Handbook Of Affective Sciences Series In Affective Science:

Handbook of Affective Sciences Richard J Davidson, Klaus R Sherer, H. Hill Goldsmith, 2009-05-21 One hundred stereotype maps glazed with the most exquisite human prejudice especially collected for you by Yanko Tsvetkov author of the viral Mapping Stereotypes project Satire and cartography rarely come in a single package but in the Atlas of Prejudice they successfully blend in a work of art that is both funny and thought provoking The book is based on Mapping Stereotypes Yanko Tsvetkov's critically acclaimed project that became a viral Internet sensation in 2009 A reliable weapon against bigots of all kinds it serves as an inexhaustible source of much needed argumentation and occasionally as a nice slab of paper that can be used to smack them across the face whenever reasoning becomes utterly impossible The Complete Collection version of the Atlas contains all maps from the previously published two volumes and adds twenty five new ones wrapping the best selling series in a single extended edition

Elicitation and Assessment James A. Coan, John J.B. Allen, 2007-04-19 Emotion research has become a mature branch of psychology with its own standardized measures induction procedures data analysis challenges and sub disciplines During the last decade a number of books addressing major questions in the study of emotion have been published in response to a rapidly increasing demand that has been fueled by an increasing number of psychologists whose research either focus on or involve the study of emotion Very few of these books however have presented an explicit discussion of the tools for conducting research despite the facts that the study of emotion frequently requires highly specialized procedures instruments and coding strategies and that the field has reached a place where a large number of excellent elicitation procedures and assessment instruments have been developed and validated Emotion Elicitation and Assessment corrects this oversight in the literature by organizing and detailing all the major approaches and instruments for the study of emotion It is the most complete reference for methods and resources in the field and will serve as a pragmatic resource for emotion researchers by providing easy access to a host of scales stimuli coding systems assessment tools and innovative methodologies This handbook will help to advance research in emotion by encouraging researchers to take greater advantage of standard and well researched approaches which will increase both the productivity in the field and the speed and accuracy with which research can be communicated Performing Organizational Paradoxes Gail T. Fairhurst, Linda L. Putnam, 2023-09-08 Performing Organizational Paradoxes takes a constitutive process approach to organizational paradoxes It underscores the performative nature of paradox through underlying dialectical tensions its sociomaterial foundations and power features that bring paradoxes to life sustain them and enable their transformation The book first situates a constitutive approach in the extant organizational paradox literature by broadening the constitutive approach and addressing the many debates and inaccuracies around it For the novice several early chapters devote themselves to considering how paradoxical tensions present themselves invite responses and interrelate through their organizing outcomes For the advanced latter chapters consider the ubiquity of power and paradox how bodies escape the quarantine of their paradox narratives how inventive category work can resist power imbued paradoxes and an agenda for future research that challenges scholars to do more on the process side of paradox Filling an important gap in the existing literature this book will be a key resource for scholars and students in the fields of communication management educational administration organizational psychology and any other fields that study organizations The Routledge Companion to Marketing Research Len Tiu Wright, Luiz Moutinho, Merlin Stone, Richard P. Bagozzi, 2021-06-27 This single volume reference provides an alternative to traditional marketing research methods handbooks focusing entirely on the new and innovative methods and technologies that are transforming marketing research and practice Including original contributions and case studies from leading global specialists this handbook covers many pioneering methods such as Methods for the analysis of user and customer generated data including opinion mining and sentiment analysis Big data Neuroscientific techniques and physiological measures Voice prints Human computer interaction Emerging approaches such as shadowing netnographies and ethnographies Transcending the old divisions between qualitative and quantitative research methods this book is an essential tool for market researchers in academia and practice

The Emotional Brain and the Guilty Mind Federica Coppola, 2021-02-11 This book seeks to reframe the normative narrative of the culpable person in American criminal law through a more humanising lens It embraces such a reframed narrative to revise the criteria of the current voluntarist architecture of culpability and to advance a paradigm of punishment that positions social rehabilitation as its core principle The book constructs this narrative by considering behavioural and neuroscientific insights into the functions of emotions and socio environmental factors within moral behaviour in social settings Hence it suggests culpability notions that reflect a more contextualised view of human conduct and argues that such revised notions are better suited to the principle of personal guilt Furthermore it suggests a model of punishment that values the dynamic power of change of individuals and acknowledges the importance of social relationships and positive environments to foster patterns of social re integration Ultimately this book argues that the potential adoption of the proposed models of culpability and punishment which view people through a more comprehensive lens may be a key factor for turning criminal justice into a less punitive more inclusionary and non stigmatising system

The Social Nature of Emotion Expression Ursula Hess, Shlomo Hareli, 2019-12-12 This book provides an overview of theoretical thinking about the communicative scope of emotional expressions as well as an overview of the state of the art research in emotional psychology For many years research in emotional psychology has been primarily concerned with the labeling of emotion expressions and the link between emotion expressions and the expresser's internal state Following recent trends in research devoting specific attention to the social signal value of emotions contributors emphasize the nature of emotion expressions as information about the person and the situation including the social norms and standards relevant to the situation Focusing on the role of emotion expressions as communicative acts this timely book seeks to advance a line of theoretical thinking that goes beyond the view of emotion expressions as symptoms of an intrapersonal phenomenon to focus on their interpersonal function The Social Nature of Emotion Expression will be of interest to researchers in emotional psychology as well as specialists in nonverbal behavior communication linguistics ethology and ethnography

