Tucker, 2017-09-21 This provocative examination of major controversies in military history enables readers to learn how scholars approach controversial topics and provides a model for students in the study and discussion of other historical events Why did Alexander the Great's empire fall apart so soon after his death How did France win the Hundred Years War despite England winning its major battles Was slavery the primary cause of the American Civil War Would it have benefited the Allies militarily to have gone to war against Germany in 1938 rather than in 1939 Should women be allowed to serve in combat positions in the U S military All of these questions and many other historical controversies are addressed in this thought provoking reference book By exploring every angle of some of the most contentious debates involving military history this book builds students critical thinking skills by supplying a complete background of the controversial topic to provide context and also by providing multiple perspective essays written by top scholars in the field The perspective essays present arguments for different positions on the controversy Readers will consider the cases for and against whether Hannibal should have marched on Rome after his momentous victory at Cannae whether the United States was justified in using the atomic bomb in Japan whether Adolf Hitler was primarily responsible for the Holocaust and whether torturing prisoners during the War on Terror is warranted among many other historical military debates

Roman Conquests: North Africa Nic Fields, 2011-01-26 The third in the Roman Conquests series will briefly cover Rome's first forays into the dark continent during the First and Second Punic Wars then cover in detail her vindictive final conquest and destruction of Carthage in the Third Punic War The subsequent long wars against the slippery Numidian prince Jugurtha which tested the Roman military system to the limit also occupy a central place With a cast of characters including Hannibal the Scipios Marius Sulla and the wily Jugurtha this is sure to be a popular addition to the series Like the other volumes this book gives a clear narrative of the course of these wars explaining how the Roman war machine coped with formidable new foes and the challenges of unfamiliar terrain and climate Specially commissioned color plates by Graham Sumner bring the main troop types vividly to life in meticulously researched detail

Lake Trasimene 217 BC Nic Fields, 2017-01-26 Following Hannibal's crushing victory at the battle of the Trebbia the reeling Roman Republic sent a new army under the overconfident consul Caius Flaminius to destroy the Carthaginian invaders unbeknownst to him they were ready and waiting The destruction of the Roman force at Lake Trasimene firmly established Hannibal as one of the Ancient World's greatest commanders thanks to his use of innovative tactics including the first recorded use of a turning movement The Romans would not send another major army to confront him until the battle of Cannae in 216 BC This new study based on recent archaeological work on the battlefield itself tells the full story of one of Hannibal's greatest victories with the help of maps full colour illustrations and detailed sections on the make up of the armies and their commanders multinational armies of North Africans and Europeans Hannibal William O'Connor Morris,1897 Roman Legionary vs Carthaginian Warrior David Campbell,2018-08-23 The peace that followed the First Punic War was shallow and fractious with the resumption of hostilities in 218 BC sparked by Carthaginian expansion in Iberia seeing Rome suffer some of the worst defeats in her entire history The Carthaginian army was a composite affair primarily made up of a number of levies from Africa and around the Mediterranean augmented by mercenaries and allies and these troops crushed the Roman heavy infantry maniples in a series of battles across Southern Europe Improvements made to their military however would see Roman revenge visited on Hannibal in full measure by Scipio who would beat him at his own game and bring Roman legions to the gates of Carthage itself In this study the epic battles at Lake Trasimene 217 BC Cannae 216 BC and Ilipa 206 BC are explored in detail supported by carefully chosen illustrations and specially commissioned full colour artwork and mapping
