The Brothers Grimm Fairy Tales

Grimm Brothers, The wife of a rich man fell sick and as she felt that her end was drawing near she called her only daughter to her bedside and said: 'Dear child, be good and pious and then the good God will always protect thee and I will look down on thee from heaven and be near thee.' Thereupon she closed her eyes and departed. Every day the maiden went out to her mother's grave and wept and she remained pious and good. When winter came the snow spread a white sheet over the grave and when the spring sun had drawn it off again the man had taken another wife. The woman had brought two daughters into the house with her who were beautiful and fair of face but vile and black of heart. Now began a bad time for the poor step child. Is the stupid goose to sit in the parlour with us said they. He who wants to eat bread must earn it out with the kitchen wench. They took her pretty clothes away from her, put an old grey bedgown on her and gave her wooden shoes. Just look at the proud princess how decked out she is they cried and laughed and led her into the kitchen. There she had to do hard work from morning till night, get up before daybreak, carry water, light fires, cook and wash. Besides this the sisters did her every imaginable injury: they mocked her and emptied her peas and lentils into the ashes so that she was forced to sit and pick them out again. In the evening when she had worked till she was weary she had no bed to go to but had to sleep by the fireside in the ashes. And as on that account she always looked
