Temperance and Cosmopolitanism Carole Lynn Stewart, 2018-10-01 Temperance and Cosmopolitanism explores the nature and meaning of cosmopolitan freedom in the nineteenth century through a study of selected African American authors and reformers William Wells Brown Martin Delany George Moses Horton Frances E W Harper and Amanda Berry Smith Their voluntary travels a reversal of the involuntary movement of enslavement form the basis for a critical mode of cosmopolitan freedom rooted in temperance Both before and after the Civil War white Americans often associated alcohol and drugs with blackness and enslavement Carole Lynn Stewart traces how African American reformers mobilized the discourses of cosmopolitanism and restraint to expand the meaning of freedom a freedom that draws on themes of abolitionism and temperance not only as principles and practices for the inner life but simultaneously as the ordering structures for forms of culture and society While investigating traditional meanings of temperance consistent with the ethos of the Protestant work ethic Enlightenment rationality or asceticism Stewart shows how temperance informed the founding of diasporic communities and civil societies to heal those who had been affected by the pursuit of excess in the transatlantic slave trade and the individualist pursuit of happiness By elucidating the concept of the black Atlantic through the lenses of literary reformers Temperance and Cosmopolitanism challenges the narrative of Atlantic history empire and European elite cosmopolitanism Its interdisciplinary approach will be of particular value to scholars of African American literature and history as well as scholars of nineteenth century cultural political and religious studies Louisiana Cecile Vidal,2014 Louisiana Crossroads of the Atlantic World offers an exceptional collaboration between American Canadian and European historians who explore the many ways and means of colonial Louisiana s relations with the rest of the Atlantic world Encyclopédie noire Sara E. Johnson,2023-11-06 If you peer closely into the bookstores salons and diplomatic circles of the eighteenth century Atlantic world M d ric Louis lie Moreau de Saint M ry is bound to appear As a lawyer philosophe and Enlightenment polymath Moreau created and compiled an immense archive that remains a vital window into the social political and intellectual fault lines of the Age of Revolutions But the gilded spines and elegant designs that decorate his archive obscure the truth Moreau s achievements were predicated upon the work of enslaved people and free people of color Their labor afforded him the leisure to research think and write Their rich intellectual and linguistic cultures filled the pages of his most applauded works Every beautiful book Moreau produced contains an embedded story of hidden violence Sara Johnson s arresting investigation of race and knowledge in the revolutionary Atlantic surrounds Moreau with the African descended people he worked so hard to erase immersing him in a vibrant community of language innovators forgers of kinship networks and world travelers who strove to create their own social and political lives Built from archival fragments creative speculation and audacious intellectual courage Encyclopédie noire is a communal biography of the women and men who made Moreau s world Global Perspectives on Global History Dominic Sachsenmaier,2011-08-04 In recent years historians across the world have become increasingly interested in transnational and global approaches to the past However the debates surrounding this new border crossing movement have remained limited in scope as theoretical exchanges on the tasks responsibilities and potentials of global history have been largely confined to national or regional academic communities In this groundbreaking book Dominic Sachsenmaier sets out to redress this imbalance by offering a series of new perspectives on the global and local flows sociologies of knowledge and hierarchies that are an intrinsic part of historical practice Taking the United States Germany and China as his main case studies he reflects upon the character of different approaches to global history as well as their social political and cultural contexts He argues that this new global trend in historiography needs to be supported by a corresponding increase in transnational dialogue cooperation and exchange The Afterlives of Anticolonial Aesthetics Carlos Garrido Castellano,Patrick Crowley,2025-08-06 This book develops a critical intervention in the politics of time and anticolonial aesthetics Engaging with recent debates on cultural activism and postcolonial and decolonial studies the main objective of this volume is to examine the ways in which anticolonial cultural analysis and production keeps nurturing contemporary processes of progressive social transformation The chapters in this volume argue that anticolonialism should not be bounded to a specific historical moment that of postcolonial nation building rather it should be seen as a fertile radical tradition going beyond the specific event of decolonization and informing utopian and radical futures The twelve essays engage with this argument from a wide variety of disciplines including film studies art history literary criticism and cultural and visual studies It is intended for scholars activists and students across disciplines who are interested in the intersections of culture politics and social change The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Interventions

