Islam Europe's Second Religion New Social Cultural And Political Landscape Praeger 2002 Paperback:

Islam, Europe's Second Religion Shireen Hunter, 2002-07-30 Islam is slowly becoming part of Europe's social cultural and to some degree political landscape This work considers the best way of accommodating Islam in Europe and establishing cooperative relations between Muslims and the followers of other religious or secular value systems Islam in the

Nordic and Baltic Countries Göran Larsson, 2009-05-07 Although Muslims are now an important presence in Europe little is known about the Muslim communities that exist in the Nordic and Baltic regions of Europe This is the first comprehensive and detailed study of the history context and development of Islamic institutions and Muslim groups in Sweden Norway Denmark and Finland and includes chapters on Islam in Estonia Latvia Lithuania Iceland and the Faroe Islands With contributions by academics with long experience of the Muslim communities in question based on original research this volume presents new and important perspectives within a comparative and regional framework Islam in Nordic and Baltic Countries will be an important reference work for students of European history and Islamology and will be valuable to all researchers and scholars interested in the development of Islam and Muslim communities at the strategic heart of Northern Europe Islamic Movements of Europe Frank Peter, Rafael Ortega, 2014-09-08 Islam in Europe and Islamophobia are subjects of vital global importance which currently preoccupy policy makers and academics alike Through the examination of various European Muslim groups and institutions that have branched off from Islamic movements including the Muslim Brotherhood Hizb ut Tahrir and Jama'at al Islami this book outlines the configuration of social political and religious processes that have given rise to new kinds of European Muslim organisations The authors offer a new perspective on these Muslim groups and seek to reclaim them from the often highly charged public debates by placing them within the context of their origins as politicised religious movements on the one hand and their ongoing incorporation into European societal structures on the other They also consider the relationship of these organisations to their parent movements and examine the presence of Islam in European education and higher education institutions Taking into account the connection between Islamic movements and the perceived surge of Islamophobia in Europe this book does not debate the question of whether these groups fit into normative or cultural structures of European nation states but rather examines how these structures have changed through their interaction with these groups and the growing Muslim population within Europe It does not consider political Islam as the antithesis to a refined notion of secularism but as a form of public religion which contributes to the ever changing structure of Europe's secular regimes Featuring the work of more than 40 scholars from around the world this is the comprehensive guide to Islamic movements in Europe offering original definitive perspectives on Muslims and Islam in Europe today It will be essential reading for policy makers political commentators and scholars alike Islam and the Question of Reform Benjamin MacQueen, Rebecca Barlow, Kylie Baxter, 2008-12-15 Reform by definition is not a complete break with tradition but a determination by scholars activists politicians and critical thinkers to re claim the tenets of their faith Muslim communities have historically displayed a tendency to preserve the status quo By contrast the individuals and movements in Islam and the Question of Reform are determined often at great personal risk to push aside existing political and social elites and the historically accepted interpretations of Islam and its place in society The perspectives examined in this volume avoid superficial or apologetic examinations of Islam's political and social role Instead they meticulously scrutinise the religion's public role often questioning the validity of dogmas that have acted as tools of empowerment for existing elites for centuries Islamic Studies Series Volume 1 The SAGE Handbook of Islamic Studies Akbar S Ahmed, Tamara Sonn, 2010-04-22 a welcome addition to the already available introductory works on Islam The chapters of the book combine depth of analysis and erudition on a wide range of subjects Thus in a single volume one finds several superbly written papers not only on the foundations of Islam and the manifestations of Islamic culture but also on issues which are at the centre of contemporary debates among Muslims such as multiculturalism social justice democracy and diversity As a sourcebook this work is equally useful for students academicians and general readers Zafar Ishaq Ansari Director Islamic Research Institute International Islamic University Islamic Studies is at a critical moment in its history It seeks both to maintain its rich history and to engage with other sometimes dominant cultural and political studies This tension is producing complex changes in both the theory and the practice of Islamic Studies This timely and stimulating Handbook edited by world class experts in the field provides a comprehensive guide to Islamic Studies today It examines the main issues in the field and explores the key debates It provides readers with an indispensable balanced guide to the roots of Islam and the challenges it faces in the twenty first century The Handbook includes discussions of Islam as a community of discourse and a global system Islam diaspora and multiculturalism The Qur'an today Islam as a moral and judicial system Islam and politics Islam and culture Diversities and Islam Concise level headed and penetrating this collection will be of interest to anyone who studies contemporary Islam It brings together an unparalleled collection of international scholars who illuminate some of the most urgent and complex issues in the world today Islamic Traditions and Muslim Youth in Norway Christine Jacobsen, 2010-12-17 A major question regarding Islam in Europe concerns the religiosity of Muslim youth a category currently epitomizing both the fears and hopes of multicultural Europe How are Islamic traditions engaged and reworked by young people born and educated in European societies and which modes of religiosity will they shape in the future Providing an in depth ethnographic account from Norway this book engages comparative research on Islam and young Muslims from across Europe focusing on Islamic revitalization Muslim identity politics changing configurations of religious authority and the formation of gendered religious subjectivities The author discusses anthropological and other social science theorizing in order to examine religious continuities and discontinuities in a context of international migration globalization and secular modernity Muslims in Western Politics Abdulkader H. Sinno, 2009 Looking closely at relations between Muslims and their host countries Abdulkader H Sinno and an international group of scholars examine questions of political representation identity politics civil liberties immigration and security issues While many have problematized Muslims in the West this volume takes a unique stance by viewing Muslims as a normative and even positive influence in Western politics Squarely political and transatlantic in scope the essays in this collected work focus on Islam and Muslim citizens in Europe and the Americas since 9 11 the European bombings and the recent riots in France Main topics include Muslim political participation and activism perceptions about Islam and politics Western attitudes about Muslim visibility in the political arena radicalization of Muslims in an age of apparent shrinking of civil liberties and personal security in politically uneasy times

