Discussion of Cold Damage Shang Han Lun and contemporary texts of ancient China form the bedrock of modern Chinese medicine practice yet these classic texts contain many concepts that are either hard to understand or confusing. Based on over thirty years medical practice and study of the texts, this book explains the concepts involved so that the clinical applications of the ancient texts can be better understood and put into practice. The author looks at the larger context of ancient Chinese culture and philosophy in terms of theoretical knowledge, scholarly approach and mindset in order to explain the basis for the medical texts. He also discusses the work of later Chinese medical scholars in elucidating the texts. He then goes on to look at more specific issues such as the six conformations, zang fu organ theory, the theory of qi and blood, the theory of qi transformation and how these are understood in the ancient texts. He also discusses shao yang and tai yang theory, the element of time and its place in understanding six conformations diseases. This remarkable work of scholarship will clarify many questions about the interpretation of the ancient texts for modern use and will find a place on the bookshelf of every practitioner of Chinese medicine as well as on those of scholars of Chinese medicine.

Discussion of Cold Damage (Shang Han Lun) Guohui Liu, 2015-11-21. A major new translation of the Chinese classic Shang Han Lun by scholar and medical doctor Guohui Liu makes this foundational text fully accessible to English speaking clinicians for the first time. Extensive study and research underpins the translation; the author's understanding of both classical and modern Chinese enables him to interpret fully the ancient work within the theory of Chinese medicine. An extensive commentary explains the translation, the difficulties with the text, how it has been subsequently translated and expands on the theory laid out in the original text to reach an understanding that can be applied in the clinic for diagnosis and treatment. The value of this classic text lies primarily in its establishment of a basic framework for differentiation and treatment, but it also presents 112 formulas and 88 medicinal substances which are commonly applied in clinical work for various conditions. In this edition, the 112 formulas are fully explained in the context of the clinical experiences of well known ancient and modern doctors and they are also laid out in two appendices cross referenced to the text.

Pricking the Vessels Henry McCann, 2014-02-21. The first text on bloodletting therapy for Western practitioners of Chinese medicine, this authoritative introduction explores the history, theory and function of the practice. Through the exploration of classic texts and contemporary standards, it provides everything needed to gain a comprehensive understanding of the technique.

Afterglow Z'ev Rosenberg, 2022-10-21. Inspired by personal observations of the climate crisis as well as health issues from patients involving ministerial fire, this text dives into the concepts of ming men and ministerial fire, core concepts of Chinese medical diagnosis and treatment. This book will assist practitioners in understanding the mechanisms of treating patients with autoimmune diseases, allergies, skin disorders and arthritic disorders. With material from the classic texts, Z'ev Rosenberg explains the concepts of ming men and ministerial fire and its relation to the clinical treatment of chronic disorders and its ecological and philosophical implications for life on this planet. Including case histories, acupuncture strategies and herbal formulas, Afterglow is for practitioners that want to deepen their Chinese medicine knowledge in order to treat these complex yet common disorders.

The Art and

Practice of Diagnosis in Chinese Medicine Nigel Ching, 2017-05-18 This textbook is a complete diagnostic manual for students of Chinese medicine It covers how to collect and collate the relevant information needed to make a diagnosis and clearly describes the various diagnostic models in Chinese medicine

Languages of Science between Western and Eastern Civilizations Carlo Ferrari, Fabio Guidetti, Chiara Ombretta Tommasi, 2024-10-07 From the 17th century onwards in a context of increasingly intense trade and diplomatic contacts the exchange of scientific ideas became a key element in the encounters between the European world and the cultures of the Far East This volume investigates the ways in which scientific knowledge was transferred and disseminated to new audiences whose cultural background was very different from that in which such knowledge had originally developed A vital role in this process was played by the Jesuit mission in China whose members included intellectuals with a keen interest in cross cultural comparison The study of the local languages enabled the transfer of knowledge in both directions through translations of existing texts and the production of new ones for both Chinese and European audiences The papers in the volume authored by specialists in various fields of cultural studies highlight the intellectual effort and strategies by which scientific works were made available and understandable beyond cultural differences The volume will be welcome to those interested not only in cultural interactions between Europe and the Far East but also in translation studies particularly in the dissemination of scientific knowledge
