IR Nelson L. Alpert, William E. Keiser, Herman A. Szymanski, 2012-12-06 The first edition of this text was written primarily by one of the present authors HAS with a chapter on instrumentation contributed by a second NLA The volume was well received and to keep the text up to date a second edition was planned For this second edition a third author WEK was invited whose background complemented that of the other two Each of the authors was assigned several chapters as his primary task while the complete manuscript remained the secondary responsibility of all three It is hoped that this approach has resulted in a work that is even more thorough than the first edition in covering the basic concepts of infrared spectroscopy NELSON L ALPERT WILLIAM E KEISER HERMAN A SZYMANSKI v PREFACE TO THE FIRST EDITION My experience with the many infrared spectroscopy institutes held at Canisius College and many discussions with both beginners and experienced practitioners in infrared spectroscopy have convinced me that there is a need for an introductory text devoted entirely to infrared spectroscopy a text which can be utilized even by those who approach this study with only a limited background This volume sprang from that conviction It is intended for all who wish to use infrared spectroscopy in research especially chemists doing structural work in routine control work in industrial development or in medical applications or those military applications where it is employed as an analytical tool
