

Hamlet's BlackBerry: Building a Good Life in the Digital Age by William Powers

Topic: Literature | Words: 900 Pages: 3

The book focuses on contemporary communication problems, considering the philosophical and historical context. The central problem of this work is the excessive use of communications by people in the modern world and the dynamics associated with this problem. Powers uses observations and statistics relevant to the modern world combined with perspectives on technology in different historical periods in various countries. Furthermore, Powers suggests the need to limit the use of means of communication through several practices. For instance, one way to limit technology's negative impact is to reuse old technologies. In general, the book provides a view of contemporary problems in using technology combined with an overview of similar issues in a historical context.

In addition to pointing out the factors of the negative impact of technology, the work includes information about philosophical issues, including identity and people's ability to communicate. In this aspect, it is significant that Powers mentions in the book several philosophers whose thought reflects the view of technology in different historical periods. The ideas of these philosophers are presented in Part 2 of the book and include the ideas of Plato, Seneca, Johannes Gutenberg, William Shakespeare, Benjamin Franklin, Henry Thoreau, and Marshall McLuhan. The work, therefore, utilizes the ideas of philosophers from various eras regarding the impact of modern technology, which provides a historical background to Powers' book. Moreover, such information
