Handbook Of Collaborative Management Research:

Handbook of Collaborative Management Research A. B. Shani, Susan Albers Mohrman, William A. Pasmore, Bengt Stymne, Niclas Adler, 2007-08-23 This handbook provides the latest thinking methodologies and cases in the rapidly growing area of collaborative management research What makes collaborative management research different is its emphasis on creating a close partnership between scholars and practitioners in the search for knowledge concerning organizations and complex systems In the ideal situation scholars and their managerial partners would work together to define the research focus develop the methods to be used for data collection participate equally in the analysis of data and work together in the application and dissemination of knowledge The handbook contains insightful reflections on the state of the art as well as detailed descriptions of the collaborative efforts of an international group of leading edge academics and their practitioner counterparts The applications of collaborative research methods included in this volume include those aimed at individual development organizational development regional development efforts and economic policy The insights from the cases suggest that collaborative management research has been a highly effective means of getting at issues that other research methods and intervention techniques have failed to address The rationale for conducting this highly engaging type of research is explored in the first section of the handbook followed by sections that offer new methodologies descriptive cases views from those directly involved and issues and enablers about the use of this approach in advancing knowledge and practice The handbook does appeal to scholarly practitioners as well as practical scholars

The Impact of Executive Management Education Lisa Anderson, Paul Ellwood, Clare Rigg, Leighann Spencer, 2025-05-06 This book contributes to the debate about the impact of business and management schools It brings together work that has been carried out over the last few years to call attention to the idea that the impact of academics is not solely achieved through their research and engagement activities and that their teaching has the potential to change management practice and thinking As business school academics the authors are in the privileged position of educating the managers of the future whose work will influence the lives of many others both on a day to day basis within their organisations and in a much broader societal way They propose relational management education RME as an approach that supports managers to learn and develop as ethical and collegial scholar practitioners They also introduce models which can help conceptualise pedagogies for impact and examples of student learning journeys showing how this approach can be enacted The book will be of interest to academics in business and management schools at any career stage It will also appeal to university and business school leaders and policymakers seeking to extend their understanding of the power and potential of education to achieve impact Sustainability and Human Resource Management Ina Ehnert, Wes Harry, Klaus J.

Zink, 2013-07-03 The role of HRM in developing sustainable business organizations is increasingly attracting attention Sustainability can be used as a principle for HRM itself and the tasks of Sustainable HRM are twofold On the one hand it fosters the conditions for individual employee sustainability and develops the ability of HRM systems to continuously attract regenerate and develop motivated and engaged employees by making the HRM system itself sustainable On the other hand Sustainable HRM contributes to the sustainability of the business organizations through cooperation with the top management key stakeholders and NGOs and by realising economic ecological social and human sustainability goals This book provides a comprehensive review of the new area of Sustainable HRM and of research from different disciplines like sustainable work systems ergonomics HRM linking sustainability and HRM It brings together the views of academics and practitioners and provides many ideas for conceptual development empirical exploration and practical implementation This publication intends to advance the international academic and practice based debates on the potential of sustainability for HRM and vice versa In 19 chapters 26 authors from five continents explore the role of HRM in developing economically socially and ecologically sustainable organizations the concept of Sustainable HRM and the role of HRM in developing Sustainable HRM systems and how sustainability and HRM are conceptualized and perceived in different areas of the world

Academic-Practitioner Relationships Jean M. Bartunek, Jane McKenzie, 2017-07-06 While executives are keen to harness organizational knowledge and improve business performance the topic of how academics can produce rigorous and relevant theory in working relationships with practitioners is a much contested topic Many aspects of this knowledge co creation can create tensions and the ways in which research is conducted and published can affect practitioner acceptance as well as its consequent uptake and use in different contexts Expertly compiled by Jean Bartunek and Jane McKenzie with contributions from global thinkers in the field this book offers a concise and up to date review of the essential analysis and action underlying scholarly engagement with the world of business It discusses the sorts of capabilities academics need to collaborate effectively with practitioners and illustrates good practice through international case studies drawn from acknowledged centres of excellence These show how to negotiate different constituencies with different priorities values and practices to work together to produce research of rigor and relevance It will be a key reference and resource for all researchers who are engaged with practitioners and an invaluable tool for training academics to develop research with impact Research in Organizational Change and Development Abraham B.