Sufis in Western Society Markus Dressler, Ron Geaves, Gritt Klinkhammer, 2009-06-02 In recent years Sufism has undergone something of a revival as a spiritual alternative to other manifestations of Islam This book investigates the development of Sufism in Western societies with a regional focus on North America and Europe Exploring a number of issues relating to the dynamic tensions between religious globalization processes and specific sacred localities this book looks at the formation of Sufi movements that have migrated from their place of origin to become global religious networks Sufi groups are highly differentiated and often inaccessible so the origins and development of Sufism in the West have not been widely studied Employing a comparative approach based on regional fieldwork and case studies this book addresses theoretical issues and gives a comprehensive analysis of distinct communities and the development of regional branches of Sufi orders providing an international perspective on Sufism in the West With contributions from well known international experts on the topic the book addresses Sufi orders in the context of the transnational networks in which they are operating and the constraints of the localities in which they live This book will be of interest to scholars and students of religion Islam and Sufism in particular

Muslims at the Margins of Europe Tuomas Martikainen, José Mapril, Adil Hussain Khan, 2019-07-29 This volume focuses on Muslims in Finland Greece Ireland and Portugal representing the four corners of the European Union today It highlights how Muslim experiences can be understood in relation to a country's particular historical routes political economies colonial and post colonial legacies as well as other factors such as church state relations the role of secularism's and urbanisation This volume also reveals the incongruous nature of the fact that national particularities shaping European Muslim experiences cannot be understood independently of European and indeed global dynamics This makes it even more important to consider every national context when analysing patterns in European Islam especially those that have yet to be fully elaborated The chapters in this volume demonstrate the contradictory dynamics of European Muslim contexts that are simultaneously distinct yet similar to the now familiar ones of Western Europe's most populous countries

