D. , of Persia Robert Elliott Speer, 2013-09 This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book without typos from the publisher Not indexed Not illustrated 1911 edition Excerpt XVI AS A MEDICAL MISSIONARY DR COCHRAN was primarily of course a medical missionary The general influence which he wielded was secondary It came to him and was used by him as he went about his business of opening the eyes of the unseeing restoring the lame and halt and healing the sick of their diseases The story of his life as it has been told has been necessarily filled with incidents of his medical work but something should be said in a more connected way of what he did and how he worked as a physician The centre of his medical work was the hospital The first building was erected in 1880 A mile or two from the city of Urumia on the banks of the river of the same name the Mission had purchased fifteen acres of land Four acres of this were enclosed Persian fashion by a wall fifteen feet high It was a beautiful garden with streams of water running through it Avenues lined with sycamore pear and poplar trees divided it into four squares and filled it with pleasant shade On one of these squares wrote Dr Cochran in one of his reports the hospital is built on another the college and on the remaining two the residences of the superintendent of the college and of the physicians The building is seventy five feet by thirty five faced with red brick and two stories and a half high Aside from accommodations for the sick it has drug rooms operating and assistants rooms and storerooms It has two large wards and six smaller wards The large wards have sixty beds the smaller from three to six The beds are of straw on high wooden bedsteads and are furnished with sheets and quilts made in the native style i e of wool with a covering of bright calico The windows are curtained with gay calico pictures Classified Catalogue Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh, 1914 Classified Catalogue of the Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh. 1907-1911 Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh, 1914 Medicine in Iran H. Ebrahimnejad, 2013-12-17 This book traces how medicine in modern Iran was both theoretically and institutionally transformed in the 19th and 20th centuries It explores the process by which local physicians in a non colonial context assimilated the emerging modern medicine and the institutional devices that accommodated this transition Bulletin of the Osterhout Free Library Osterhout Free Library (Wilkes-Barré, Pa.),1911

Orientalism and Imperialism Andrew Wilcox,2018-07-12 Using the work of Edward Said as a point of departure this book dissects the concept of Orientalism through the lens of 19th century missionary impressions of Kurdistan Wilcox argues that dominant interpretations of Said s work have a tendency to present Orientalism as an essentialist practice and instead offers an alternative manifestation in which the Oriental is perceived as the mutable product of cultural forces The relationship between missionaries and imperialism has long been a contentious issue with many scholars highlighting their apparent ambiguity This study reveals how Protestant missionaries can be identified as anti imperialist in their rhetoric of ecumenical independence yet through their preconceptions of Oriental inferiority they contributed to a more subtle undermining of local forms of knowledge and identity Wilcox argues that this apparent ambiguity is in part a consequence of the ways in which the term imperialism is frequently used to allude to diverse and even contradictory meanings therefore it is not so much the missionaries who are ambiguous as the ways in which they are judged by today s multivalent standards The analysis also makes clear the complex discursive processes which can undermine the actions of altruistic individuals By drawing threads from this 19th century example into the current geopolitical foreground of Middle East West relations this book not only sheds light upon a little known historical case study but also illuminates larger questions of the present and future encouraging a more vigorous examination of contemporary Orientalist prejudices

