Religion and Ecological Sustainability in China James Miller, Dan Smyer Yu, Peter van der Veer, 2014-04-29 This book sheds light on the social imagination of nature and environment in contemporary China It demonstrates how the urgent debate on how to create an ecologically sustainable future for the world's most populous country is shaped by its complex engagement with religious traditions competing visions of modernity and globalization and by engagement with minority nationalities who live in areas of outstanding natural beauty on China's physical and social margins The book develops a comprehensive understanding of contemporary China that goes beyond the tradition/modernity dichotomy and illuminates the diversity of narratives and worldviews that inform contemporary Chinese understandings of and engagements with nature and environment

A Communion of Subjects Paul Waldau, Kimberley Patton, 2009-05-22 A Communion of Subjects is the first comparative and interdisciplinary study of the conceptualization of animals in world religions Scholars from a wide range of disciplines including Thomas Berry cultural history Wendy Doniger study of myth Elizabeth Lawrence veterinary medicine ritual studies Marc Bekoff cognitive ethology Marc Hauser behavioral science Steven Wise animals and law Peter Singer animals and ethics and Jane Goodall primatology consider how major religious traditions have incorporated animals into their belief systems myths rituals and art Their findings offer profound insights into the relationship between human beings and animals and a deeper understanding of the social and ecological web in which we all live

Religion and Ecological Crisis Md. Abu Sayem, 2022-09-02 Religion and Ecological Crisis delves into the complex relationship between religions and ecology presenting Christian and Islamic perspectives on ecological issues through the work of John Boswell Cobb and Seyyed Hossein Nasr It examines how faith traditions of the world see and respond to our current unprecedented climate change issues This is the first comparative study of Cobb and Nasr's eco-religious understanding and explores how their prescriptions can contribute alternatively to techno-scientific initiatives in environmental sustainability Taking Cobb's economism and Nasr's scientism as the key concepts for surveying the roots of the ecological crisis the book offers interdisciplinary and interreligious insights into the debates about ecological equilibrium motivational awareness in human mind and about entanglements between religion and the environment This will be an insightful resource for policy makers faith leaders and for academics working in Environmental Studies and Religious Studies

Animals and World Religions Lisa Kemmerer, 2012-01-19 Despite increasing public attention to animal suffering human beings continue to exploit billions of animals in factory farms medical laboratories and elsewhere This wide-ranging study shows how spiritual teachings in seven major religious traditions can help people consider their ethical obligations towards other creatures

Our Traumatized Planet Mark Q. Sutton, E. N. Anderson, 2024-11-11 Our Traumatized Planet explores the state of the environment and some of the major issues faced today and asks what we can learn and apply from contemporary traditional peoples ancient societies and our own successes and failures Providing straightforward information on some of the serious environmental issues we face so that non scientists can understand them this book explores what is at stake so that we can choose to make a difference Combining the latest data from environmental anthropological and archaeological science allows for fresh perspectives and an empirical approach to describing these problems that eliminates hopeful denial speculation wishful thinking and downright lies Using archaeological data the authors provide examples of success and failures in the past that could be used to make decisions about the future They also highlight examples of how traditional peoples past and present have dealt with these same issues Seeing the current crisis through the eyes of two experienced anthropologists broadens our understanding and allows us to set contemporary issues in the context of the past and traditional knowledge However this is not a book of easy solutions from the past to solve our future rather it is an impassioned plea to people today to read and understand what state the planet is in and encourage them to find the will to change This book is for students of archaeology anthropology and environmental science and all those wanting to in a clear and readable way understand the fate of our planet

Pilgrims and Pilgrimages as Peacemakers in Christianity, Judaism and Islam Antón M. Pazos, 2016-04-08

Pilgrimages can be analysed as acts of conflict such as the Crusades or also as platforms for relationship building and rapprochement between religions With a set of contributions from leading experts in the field this book explores the concept of pilgrimage in Christianity Judaism and Islam Some specific examples of pilgrimages that helped to strengthen links between different religions or civilisations are explored ranging from Europe to Asia and from the Middle Ages to the twentieth century Even though every pilgrimage that is investigated here has helped to link different worlds the case studies show that this relationship rarely led to a better in inter understanding Nowadays peaceful coexistence seems to be its greatest achievement
