greater understanding of his artistic identity that takes him deep into New York's hectic social whirl to London with an uninhibited group of expatriates and to Berlin lying cold and sinister under Hitler's shadow. He discovers a world plagued by political uncertainty and on the brink of transformation yet he finds within himself the capacity to meet it with optimism and a renewed love for his birthplace. He is a changed man yet a hopeful one, awake to the knowledge that one can never fully go back home to your family, back home to your childhood, away from all the strife and conflict of the world, back home to the old forms and systems of things which once seemed everlasting but which are changing all the time.