A Brief History of Assyrians in Kermanshah Hannibal Gevargiz,Dr. Arianne Ishaya,2025-05-14 This book is a valuable contribution to the history of historical towns and cities in Iran former Persia In this age of constant political upheavals when civilian populations are uprooted from their home base many readers are interested to know what happens to these displaced communities how they cope with homelessness and try to resurrect their cultural and national identity The Assyrians are the main subject of this study They were uprooted from their ancestral homes in Northwest Iran during World War I Only a fraction survived and made their home in Kermanshah and a few other cities in Iran as refugees So this book is a community study of the history of uprooted Assyrians in Kermanshah What is remarkable is that although Assyrians came to this town as penniless uprooted refugees they became a stable part of the community through hard work and utmost sacrifices Moreover historically speaking even during the relatively short period of time 1920s 1970s that Assyrians were a part of Kermanshah s larger community they contributed greatly to the educational economic and literary heritage of this town Assyrian women played a big role in the education of all children both Muslim and Christian in Kermanshah The most popular elementary schools were established and directed by two Assyrian women who between them educated hundreds of children each year Assyrian physicians and numerous Assyrian nurses staffed the American Mission hospital and Assyrian engineers and architects contributed to the growth of the town The Assyrians do not have an independent country of their own They are dispersed throughout the world What has helped them to maintain their identity as a people has been a network of social relations through family and community that have defied geographical distance and the passage of time Most of the Assyrians of Kermanshah now live in the United States of America They have pictures of their families old churches and monuments in Kermanshah in this book So they are pleased to see their history in print This book is also of special interest to those who trace the history of the American Protestant Missions in Iran and their contributions to the Education health and welfare of the host communities Arianne Ishaya Christianity in Persia and the Status of Non-muslims in Iran A. Christian Van Gorder, 2010-01-01 This book focuses on the history of Christianity in Persia and the present day relationship that Muslims in Iran have taken toward people of other faith traditions The book provides a comprehensive and readable introduction to a fascinating history with important contemporary ramifications for interfaith and intercultural studies

The Kurdish National Movement Wadie Jwaideh, 2006-06-19 A seminal work in the field of Kurdish studies Wadie Jwaideh s pioneering research published for the first time presents a detailed analysis of the early phases of Kurdish nationalism and offers a framework within which to understand the movement s later development Following Wadie Jwaideh s dissertation defense his doctoral chairman took aside Jwaideh s wife Alice and asked her to submit the work for publication without Wadie s permission believing that Wadie s penchant for perfection would postpone its publication indefinitely The thesis was never published during Jwaideh s lifetime but its fame spread by word of mouth and many scholars have recognized its importance not only as a study of the earlier periods of Kurdish nationalism but also as a model for understanding its subsequent history The work now stands as a classic referenced by some of the most renowned scholars in the field Its publication will permit it to reach a greater audience and to contribute more fully to the understanding and appreciation of this geopolitical and cultural movement Jwaideh was born in the southern Iraqi city of Basra into an Arabic speaking Christian family that later moved to Baghdad His intimate knowledge of the land and its people gave Jwaideh shrewd insight into Kurdish society and politics Exploring the rich historical roots of the Kurdish national movement he challenges the established view of the early Kurdish uprisings as isolated incidents triggered by economic hardship or political dissatisfaction Instead he offers a new interpretation of the Kurds nationalist position convincingly demonstrating the age and depth of their grievances This complex and layered history of the Kurdish nationalist movement offers a valuable perspective from which to view the current conditions in Iraq Jwaideh s sensitive and prescient treatment of this region gives his study great contemporary relevance

Islam and Competing Nationalisms in the Middle East, 1876-1926 Kamal Soleimani, 2016-06-15 Opposing a binary perspective that consolidates ethnicity religion and nationalism into separate spheres this book demonstrates that neither nationalism nor religion can be studied in isolation in the Middle East Religious interpretation like other systems of meaning production is affected by its historical and political contexts and the processes of interpretation and religious translation bleed into the institutional discourses and processes of nation building This book calls into question the foundational epistemologies of the nation state by centering on the pivotal and intimate role Islam played in the emergence of the nation state showing the entanglements and reciprocities of nationalism and religious thought as they played out in the late nineteenth and early twentieth century Middle East Kurdish Studies Archive Martin van Bruinessen,2024-11-18 Kurdish Studies Archive publishes the content of volumes 1 to 10 of Kurdish Studies This interdisciplinary and peer reviewed journal was dedicated to publishing high quality research and scholarship Since 2023 the journal has been continued as the new Kurdish Studies Journal published by Brill and focuses on research scholarship and debates in the field of Kurdish studies in a multidisciplinary fashion covering a wide range of topics including but not limited to economics history society gender minorities politics health law environment language media culture arts and education Some Great Leaders in the World Movement Robert Elliott Speer,1911 The Glory of the Ministry A.
