Foundations for a Feminist Restructuring of the Academic Disciplines Michele Paludi, Gertrude A. Steuernagel, Ellen Cole, Esther D. Rothblum, 1990-04-17 Here is a useful and illustrative guide for those interested in the impact of feminist scholarship on traditional academic disciplines. This important book explores the changes that have taken place in the academic world as a result of feminist approaches to scholarship including issues of staffing, organization, administration, recruitment, student Handbook of Social and Evaluation Anxiety H. Leitenberg, 2013-11-11 For a long time I have wanted to put together a book about social and evaluation anxiety. Social evaluation anxiety seemed to be a stressful part of so many people's everyday experience. It also seemed to be apart of so many of the clinical problems that I worked with. Common terms that fit under this rubric include fears of rejection, humiliation, criticism, embarrassment, ridicule, failure, and abandonment. Examples of social and evaluation anxiety include shyness, social inhibition, social timidity, public speaking anxiety, feelings of self-consciousness and awkwardness in social situations, test anxiety, performance anxiety in sports, theater, dance, or music, shame, guilt, separation anxiety, social withdrawal, procrastination, and fear of job interviews or job evaluations of asking someone out, of not making a good impression, or of appearing stupid, foolish, or physically unattractive. In its extreme form, social anxiety is a behavior disorder in its own right, social phobia. This involves not only feelings of anxiety but also avoidance and withdrawal from social situations in which scrutiny and negative evaluation are anticipated. Social evaluation anxiety also plays a role in other clinical disorders. For example, people with agoraphobia are afraid of having a panic attack in public in part because they fear making a spectacle of themselves. Moreover, even their dominant terrors of going crazy or having a heart attack seem to reflect a central concern with social abandonment and isolation.

Key Words in Multicultural Interventions Patricia Arredondo, Harold E. Cheatham, Jeffery Scott Mio Ph.D., David Sue, Joseph E. Trimble, 1999-11-30 An essential resource for those interested in multicultural issues, this dictionary presents common terms used in multicultural counseling and research. The terms are not only denotatively defined but connotations are also included as well as historical information and important writings about the terms. The dictionary is thus not only a straightforward compendium of definitions but also a resource for further investigation. This is intended to be a resource for those interested in the area of multiculturalism Important publications investigating and or explicating these terms are also discussed and referenced Moreover authors define these terms with a point of view many terms are defined in a manner that connects them with perspectives commonly expressed by scholars and practitioners in the field Thus connotations are included as well as denotations of the terms

Macropsychology Malcolm MacLachlan, Joanne McVeigh, 2021-03-29 This volume argues for the development of a macro perspective within psychology that more effectively incorporates social structures systems policies and institutions The book emphasizes how social structures and systems can ultimately promote or erode psychological wellbeing Macropsychology is concerned with understanding up or how we can influence the settings and conditions of the society in which we live Psychology has traditionally been more interested in understanding down that is with the behaviour of individuals and groups in inter psychic and intra psychic and in neurological and biological processes This volume argues that psychology can more effectively contribute at the macro or societal level by addressing grand challenges and global goals using big data and intervening at the population level Bringing together social organizational cultural and health psychology research the book demonstrates a broad range of areas benefitting from a macropsychology perspective particularly areas integral to the realization of the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs Contributors address the value of macropsychological perspectives in addressing sub topics such as Mental health Personality traits and social structure Disability rights Food systems Humanitarian work psychology Macropsychology A Population Science for Sustainable Development Goals aims to recognise and give impetus to a neglected perspective within psychology and to inspire a paradigm widening within the field of psychology facilitating greater involvement with social justice and human rights
