Field Recordings of Black Singers and Musicians, 2018-06-28 Traditional African musical forms have long been accepted as fundamental to the emergence of blues and jazz Yet there has been little effort at compiling recorded evidence to document their development This discography brings together hundreds of recordings that trace in detail the evolution of the African American musical experience from early wax cylinder recordings made in West Africa to voodoo rituals from the Carribean Basin to the songs of former slaves in the American South An Alabama Songbook Byron Arnold, 2004-08-12 A lavish presentation of 208 folksongs collected throughout Alabama in the 1940s Alabama is a state rich in folksong tradition from old English ballads sung along the Tennessee River to children s game songs played in Mobile from the rhythmic work songs of the railroad gandy dancers of Gadsden to the spirituals of the Black Belt The musical heritage of blacks and whites rich and poor hill folk and cotton farmers these songs endure as a living part of the state s varied past In the mid 1940s Byron Arnold an eager young music professor from The University of Alabama set out to find and record as many of these songs as he could and was rewarded by unstinting cooperation from many informants Mrs Julia Greer Marechal of Mobile for example was 90 years old blind and a semi invalid but she sang for Arnold for three hours allowing the recording of 33 songs and exhausting Arnold and his technician Helped by such living repositories as Mrs Marechal the Arnold collection grew to well over 500 songs augmented by field notes and remarkable biographical information on the singers An Alabama Songbook is the result of Arnold s efforts and those of his informants across the state and has been shaped by Robert W Halli Jr into a narrative enriched by more than 200 significant songs lullabies Civil War anthems African American gospel and secular songs fiddle tunes temperance songs love ballads play party rhymes and work songs In the tradition of Alan Lomax s The Folk Songs of North America and Vance Randolph s Ozark Folksongs this volume will appeal to general audiences folklorists ethnomusicologists preservationists traditional musicians and historians Blues & Gospel Records, 1890-1943 Robert M. W. Dixon, John Godrich, Howard Rye, 1997 Since its first edition in 1964 Dixon and Godrich s Blues and Gospel Records has been dubbed the bible for collectors of pre war African American music It provides an exhaustive listing of all recordings made up to the end of 1943 in a distinctively African American musical style excluding those customarily classed as jazz which are the subject of separate discographies The book covers recordings made for the commercial market whether issued at the time or not and also recordings made for the Library of Congress Archive of Folk Song and similar bodies about 20 000 titles in all by more than 3 000 artists For each recording session full details are given of artist credit accompaniment place and date of recording titles issuing company and catalogue numbers matrix numbers and alternate takes There are also short accounts of the major race labels which recorded blues and gospel material and a complete list of field trips to the south by travelling recording units Howard Rye has joined the original compilers for this thoroughly revised fourth edition The scope

has been enlarged by the addition of about 150 new artists in addition to newly discovered recordings by other artists Early cylinder recordings of gospel music from the 1890s are also included for the first time Previous editions of this work were applauded for their completeness accuracy and reliability This has now been enhanced by the addition of new information from record labels and from record company files and by listening to a wide selection of titles and detailed cross checking
