The book covers youth sport in all its forms from competitive game contests and conventional sport to recreational activities, exercise and lifestyle sport and at all levels from elite competition to leisure time activities and school physical education. It explores youth sport across the world in developing and developed countries and touches on some of the most significant themes and issues in contemporary sport studies including physical activity and health, lifelong participation, talent identification and development and safeguarding and abuse. No other book brings together in one place such a breadth and depth of material on youth sport or the engagement of young people in physical activity. Clark, 2011-03-06 Nerves make us bomb job interviews, first dates and SATs. With a presentation looming at work, fear robs us of sleep for days. It paralyzes seasoned concert musicians and freezes rookie cops in tight situations. And yet not everyone cracks. Soldiers keep their heads in combat, firemen rush into burning buildings, unflappable trauma doctors juggle patient after patient. It's not that these people feel no fear; often in fact they're riddled with it. In Nerve, Taylor Clark draws upon cutting edge science and painstaking reporting to explore the very heart of panic and poise. Using a wide range of case studies, Clark overturns the popular myths about anxiety and fear to explain why some people thrive under pressure while others falter and how we can go forward with steadier nerves and increased confidence.
