Good Deeds Good Design Community Service Through Architecture:

Good Deeds, Good Design Bryan Bell, 2004 Explores new thoughts and practices in the movement toward an architecture that serves everyone including the poor Community Matters: Service-Learning in Engaged Design and Planning Mallika Bose, Paula Horrigan, Cheryl Doble, Sigmund C. Shipp, 2014-05-09 Winner of the EDRA 2015 Book Award Community Matters Service Learning in Engaged Design and Planning explores issues that resonate with a diverse group of design and planning educators drawn to the challenge of supporting greater community building and empowerment while combining learning with practice The book explores such questions as How do we foster mutuality and reciprocity in community academy partnerships What conflicts challenges limits and obstacles do we face in our service learning studios and projects What evidence do we have of our impacts on students and communities and how are we responding How are we being attentive to the contemporary environmental and societal issues What is our role as both designers and agents of societal change How are we innovating to enable greater capacities for individuals future practitioners and communities This book provides compelling evidence that educators should be adopting engaged pedagogies research methods and theories through which they can bring together education practice and scholarship at the boundary of community and academy

Design Activism Alastair Fuad-Luke, 2013-06-17 Design academics and practitioners are facing a multiplicity of challenges in a dynamic complex world moving faster than the current design paradigm which is largely tied to the values and imperatives of commercial enterprise Current education and practice need to evolve to ensure that the discipline of design meets sustainability drivers and equips students teachers and professionals for the near future Design Activism reveals the power of design for positive social and environmental change design with a central activist role in the sustainability challenge Design activists seek to fu American Architecture Leland M. Roth, 2018-05-04 More than fifteen years after the success of the first edition this sweeping introduction to the history of architecture in the United States is now a fully revised guide to the major developments that shaped the environment from the first Americans to the present from the everyday vernacular to the high style of aspiration Eleven chronologically organized chapters chart the social cultural and political forces that shaped the growth and development of American towns cities and suburbs while providing full description analysis and interpretation of buildings and their architects The second edition features an entirely new chapter detailing the green architecture movement and architectural trends in the 21st century Further updates include an expanded section on Native American architecture and contemporary design by Native American architects new discussions on architectural education and training more examples of women architects and designers and a thoroughly expanded glossary to help today's readers The art program is expanded including 640 black and white images and 62 new color images Accessible and engaging American Architecture continues to set the standard as a guide study and reference for those seeking to better understand the rich history of architecture in the United States Architecture From the Outside In

Robert Gutman, 2012-04-17 Architecture and sociology have been fickle friends over the past half century in the 1960s architects relied on sociological data for design solutions and sociologists were courted by the most prestigious design schools to lecture and teach Twenty years later at the height of postmodernism it was passe to be concerned with the sociological aspects of architecture Currently the rising importance of sustainability in building not to mention an economical crisis brought on in part by a real estate bubble have forced architects to consider themselves in a less autonomous way perhaps bringing the profession full circle back to a close relationship with sociology Through all these rises and dips Robert Gutman was a strong and steady voice for both architecture and sociology Gutman a sociologist by training infiltrated architecture's ranks in the mid 1960s and never looked back A teacher for over four decades at Princeton's School of Architecture Gutman wrote about architecture and taught generations of future architects all while maintaining an outsider status that allowed him to see the architectural profession in an insightful unique way Public Interest Design Practice

