The Ladies of Londonderry Diane Urquhart,2007-03-10 Against a backdrop of increasing democracy and the associated process of aristocratic decline this book examines the political influence of the leading Tory hostesses the Marchionesses of Londonderry Over one hundred and fifty years from 1800 1959 these women were patrons and confidantes to key political figures such as Disraeli Bonar Law Edward Carson and Ramsay MacDonald By the late 19th century upper class women were at the height of their prowess exerting political sway by private means whilst exploiting more public avenues of political work canvassing addressing meetings and leading the new associations established in an attempt to educate a mass electorate At that time this hybrid of private and public aristocratic politicking aroused little criticism but by the interwar period the hold that the 7th Marchioness of Londonderry Edith Vane Tempest Stewart allegedly had over MacDonald prompted widespread criticism of her role as the Mother of the National Government The lives of these vibrant and fascinating women have long been overlooked in histories of the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries as well as in studies of conservatism unionism or the aristocracy Despite their social and political importance few of their contemporaries acknowledged their influence partly because of the indirect way that aristocratic women exerted political power and their place in society was essentially defined by their male relatives The Ladies of Londonderry offers the first examination of the powerful political hostesses of the Anglo Irish establishment and sheds considerable light on the workings of 19th and 20th century politics

Mother Without Child Elaine Tuttle Hansen,1997-01-01 This is a conceptually innovative book which expands the meaning of motherhood to include mothers without child it is also a compassionate political book which refuses the boundary between good enough and bad mothers Mother Without Child is an engaging witty and provocative literary study which should fascinate anyone who is interested in mothering or in looking for new ways to talk about motherhood without erasing some women's experience or dividing mothers from each other Sara Ruddick author of Maternal Thinking Toward a Politics of Peace Hansen positions her study in a genuinely new space taboo ground which demands not only a great deal of courage to address but also enormous intelligence and insight Hansen is up to this task hers is a pioneer study that will have a significant impact on the ways that non procreative motherhood is discussed and understood Madelon Sprengnether author of The Spectral Mother Freud Feminism and Psychoanalysis Since the beginnings of the second wave of feminism in the 1960s feminist scholars have been obsessed with motherhood Mother Without Child takes us to the next stage in this fascinated and fascinating exploration Through illuminating readings of contemporary stories of thwarted motherhood Hansen challenges the persistent and constraining definitions of the good and even the good enough mother She enjoins us to listen to the moving devastating and often inspiring stories of mothers who survive the loss of their children and she urges us to find there not the angry voices of feminist daughters who cannot forgive their patriarchal mothers but alternative stories of a different maternity that can lead us to alternative plots and visions of women's lives We need this book Marianne Hirsch author of The Mother Daughter Plot Narrative Psychoanalysis Feminism A careful committed and freshly clarifying voice Hansen's graceful prose and finely interwoven explorations are much needed at this time Through readings of contemporary fiction she enriches our vocabulary for discussing the overdetermined topic of motherhood and deepens our understanding of both its psychological and contemporary political dimensions Mother Without Child is a book for historians and social scientists as well as literary scholars Laura Doyle author of Bordering on the Body The Racial Matrix of Modern Fiction and Culture
