Kevin Reinhart,2020-06-11 This book is designed to serve as a text for courses on modern Islam It challenges misleading questions which foster assumptions of Islam as a monolithic essence to instead argue that Islam like all religions is complex and thus best understood through analogy with language Drinking, Fasting, and Tattoos: Syrian Women's Lived Islam Ozlem Ezer,2023-01-01 Drinking Fasting and Tattoos reveals the problematics of Refugee and Forced Migration Studies via Lived Religion LR by using qualitative and collaborative methodologies It offers LR as a potential recovery for the tensions across different disciplines of gender and women s studies theology migration studies and religious studies It also problematizes major assumptions about Islam that have led to the current scholarship such as churchification of Islam in Europe It breaks a tripled silence around women refugees and unaffiliated Muslims It draws attention to permeable boundaries between academic disciplines secular and religious researcher and researched divides while challenging current paradigms in academia particularly the ones that still validate Euro American frameworks More specifically Syrian women refugees whose representations can be expanded to Muslim women migrants in the Global North present firsthand accounts regarding their faith based practices and interpretations of Islam The accounts reveal empowerment resilience and post traumatic growth and thus agency in unlikely places Everyday Lived Islam in Europe Nathal M. Dessing,Nadia Jeldtoft,Linda Woodhead,2016-04-22 This book offers a new direction for the study of contemporary Islam by focusing on what being Muslim means in people's everyday lives. It complements existing studies by focusing not on mosque-going activist Muslims but on how people live out their faith in schools, workplaces, and homes and in dealing with problems of health, wellbeing, and relationships. As well as offering fresh empirical studies of everyday lived Islam, the book offers a new approach which calls for the study of official religion and everyday tactical religion in relation to one another. It discusses what this involves, the methods it requires, and how it relates to existing work in Islamic Studies.

Traditional Tunes and Lived Religion in the Protestant Church on the Central Moluccas, Indonesia Jip Lensink, 2025-10-01. In the southeast of Indonesia, on the Moluccas, theologians are developing contextual theologies for the Moluccan Protestant church. The Moluccas were colonized by the Dutch for more than three centuries. As an effort of religious decolonization, Moluccan theologians aim to better connect Christianity with the cultural realities of congregants. This book is about the contextualization of church music. Christian Izaac Tamaela proposed and instigated the transposition of Moluccan traditional music to the Moluccan Protestant church. In the book, the author asks how traditional music, as framed within contextual Moluccan theology, is interrelated with lived religion. Vivid descriptions of liturgical practices, music traditions, and personal encounters map the entanglements between Moluccan culture, Moluccan Protestantism, and Moluccan music. The author traces the theological idea of traditional church music to lived religious practices and attitudes among ministers, musicians, and congregants. The resonances and dissonances of this process show the continuous transformation of Moluccan traditional music. For a selection of the audio-visual material, visit the website www.jiplensink.nl.

Non-Western Educational Traditions Timothy G. Reagan, 2004-09-22. This text provides a brief yet comprehensive overview of a number of non-Western approaches to educational thought and practice. Its premise is that understanding the ways that other people educate their children, as well as what counts for them as education, may help us think more clearly about some of our own assumptions and values and to become more open to alternative viewpoints about important educational matters. The value of this informative, mind-opening text for preservice and in-service teacher education courses is enhanced by Questions for Discussion and Reflection and Recommended Further Readings included in each chapter. New in the Third Edition: Chapter 2, 'Conceptualizing Culture: I, We, and The Other' is new to this edition. It is a response to feedback about the problems inherent in our general discourse about culture and, in addition, provides an example of a culture that is near to us but nevertheless alien: the culture of the Deaf World. Chapter 9, which deals with Islam and traditional Muslim education, has been substantially revised. The subtitle of the Third Edition has been changed to 'Indigenous Approaches to Educational Thought and Practice', reflecting not so much a change in the emphases found in the book but rather a recognition of the growing scholarly interest in indigenous peoples, their languages, cultures, and histories. Various points throughout the text have been expanded and clarified, and chapters have been updated as needed.
