questioned for privileging one kind of experience and marginalizing others The theme of granularity highlights the importance of how decisions about the scale and scope of historical research in IR shape what can be seen and how one sees it Together these themes provide points of affinity across the wide range of topics and approaches presented here The Handbook is organized into four parts The first Readings gives a state of the art analysis of numerous aspects of the disciplinary encounter between historians and IR theorists Thereafter sections on Practices Locales and Moments offer a wide variety of perspectives from the longue dur e to the ephemeral individual moment and challenge many conventional ways of defining the contexts of historical enquiry about international relations Contributors come from a range of academic backgrounds and present a diverse array of methodological and philosophical ideas as well as their various historical interests The Oxford Handbooks of International Relations is a twelve volume set of reference books offering authoritative and innovative engagements with the principal sub fields of International Relations The series as a whole is under the General Editorship of Christian Reus Smit of the University of Queensland and Duncan Snidal of the University of Oxford with each volume edited by specialists in the field The series both surveys the broad terrain of International Relations scholarship and reshapes it pushing each sub field in challenging new directions Following the example of Reus Smit and Snidal s original Oxford Handbook of International Relations each volume is organized around a strong central thematic by scholars drawn from different perspectives reading its sub field in an entirely new way and pushing scholarship in challenging new directions African Migrants, European Borders, and the Problem with Humanitarianism P. Khalil Saucier, Tryon P. Woods, 2024-06-10 African Migrants European Borders and the Problem with Humanitarianism presents a probing examination of the contemporary migrant crisis in the Mediterranean Basin By centering our analysis on how racial slavery has shaped European democratic culture its abolitionist traditions and the global structures of capital accumulation P Khalil Saucier and Tryon P Woods reveal and confront how contemporary discourse on the migrant crisis displaces Black sovereign mobility Their inquiry into the modern world s culture of politics investigates freedom of movement discourse s ostensible confrontation with border policing the memorializing of Black migrant deaths by artists and advocates and the visual imagery of a cosmopolitan and multicultural Europe as conceived by filmmakers in response to the migrant crisis as variants of a slaveholding culture instantiated in the early Mediterranean and Atlantic worlds This analysis allows the authors to formulate a new critical framework for analysis of both the problems of contemporary migration and borders and the leading prescriptions on offer from analysts advocates and policy makers in order to develop alternate ways of conceptualizing global society Race, Nation, and Religion in the Americas Henry Goldschmidt, Elizabeth A.

Spirit Possession in French, Haitian, and Vodou Thought Alessandra Benedicty-Kokken, 2014-11-12 This book recuperates the important history that Haitian thought around Vodou possession has had in French critical theory The author takes the period of the 1930s and 40s as the centerfold of a more complex network of relations that places Haiti as one of the pivots of a more expanded intellectual conversation around possession which links anthropology literature psychoanalysis human rights and visual arts in France Haiti and the United States Benedicty argues that Haiti as the anthropological other serves as a kick starter to an entire French based theoretical apparatus Breton Leiris Bataille de Certeau Foucault and Butler but once up and running its role as catalyst is forgotten and the multiple iterations of the anthropological other are cast back into the net of Michel Rolph Trouillot's Savage slot The book offers the reader unfamiliar with Haiti a comprehensive interdisciplinary study of twentieth and early twenty first century Haitian thought including a detailed timeline of important moments in the intellectual history that connects Haiti to France and the United States The first part of the book is about global dispossessions in the first decades of the twentieth century the second part points to how the narratives of Haiti are intimately linked to a Franco U S American discursive space constructed over the course of the twentieth century a discursive order that has conflated the representation of Haiti with an understanding of Vodou primarily as an occult religion and not as a philosophical system The third and fourth parts of the book examine how the novels of Ren Depestre Jean Claude Fignol and Kettly Mars have revisited the notion of possession since the fall of the Duvalier dictatorships

Haiti's Paper War Chelsea Stieber, 2020-08-18 2021 Outstanding Academic Title Choice Magazine Turns to the written record to re examine the building blocks of a nation Picking up where most historians conclude Chelsea Stieber explores the critical internal challenge to Haiti s post independence sovereignty a civil war between monarchy and republic What transpired was a war of swords and of pens waged in newspapers and periodicals in literature broadsheets and fliers In her analysis of Haitian writing that followed independence Stieber composes a new literary history of Haiti that challenges our interpretations of both freedom struggles and the postcolonial By examining internal dissent during the revolution Stieber reveals that the very concept of freedom was itself hotly contested in the public sphere and it was this inherent tension that became the central battleground for the guerre de plume the paper war that vied to shape public sentiment and the very idea of Haiti Stieber s reading of post independence Haitian writing reveals key insights into the nature of literature its relation to freedom and politics and how fraught and politically loaded the concepts of literature and civilization really are The competing ideas of libert writing and civilization at work within postcolonial Haiti have consequences for the way we think about Haiti s role as an idea and a discursive interlocutor in the elaboration of black radicalism and black Atlantic anticolonial and decolonial thought In so doing Stieber reorders our previously homogeneous view of Haiti teasing out warring conceptions of the new nation that continued to play out deep into the twentieth century