The Oxford Handbook of European Islam Jocelyne Cesari, 2015 For centuries Muslim countries and Europe have engaged one another through theological dialogues diplomatic missions political rivalries and power struggles In the last thirty years due in large part to globalization and migration from Islamic countries to the West what was previously an engagement across national and cultural boundaries has increasingly become an internalized encounter within Europe itself Questions of the Hijab in schools freedom of expression in the wake of the Danish Cartoon crisis and the role of Shari'a have come to the forefront of contemporary European discourse The Oxford Handbook of European Islam is the first collection to present a comprehensive approach to the multiple and changing ways Islam has been studied across European countries Parts one to three address the state of knowledge of Islam and Muslims within a selection of European countries while presenting a critical view of the most up to date data specific to each country These chapters analyze the immigration cycles and policies related to the presence of Muslims tackling issues such as discrimination post colonial identity adaptation and assimilation The thematic chapters in parts four and five examine secularism radicalization Shari'a Hijab and Islamophobia with the goal of synthesizing different national discussions into a more comparative theoretical framework The Handbook attempts to balance cutting edge assessment with the knowledge that the content itself will eventually be superseded by events Featuring eighteen newly commissioned essays by noted scholars in the field this volume will provide an excellent resource for students and scholars interested in European Studies immigration Islamic studies and the sociology of religion

Benchmarking Muslim Well-being in Europe Pamela Irving Jackson, Peter Doerschler, 2012 This highly topical book aims to undermine unsubstantiated myths by examining Muslim integration in Germany France the Netherlands and the United Kingdom states which dominate the debate on minority integration and the practice of Muslim religious traditions These nations have a range of alternative relationships between religion and the state as well as strategies for coordinating individuals' ethnic and state identities Using the European Parliament's benchmarking guidelines surveys and other non official data the authors find that in some areas Muslims are in fact more integrated than popularly assumed and suggest that instead of failing to integrate Muslims find their access to integration blocked in ways that reduce their life chances in the societies in which they are now permanent residents The book will have an impact on research and policy especially with the commencement of the EU wide integration benchmarking effort and will be an excellent resource for researchers academics and policy makers

The Muslim Question in Canada Abdolmohammad Kazemipour, 2014-05-20 To those who study the integration of immigrants in Western countries both Muslims and Canada are seen to be exceptions to the rule Muslims are often perceived as unable or unwilling to integrate mostly due to their religious beliefs Canada is portrayed as a model for successful integration This book addresses the intersection of these two types of exceptionalism through an empirical study of the experiences of Muslims in Canada Drawing on data from large scale surveys as well as face to face interviews Kazemipur draws a detailed picture of four major domains of immigrant integration institutional media economic and social communal His findings indicate that the integration of Muslims in Canada is not problematic in the institutional and media domains However there are serious problems the economic and social domains which need to be addressed A fresh account of the lives and experiences of Muslim immigrants in Canada this book gets at the roots of the so called Muslim question in Canada Replete with practical implications the analysis shows that instead of fixating on religion the focus should be on economic and social challenges faced by Muslims in Canada

The Routledge Handbook of Muslim-Jewish Relations Josef Meri, 2016-06-23 The Routledge Handbook of Muslim Jewish Relations invites readers to deepen their understanding of the historical social cultural and political themes that impact modern day perceptions of interfaith dialogue The volume is designed to illuminate positive encounters between Muslims and Jews as well as points of conflict within a historical framework Among other goals the volume seeks to correct common misperceptions about the history of Muslim Jewish relations by complicating familiar political narratives to include dynamics such as the cross influence of literary and intellectual traditions Reflecting unique and original collaborations between internationally renowned contributors the book is intended to spark further collaborative and constructive conversation and scholarship in the academy and beyond

Turkish Germans in the Federal Republic of Germany Sarah Thomsen Vierra, 2018-10-25 As the largest national group of guest workers in Germany the Turks became a visible presence in local neighbourhoods and schools and had diverse social cultural and religious needs Focussing on West Berlin Sarah Thomsen Vierra explores the history of Turkish immigrants and their children from the early days of their participation in the post war guest worker program to the formation of multi generational communities Both German and Turkish sources help to uncover how the first and second generations created spaces of belonging for themselves within and alongside West German society while also highlighting the factors that influenced that process from individual agency and community dynamics to larger institutional factors such as educational policy and city renovation projects By examining the significance of daily interactions at the workplace in the home in the neighbourhood and in places of worship we see that spatial belonging was profoundly linked to local level daily life and experiences