Organizing through Empathy Kathryn Pavlovich, Keiko Krahne, 2013-09-11 Empathy dissolves the boundaries between self and others and feelings of altruism towards others are activated This process results in more compassionate and caring contexts as well as helping others in times of suffering This book provides evidence from neuroscience and quantum physics that it is empathy that connects humanity and that this awareness can create a more just society It extends interest in values based management exploring the intellectual physical ecological spiritual and aesthetic well being of organizations and society rather than the more common management principles of maximising profit and efficiency This book challenges the existing paradigm of capitalism by providing scientific evidence and empirical data that empathy is the most important organizing mechanism The book is unique in that it provides a comprehensive review of the transformational qualities of empathy in personal organizational and local contexts Integrating an understanding based upon scientific studies of why the fields of positive psychology and organizational scholarship are important it examines the evidence from neuroscience and presents leading edge studies from quantum physics with implications for the organizational field Together the chapters in this book attempt to demonstrate how empathy helps in the reduction of human suffering and the creation of a more just society

Preserving Brain Health in a Toxic Age Arnold R. Eiser, 2021-10-11 Learn how to reduce the impact of environmental toxins on brain development functioning and health The human brain is a marvelously complex organ that has evolved great new capabilities over the past 250 000 years During most of that period daily life was vastly different from our lives today Exercise was not optional one literally had to run for one's life livelihood and sustenance The Stone Age diet was not a fad but the only food available Periods of fasting arose from food scarcity and hence the earliest keto diet was commonplace Life changed greatly with the advent of agriculture and industry Diseases that were previously unknown or uncommon began to surface as by products of civilization's advance Changes in our ways of living have altered the nature of illness as well as its diagnosis and treatment From the 1970s to the present tens of thousands of chemicals with applications in all aspects of our lives have grown more than 40 fold Exposure to these new substances has impacted many aspects of our health especially the delicate parts of the brain and nervous system In parallel with the changes in our environment we have seen the growth of brain disorders including Alzheimer's Disease and autism in previously unimaginable ways Here Arnold Eiser elucidates some features of diseases affecting the nervous system that are increasing in incidence with a focus on those disorders that appear related to environmental toxins that modern life has introduced He takes readers behind the scenes of the science itself to discover the human stories involved in the discovery and management of these illnesses Offering insights from a variety of scientific disciplines Eiser clearly and succinctly illustrates the impact of toxins on our brains and how we might better protect ourselves from negative outcomes With interviews from leading authorities in the field of neuroscience environmental toxicology integrative medicine neurology immunology geriatrics and microbiology re the gut microbiome this book offers a robust understanding of the complex threats to our brains and the healthy brain's dependence upon many other systems within our bodies This is a voyage of discovery into the science history and human struggle regarding disorders challenging the brain as well as their possible prevention

Emotion in the Digital Age Darren Ellis, Ian Tucker, 2020-10-08 Emotion in the Digital Age examines how emotion is understood researched and experienced in relation to practices of digitisation and datafication said to constitute a digital age The overarching concern of the book is with how emotion operates in through and with digital technologies The digital landscape is vast and as such the authors focus on four key areas of digital practice artificial intelligence social media mental health and surveillance Interrogating each area shows how emotion is commodified symbolised shared and experienced and as such operates in multiple dimensions This includes tracing the emotional impact of early mass media e.g cinema through to efforts to programme AI agents with skills in emotional communication e.g mental health chatbots This timely study offers theoretical empirical and practical insight regarding the ways that digitisation is changing knowledge and experience of emotion and affective life Crucially this involves both the multiple versions of digital technologies designed to engage with emotion e.g emotional AI through to the broader emotional impact of living in digitally saturated environments The authors argue that this constitutes a psycho social way of being in which digital technologies and emotion operate as key dimensions of the ways we simultaneously relate to ourselves as individual subjects and to others as part of collectives As such Emotion in the Digital noncognitive theories of emotion Her solutions include a revolutionary unifying interdisciplinary taxonomy of theories of emotion which allows one to understand the discourse in the science of emotion as a debate between four fundamental types of theories realism instrumentalism eliminativism and eliminative realism Her original proposal for a conception of intentionality that makes sense of our ordinary intuitions is also combined with her comprehensive account of rationality to articulate a groundbreaking understanding of the structure of human rationality All of the contributions made herein together provide the foundations for a profound understanding of emotions including as a kind of embodied language

Emotional Intelligence - Understanding, Influencing, and Utilizing Emotions Éric Laurent, 2024-07-10

Intelligence has long been a focal point and an explanatory framework of performance and behavior for researchers in psychology and cognitive science However the concept of intelligence has been explored through various metaphors and models In 1990 Salovey and Mayer coined the term emotional intelligence EI with respect to a set of processes consisting of identifying and regulating emotions and more generally adapting behavior to this emotional context Three decades later this book compiles seven chapters introducing the most influential models of emotional intelligence stressing the developmental trajectories that are related to EI dynamics as individuals age and delving into cognitive and neural activities associated with EI Additionally the book discusses the application of EI research to the contexts of everyday life choices economic decision making and neuropsychological practice Altogether the various chapters also provide the opportunity to reconsider the intricate nature of what has often been considered separately as cognitive and affective processes

Doing Theology in Pandemics Zachary Moon, 2022-04-01 The COVID 19 era will be remembered not only for the tragic global public health crisis but also for the continued police violence against persons of color the courageous activism that continues to rise up to confront racialized violence in all its forms and the perpetuation of white nationalist rhetoric from the highest government elected offices Everywhere we look we find trauma and pain and we find resilience and resolve This volume featuring leading theological scholars and religious leaders is rich in analysis of the plagues we are facing and equally rich in the resources practices and inspirations that will carry our efforts to build a more just world
