Jesus, Jacinto, and Granny's Bottom Brenda Duncan Johns, 2013-04 When I was fifteen years old, I married the boy that I had fallen in love with when I was just thirteen. Gerald was the only boy I ever truly loved, and after we married, we had to leave our little ghost town of Jacinto and move to Kenosha, Wisconsin, to make a living. I had never been more than twenty-five miles from home until then. My parents raised me in the Methodist religion, but after moving to Kenosha, I quit church completely and went deep into sin. The nightlife in the juke joints really got a hold of me, and I was lured into a life I never thought I'd live. I found out that that kind of life only leads to despair and heartbreak, and I began to wonder if God was real. Would He help a poor sinner like me? What life had in store for me proved that God is real and that He gave his only son, Jesus, so that I could have everlasting life. On my journey to find this truth, I've seen the good, the bad, and the ugly in religion. I've seen false prophets, cults, and self-loving preachers. Come walk with me on my journey. I think in the end, you will have to agree with an old Baptist preacher who once said, "I do believe that old gal is real for God."

You Did That To Me? John K. Ritz, 2011-04-27 As a business owner of a Bagel Shoppe that served many kinds of flavored and unflavored coffees, after the lunch rush you have time to sit and unwind. While the help was cleaning up and preparing for that night's bagel-making activities, I could have a quiet cup of coffee. Once in a while a parent that came to pick up their kid or spouse would sit with me while I was winding down and start a conversation. You become the bartender or should I say coffee tender or tea tender for problems of the frustrated housewife. One mother would show up almost every day looking for sympathy, telling me what happened to her but never divulging all the details. I was able to fill in most of the between-the-lines information, having somewhat of the same background as her ex-husband. That was my inspiration to write this book. You can learn a lot if you listen and weed out the one-sided opinion when you hear both sides from one person. The most important lesson to be learned here is how vulnerable a woman can be while still in a man's world. She was certain nothing like this could happen to her.
