Linville,2004-06-01 History films were a highly popular genre in the 1990s as Hollywood looked back at significant and troubling episodes from World War II the Cold War era and the techno war in the Persian Gulf As filmmakers attempted to confront and manage intractable elements of the American past such as the trauma of war and the legacy of racism Susan Linville argues that a surprising casualty occurred the erasure of relevant facets of contemporary women's history. In this book, Linville offers a sustained critique of the history film and its reduction of women to figures of ambivalence or absence. Historicizing and adapting Freud's concept of the uncanny and its relationship to the maternal body as the first home she offers theoretically sophisticated readings of the films Midnight Clear, Saving Private Ryan, The Thin Red Line, Nixon, Courage Under Fire, Lone Star, and Limbo. She also demonstrates that the uncanny is not only a source of anxiety but also potentially a progressive force for eroding nostalgic ideals of nation and gender. Linville concludes with a close reading of a recent 9/11 documentary showing how the patterns and motifs of 1990s history films informed it and what that means for our future.

Dramatic Story Structure Edward J. Fink, 2014-01-03. A successful screenplay starts with an understanding of the fundamentals of dramatic story structure. In this practical introduction, Edward J. Fink condenses centuries of writing about dramatic theory into ten concise and readable chapters, providing the tools for building an engaging narrative and turning it into an agent-ready script. Fink devotes chapters to expanding on the six basic elements of drama from Aristotle's Poetics: plot, character, theme, dialogue, sound, and spectacle; the theory and structure of comedy; as well as the concepts of unity, metaphor, style, universality, and catharsis. Key terms and discussion questions encourage readers to think through the components of compelling stories and put them into practice, and script formatting guidelines ensure your finished product looks polished and professional. Dramatic Story Structure is an essential resource not only for aspiring screenwriters but also for experienced practitioners in need of a refresher on the building blocks of storytelling.

The Origins of the Film Star System Andrew Shail, 2019-05-30. Drawing on a wide range of archival sources, Andrew Shail traces the emergence of film stardom in Europe and North America in the early 20th century. Modifying and supplementing Richard deCordova's account of the birth of the US star system, Shail describes the complex set of economic circumstances that led film studios and actors to consent to the adoption of a star system. He then explores the film industry's turn from 1908 to making character-based series films. He details how these characters both prefigured and precipitated the star system demonstrating that series characters and the firmament of film stars are functionally equivalent and shows how openly fictional characters still provide the model for real film stars

The Philosophy of Documentary Film David LaRocca, 2016-12-20 The spirit that founded the volume and guided its development is radically inter and transdisciplinary Dispatches have arrived from anthropology communications English film studies including theory history criticism literary studies including theory history criticism media and screen studies cognitive cultural studies narratology philosophy poetics politics and political theory and as a special aspect of the volume theorist filmmakers make their thoughts known as well Consequently the critical reflections gathered here are decidedly pluralistic and heterogeneous inviting not bracketing or partitioning the dynamism and diversity of the arts humanities social sciences and even natural sciences in so far as we are biological beings who are trying to track our cognitive and perceptual understanding of a nonbiological thing namely film whether celluloid based or in digital form these disciplines so habitually cordoned off from one another are brought together into a shared conversation about a common object and domain of investigation This book will be of interest to theorists and practitioners of nonfiction film to emerging and established scholars contributing to the secondary literature and to those who are intrigued by the kinds of questions and claims that seem native to nonfiction film and who may wish to explore some critical responses to them written in engaging language

Animating Film Theory Karen Redrobe, 2014-03-21 Animating Film Theory provides an enriched understanding of the relationship between two of the most unwieldy and unstable organizing concepts in cinema and media studies animation and film theory For the most part animation has been excluded from the purview of film theory The contributors to this collection consider the reasons for this marginalization while also bringing attention to key historical contributions across a wide range of animation practices geographic and linguistic terrains and historical periods They delve deep into questions of how animation might best be understood as well as how it relates to concepts such as the still the moving image the frame animism and utopia The contributors take on the kinds of theoretical questions that have remained underexplored because as Karen Beckman argues scholars of cinema and media studies have allowed themselves to be constrained by too narrow a sense of what cinema is This collection reanimates and expands film studies by taking the concept of animation seriously Contributors Karen
