The Oxford Handbook of Sovereign Wealth Funds Douglas J. Cumming, Geoffrey Wood, Igor Filatotchev, Juliane Reinecke, 2017-10-26 Sovereign Wealth Funds SWFs represent both an increasingly important and potentially dominant category of alternative investor and a novel form for governments to project their interests both home and abroad As such they represent both economic actors and embody power vested in the financial and diplomatic resources they can leverage Although at times they have acted in concert with other alternative investors their intergenerational savings function should in theory at least promote more long termist thinking However they may be impelled in towards greater short termism in response to popular pressures demands from predatory elites and or unforeseen external shocks Of all the categories of alternative investment SWFs perhaps embody the most contradictory pressures making for diverse and complex outcomes The aim of this volume is to consolidate the present state of the art and advance the field through new applied conceptual and theoretical insights The volume is ordered into chapters that explore thematic issues and country studies incorporating novel insights in on the most recent developments in the SWF ecosystem This handbook is organized into four sections and 23 chapters The four sections are Governance of SWFs Political and Legal Aspects of SWFs Investment Choices and Structures of SWFs Country and Regional Analyses of SWFs

Climate Variability and Change in the Rift Valley and Blue Nile Basin, Ethiopia Abate Mekuriaw Bizuneh, 2013

This study deals with three interrelated problems First it pursues the quest for local knowledge to understand climate variability and change at local levels Due to controversies uncertainties skepticism and embedded economic and political interests in the climate change discourse effective world collective action is more likely to delay for quite some time to come Moreover as climate change discourse remains very weak at engaging local knowledge policies that emanate from the discourse might be less responsive to local climate problems both in terms of policy ingredients and time frame So having highlighting the paramount importance of local knowledge this study documents and critically analyzes this knowledge system among subsistence farmers in Ethiopia Secondly it analyzes the economic impacts of climate variability and change and adaptation through quantitative methods with a special focus on crop production Finally it analyzes the factors that influence adaptive behavior In so doing it challenges the traditional approach of adaptation research and brings in a conceptual framework borrowed from psychosocial theory and empirically tests the approach in explaining adaptive behavior of farmers
