Arithmetic Counts! Paul Shoecraft, 2025-01-24 Dr Shoecraft may be the only mathematician since the New Math in the 1960s to seriously analyze the lowly subject of arithmetic and how to teach it His breakthrough came when he experimented with teaching what needs to be understood instead of known memorized like teaching why addition problems until the algorithm they are using supposedly becomes cemented in their brains By teaching the essence of arithmetic in sensible ways and appealing to children's love of games songs and movement he's proven that virtually ALL children can learn arithmetic the foundation of algebra higher mathematics science technology and more even music When children understand arithmetic they own it It's no longer just their teacher's math It's their math America's children are being held back in math because of how arithmetic is drug out in elementary school Virtually every textbook based elementary school math program in use today is mind numbing in its repetitiveness from grade to grade The reason for the redundancy is to slow down the teaching of arithmetic so it can be memorized Research shows that the human brain is not designed to remember things learned by rote when no longer practiced That's acknowledged in the use it or lose it aphorism that states the obvious that we remember what we use and forget what we don't You know that to be true if you've ever forgotten things you once knew as well as your own name things like an old address or a license plate number Every child can understand base ten numeration when taught hands on with arithmetic blocks Thereby every child can understand base ten arithmetic And every child can learn how to count out the number facts like $5 \times 7 = 12$ $17 \times 8 = 96$ $X \times 7 = 42$ and $56 \times 7 = 8$ and if they forget one never have to guess and risk ridicule and bad grades if they guess wrong What matters in teaching arithmetic is not how much a child can remember but how much they can figure out if when they forget

Constructing Knowledge for Teaching Secondary

Mathematics Orit Zaslavsky, Peter Sullivan, 2011-04-11 Teacher education seeks to transform prospective and or practicing teachers from neophyte possibly uncritical perspectives on teaching and learning to more knowledgeable adaptable analytic insightful observant resourceful reflective and confident professionals ready to address whatever challenges teaching secondary mathematics presents This transformation occurs optimally through constructive engagement in tasks that foster knowledge for teaching secondary mathematics Ideally such tasks provide a bridge between theory and practice and challenge surprise disturb confront extend or provoke examination of alternatives drawn from the context of teaching We define tasks as the problems or activities that having been developed evaluated and refined over time are posed to teacher education participants Such participants are expected to engage in these tasks collaboratively energetically and intellectually with an open mind and an orientation to future practice The tasks might be similar to those used by classroom teachers e.g the analysis of a graphing problem or idiosyncratic to teacher education e.g critique of videotaped practice This edited volume includes chapters based around unifying themes of tasks used in secondary mathematics teacher education These themes reflect goals for mathematics teacher education and are closely related to various aspects of knowledge required for teaching secondary mathematics They are not based on the conventional content topics of teacher education e g decimals grouping practices but on broad goals such as adaptability identifying similarities productive disposition overcoming barriers micro simulations choosing tools and study of practice This approach is innovative and appeals both to prominent authors and to our target audiences

Large-Scale Studies in Mathematics Education James A. Middleton, Jinfa Cai, Stephen Hwang, 2015-05-05 In recent years funding agencies like the Institute of Educational Sciences and the National Science Foundation have increasingly emphasized large scale studies with experimental and quasi experimental designs looking for objective truths Educational researchers have recently begun to use large scale studies to understand what really works from developing interventions to validation studies of the intervention and then to efficacy studies and the final scale up for large implementation of an intervention Moreover modeling student learning developmentally taking into account cohort factors issues of socioeconomics local political context and the presence or absence of interventions requires the use of large data sets wherein these variables can be sampled adequately and inferences made Inroads in quantitative methods have been made in the psychometric and sociometric literatures but these methods are not yet common knowledge in the mathematics education community In fact currently there is no volume devoted to discussion of issues related to large scale studies and to report findings from them This volume is unique as it directly discusses methodological issue in large scale studies and reports empirical data from large scale studies

Mixed Methods Applications in Action Research Nataliya V. Ivankova, 2015 This text outlines and explains in detail the necessary steps in designing conducting implementing and reporting an action research study with a solid mixed methods foundation
