

The background of the book cover is a textured, light beige color. At the top center is a large, solid orange circle. Below it, a vertical line descends, intersecting a horizontal line that crosses the page. In the lower half, there is a complex, layered geometric drawing in light brown and grey, resembling a series of overlapping cubes or a perspective sketch of a building. A vertical line also passes through this drawing. In the bottom left, a small, stylized red and white object, possibly a camera or a probe, is shown emitting a red beam of light towards the right.
