Doumanis, 1997-06-18 This book examines the relationship between coloniser and colonised among the Italian held Dodecanese Islands between 1912 and 1943 and is based on an oral history project conducted between 1990 and 1995 Italian power is described as having been negotiated resisted and modified by locals who admired many aspects of Italian rule without according the regime any legitimacy This ethnographic history challenges standard views on Italian colonialism and Greek nationalism and reflects on contemporary questions regarding historical memory political culture and social identity

Transcultural Italies Charles Burdett, Loredana Polezzi, Barbara Spadaro, 2020 The history of Italian culture stems from multiple experiences of mobility and migration which have produced a range of narratives inside and outside Italy This collection interrogates the dynamic nature of Italian identity and culture focussing on the concepts and practices of mobility memory and translation It adopts a transnational perspective offering a fresh approach to the study of Italy and of Modern Languages

Architecture and Tourism in Italian Colonial Libya Brian McLaren, 2006 To be a tourist in Libya during the period of Italian colonization was to experience a complex negotiation of cultures Against a sturdy backdrop of indigenous culture and architecture modern metropolitan culture brought its systems of transportation and accommodation as well as new hierarchies of political and social control Architecture and Tourism in Italian Colonial Libya shows how Italian authorities used the contradictory forces of tradition and modernity to both legitimize their colonial enterprise and construct a vital tourist industry Although most tourists sought to escape the trappings of the metropole in favor of experiencing difference that difference was almost always framed contained and even defined by Western culture McLaren argues that the modern and the traditional were entirely constructed by colonial authorities who balanced their need to project an image of a modern and efficient network of travel and accommodation with the necessity of preserving the characteristic qualities of the indigenous culture What made the tourist experience in Libya distinct from that of other tourist destinations was the constant oscillation between modernizing and preservation tendencies The movement between these forces is reflected in the structure of the book which proceeds from the broadest level of inquiry into the Fascist colonial project in Libya to the tourist organization itself and finally into the architecture of the tourist environment offering a way of viewing state driven modernization projects and notions of modernity from a historical and geographic perspective This is an important book for architectural historians and for those interested in colonial and postcolonial studies as well as Italian studies African history literature and cultural studies more generally