Elise M. Edwards, 2024-03-18 Architecture Theology and Ethics Making Architectural Design More Just argues that architecture design and creativity are theological ethical concerns that ought to be considered more deeply by Christians who are committed to social and environmental justice Elise M Edwards discusses the significance of architectural design entering into ongoing conversations in theological ethics and aesthetics She argues that architectural design is not just a professional practice for wealthy clients but rather an activity that everyday people undertake when making choices that shape the spaces they inhabit If Christians think theologically about their agency in these decisions they will discover that architectural design becomes an opportunity to contribute to the flourishing for humanity and God's creation Edwards proposes an approach to architectural design that presents it as prophetic action with the power to shape our world This book then presents five moral commitments that guide design intentions and the process of design towards justice and inclusion Grounded in liberationist feminist and womanist thought Architecture Theology and Ethics makes a compelling case for architecture s relevance to Christian ethics and theology Questioning Architectural Judgment Steven A. Moore,Barbara B. Wilson,2013-07-24 The book shines light on the problem of judgment particularly in the realm of architectural technics and the codes that regulate it The struggle to define sustainability and thus judge architecture through such lenses is but one dimension of the contemporary problem of judgment By providing the reader with an inherently interdisciplinary study of a particular discipline architecture it brings to the topic lenses that challenge the too frequently unexamined assumptions of the discipline By situating architecture within a broader cultural field and using case studies to dissect the issues discussed the book emphasizes that it is not simply a matter of designing better more efficient or more stringent codes to guide place making but a matter of reconstructing the boundaries of the systems to be coded The authors are winners of the EDRA Place Research Award 2014 for their work on the Green Alley Demonstration Project used in the book Architectural Research Addressing Societal Challenges Volume 2 Manuel Jorge Rodrigues Couceiro da Costa,Filipa Roseta,Susana Couceiro da Costa,Joana Pestana Lages,2017-09-19 The EAAE ARCC International Conference held under the aegis of the EAAE European Association for Architectural Education and of the ARCC Architectural Research Centers Consortium is a conference organized every other year in collaboration with one of the member schools universities of those associations alternatively in North America or in Europe The EAAE ARCC Conferences began at the North Carolina State University College of Design Raleigh with a conference on Research in Design Education 1998 followed by conferences in Paris 2000 Montreal 2002 Dublin 2004 Philadelphia 2006 Copenhagen 2008 Washington 2010 Milan 2012 and Honolulu 2014 The conference discussions focus on research experiences in the field of architecture and architectural education providing a critical forum for the dissemination and engagement of current ideas from around the world Architectural Research Addressing Societal Challenges Manuel Jorge Rodrigues Couceiro da Costa,Filipa Roseta,Joana Pestana Lages,Susana Couceiro da Costa,2019-08-08 The escalating interdependency of nations drives global geopolitics to shift ever more quickly Societies seem unable to control any change that affects their cities whether positively or negatively Challenges are global but solutions need to be implemented locally How can architectural research contribute to the future of our changing society How has it contributed in the past The theme of the 10th EAAE ARCC International Conference Architectural Research Addressing Societal Challenges was set to address these questions This book Architectural Research Addressing Societal Challenges includes reviewed papers presented in June 2016 at the 10th EAAE ARCC International Conference which was held at the facilities of the Faculty of Architecture of the University of Lisbon The papers have been further divided into the following five sub themes a Changing Society In Transit Global Migration Renaturalization of the City

Architecture Thorsten Botz-Bornstein, 2016-03-09 Critical Regionalism is a notion which gained popularity in architectural debate as a synthesis of universal modern elements and individualistic elements derived from local cultures This book shifts the focus from Critical Regionalism towards a broader concept of Transcultural Architecture and defines Critical Regionalism as a subgroup of the latter One of the benefits that this change of perspective brings about is that a large part of the political agenda of Critical Regionalism which consists of resisting attitudes forged by typically Western experiences is softened and negotiated according to premises provided by local circumstances A further benefit is that several responses dependent on factors that initial definitions of Critical Regionalism never took into account can now be considered At the book s centre is an analysis of Reima and Raili Pietil s Sief Palace Area project in Kuwait Further cases of modern architecture in China Korea and Saudi Arabia show that the critique which holds that Critical Regionalism is a typical western exercise is not sound in all circumstances The book argues that there are different Critical Regionalisms and not all of them impose Western paradigms on non Western cultures Non Western regionalists can also successfully participate in the Western enlightened discourse even when they do not directly and consciously act against Western models Furthermore the book proposes that a certain architectural rationality can be contained in architecture itself not imposed by outside parameters like aesthetics comfort or even tradition but flowing out of a social game of which architecture is a part The key concept is that of the form of life as developed by Ludwig Wittgenstein whose thoughts are here linked to Critical Regionalism Kenneth Frampton argues that Critical Regionalism offers something well beyond comfort and accommodation What he has in mind are ethical prescripts closely linked to a
