths and weaknesses of different bodies of law

Justice and Economic Violence in Transition Dustin N. Sharp,2013-09-14 This book examines the role of economic violence violations of economic and social rights corruption and plunder of natural resources within the transitional justice agenda Because economic violence often leads to conflict is perpetrated during conflict and continues afterwards as a legacy of conflict a greater focus on economic and social rights issues in the transitional justice context is critical One might add that insofar as transitional justice is increasingly seen as an instrument of peacebuilding rather than a simple political transition focus on economic violence as the crucial root cause is key to preventing re lapse into conflict Recent increasing attention to economic issues by academics and truth commissions suggest this may be slowly changing and that economic and social rights may represent the next frontier of transitional justice concerns There remain difficult questions that have yet to be worked out at the level of theory policy and practice Further scholarship in this regard is both timely and necessary This volume therefore presents an opportunity to fill an important gap The project will bring together new papers by recognized and emerging scholars and policy experts in the field Taxation and Management of Natural Resources in Africa Mohammed Amidu, Abdallah Ali-Nakyea, Joshua Yindenaba Abor, 2024-05-20 This book offers a comprehensive examination of the fundamental concepts and principles crucial to the taxation and management of natural resources specifically tailored to the unique challenges faced by developing African countries It delves into the key instruments that comprise a resource tax policy providing invaluable insights into the tax reforms necessary to maximize economic rent for African nations Written by experts in the field this book explores the potential application of effective revenue management principles by African governments to achieve desired developmental outcomes It covers a wide range of topics including socio political risks ethical dilemmas accountability and transparency resource rent and capital gains taxes tax administration and reforms taxation of oil and gas revenue environmental taxation globalization s impact and the promotion of inclusive development Designed for scholars tax professionals and individuals interested in natural resources management and revenue mobilization strategy in Africa this book bridges the gap between theory and practice providing valuable insights and recommendations for sustainable and responsible management of Africa s rich natural resources

Energy Cooperation in South Asia Mirza Sadaqat Huda, 2020-04-13 This book analyses the key political challenges to regional energy cooperation in South Asia It argues that investment in the planning of regional energy projects can increase their viability and also drive integration and peacebuilding Regional cooperation has been substantiated by academics and multilateral development banks as one of the most viable solutions to South Asia s crippling energy crisis However three decades of national and regional efforts have failed to develop a single multilateral energy project or foster high levels of bilateral cooperation Using data collected through extensive interviews with policymakers in India Bangladesh Pakistan and Nepal this book identifies the specific roadblocks to energy cooperation including domestic politics and the failure of leadership on multiple levels and evaluates how these political challenges determine regional interactions on energy securitisation environmental cooperation and human rights Huda then undertakes case studies on four transnational energy projects to highlight specific policy recommendations to overcome these challenges suggesting planning mechanisms through which the significant issue of energy cooperation in South Asia can be addressed This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of energy security and geopolitics natural resource governance and South Asian politics The Oxford Handbook of International Environmental Law Lavanya Rajamani, Jacqueline Peel, 2021-08-06 The second edition of this leading reference work provides a comprehensive discussion of the dynamic and important field of international law concerned with environmental protection It is edited by globally recognised international environmental law scholars

Professor Lavanya Rajamani and Professor Jacqueline Peel and features 67 chapters authored by 76 renowned experts in their fields The Handbook discusses the key principles underpinning international environmental law its relevant actors and tools and rules applying in its substantive sub fields such as climate law oceans law wildlife and biodiversity law and hazardous substances regulation It also explores the intersection of international environmental law with other areas of international law such as those concerned with trade investment disaster migration armed conflict intellectual property energy and human rights The Handbook sets its discussion of international environmental law in the broader interdisciplinary context of developments in science ethics politics and economics which inform the way in which environmental rules are made implemented and enforced It provides an introduction to the foundations of international environmental law while also engaging with questions at the frontiers of research teaching and practice in the field including the role of Global South perspectives the contribution made by Earth jurisprudence and the growing role of a diverse range of actors from indigenous peoples to business and industry Like the first edition this second edition of the Handbook is an essential reference text for all engaged with environmental issues at the international level and the applicable governance and regulatory structures Research Handbook on Post-Conflict State Building Paul R. Williams, Milena Sterio, 2020-08-28

As a conflict ends and the parties begin working towards a durable peace practitioners and peacebuilders are faced with the thrilling possibilities and challenges of building new or reformed political security judicial social and economic structures This Handbook analyzes these elements of post conflict state building through the lens of international law which provides a framework through which the authors contextualize and examine the many facets of state building in relation to the legal norms processes and procedures that guide such efforts across the globe The volume aims to provide not only an introduction to and explanation of prominent topics in state building but also a perceptive analysis that augments ongoing conversations among researchers lawyers and advocates engaged in the field Implementing Environmental

Constitutionalism Erin Daly, James R. May, 2018-11-08 Constitutions can play a central role in responding to environmental challenges such as pollution biodiversity loss lack of drinking water and climate change The vast majority of people on earth live under constitutional systems that protect the environment or recognize environmental rights Such environmental constitutionalism however falls short without effective implementation by policymakers advocates and jurists Implementing Environmental Constitutionalism Current Global Challenges explains and explores this implementation gap This collection is both broad and deep While some of the essays analyze crosscutting themes such as climate change and the need for rule of law that affect the implementation of environmental constitutionalism throughout the world others delve deeply into geographically contextual experiences for lessons about how constitutional environmental law might be more effectively implemented This volume informs global conversations about whether and how environmental constitutionalism can be made more effective to protect the natural environment