Muslim Diaspora Haideh Moghissi, 2007-01-24 Muslim Diaspora identifies those aspects of migratory experience that shatter or reinforce a group's attachment to its homeland and affect its readiness to adapt to a new country The contributors to this collection examine many dimensions of life in the Diaspora and demonstrate that identity is always constructed in relation to others They show how religious identity in diaspora is mediated by many other factors such as Gender Class Ethnic origin National status A central aim is to understand Diaspora as an agent of social and cultural change particularly in its transformative impact on women Throughout the book advances a more nuanced understanding of the notions of ethnicity difference and rights It makes an important contribution to understanding the complex processes of formation and adoption of transnational identities and the challenging contradictions of a world that is being rapidly globalized in economic and political terms and yet is increasingly localized and differentiated ethnically and culturally Muslim Diaspora includes contributions from outstanding scholars and is an invaluable text for students in sociology anthropology geography cultural studies Islamic studies women s studies as well as the general reader

The Emancipation of Europe's Muslims Jonathan Laurence,2012 The Emancipation of Europe s Muslims traces how governments across Western Europe have responded to the growing presence of Muslim immigrants in their countries over the past fifty years Drawing on hundreds of in depth interviews with government officials and religious leaders in France Germany Italy the Netherlands the United Kingdom Morocco and Turkey Jonathan Laurence challenges the widespread notion that Europe s Muslim minorities represent a threat to liberal democracy He documents how European governments in the 1970s and 1980s excluded Islam from domestic institutions instead inviting foreign powers like Saudi Arabia Algeria and Turkey to oversee the practice of Islam among immigrants in European host societies But since the 1990s amid rising integration problems and fears about terrorism governments have aggressively stepped up efforts to reach out to their Muslim communities and incorporate them into the institutional political and cultural fabrics of European democracy The Emancipation of Europe s Muslims places these efforts particularly the government led creation of Islamic councils within a broader theoretical context and gleans insights from government interactions with groups such as trade unions and Jewish communities at previous critical junctures in European state building By examining how state mosque relations in Europe are linked to the ongoing struggle for religious and political authority in the Muslim majority world Laurence sheds light on the geopolitical implications of a religious minority s transition from outsiders to citizens This book offers a much needed reassessment that foresees the continuing integration of Muslims into European civil society and politics in the coming decades

Philanthropy in the Muslim World Shariq A. Siddiqui,David A. Campbell,2023-06-01 Philanthropy plays an essential role in Muslim practice around the world Using a new framing Philanthropy in the Muslim World contributes to the literature by adding Muslim majority countries that have not been previously included in cross national philanthropy volumes as well as countries that have important Muslim minority communities

Rethinking Islamism beyond jihadi violence Elisa Orofino, 2023-05-23 For several years now Islamism has been associated with jihadism and violent extremism both in academia and in contemporary political debates However this association can be misleading Islamism has much deeper roots than jihadi terrorism and it stands as a powerful and complex ideology inspiring thoughts actions and groups all over the world Emerging as a protest for justice ideology claiming freedom against Western colonisation of the Muslim world Islamism has triggered both individuals and groups worldwide since the early 1900s Almost as a sacred ideology based on the need to revive Islam as the only saving grace for Muslims around the world Islamism started to be widely associated with jihadism after 9 11 Before then Islamism was not automatically related to terrorism but to resistance Given that terrorists are only a small and definite portion of Islamists this volume aims to re focus research on Islamism beyond jihadism by collecting relevant contributions on Islamist but non violent organisations More precisely this volume innovatively contributes to current academic debates by exploring the origins of Islamism and the differences between jihadism the evolution of Islamism over time and places and the role played by the most influential non jihadist Islamist organisations active today as powerful non state actors