Rewriting the African Diaspora in Latin America and the Caribbean Robert L. Adams Jr., 2014-10-14 This volume considers the African Diaspora through the underexplored Afro Latino experience in the Caribbean and South America Utilizing both established and emerging approaches such as feminism and Atlantic studies the authors explore the production of historical and contemporary identities and cultural practices within and beyond the boundaries of the nation state Rewriting the African Diaspora in the Caribbean and Latin America illustrates how far the fields of Afro Latino and African Diaspora studies have advanced beyond the Herskovits and Frazier debates of the 1940s The book's arguments complicate Herskovits' insistence on Black culture being an exclusive reflection of African survivals as well as Frazier's counter claim of African American culture being a result of slavery and colonialism This collection of thought provoking essays extends the concepts of diaspora and transnationalism forcing the reader to reassess their present limitations as interpretive tools In the process Afro Latinos are rendered visible as national actors and transnational citizens This book was originally published as a special issue of African and Black Diaspora

Fictions of Home Martin Mühlheim, 2018-04-23 This study aims to counter right wing discourses of belonging It discusses key theoretical concepts for the study of home focusing in particular on Marxist feminist postcolonial and psychoanalytic contributions The book also maintains that postmodern celebrations of nomadism and exile tend to be incapable of providing an alternative to conservative xenophobic appropriations of home In detailed readings of one film and six novels a view is developed according to which home as a spatio temporal imaginary is rooted in our species being and as such constitutes the inevitable starting point for any progressive politics

Frankétienne and Rewriting Rachel Douglas, 2009-06-16 Rewriting in the context of critical work on Caribbean literature has tended to be used to discuss revisionism from a variety of postcolonial perspectives such as rewriting history or rewriting canonical texts By shifting the focus to how Caribbean writers return to their own works in order to rework them this book offers theoretical considerations to postcolonial studies on literariness in relation to the near obsessive degree of rewriting to which Caribbean writers have subjected their own literary texts Focusing specifically on FrankZtienne this book offers an overview of how the defining aesthetic and thematic components of FrankZtienne s major works have emerged over the course of his forty year writing career It reveals the marked development of key notions guiding his literary creation since the 1960s and demonstrates that rewriting illustrates the central aesthetic of the Spiral which has always shaped his Iuvre It is the book argues the constantly moving form of the Spiral which FrankZtienne explores through his constant reworking of his previously written texts FrankZtienne and Rewriting negotiates between the literary and material ends of the burgeoning field of postcolonial studies arguing that literary characteristics in FrankZtienne connect with changing political social economic and cultural circumstances in the Haiti he rewrites Routledge Handbook of Historical

Local Histories/Global Designs Walter D. Dignolo, 2000-01-17 This book is an extended argument on the coloniality of power by one of the most innovative scholars of Latin American studies In a shrinking world where sharp dichotomies such as East West and developing developed blur and shift Walter Dignolo points to the inadequacy of current practice in the social sciences and area studies He introduces the crucial notion of colonial difference into study of the modern colonial world He also traces the emergence of new forms of knowledge which he calls border thinking Further he expands the horizons of those debates already under way in postcolonial studies of Asia and Africa by dwelling in the genealogy of thoughts of South Central America the Caribbean and Latino as in the United States His concept of border gnosis or what is known from the perspective of an empire's borderlands counters the tendency of occidental perspectives to dominate and thus limit understanding. The book is divided into three parts: the first chapter deals with epistemology and postcoloniality; the next three chapters deal with the geopolitics of knowledge; the last three deal with the languages and cultures of scholarship. Here the author reintroduces the analysis of civilization from the perspective of globalization and argues that rather than one civilizing process dominated by the West, the continually emerging subaltern voices break down the dichotomies characteristic of any cultural imperialism. By underscoring the fractures between globalization and mundialization, Mignolo shows the locations of emerging border epistemologies and of post-occidental reason. In a new preface that discusses Local Histories, Global Designs as a dialogue with Hegel's Philosophy of History, Mignolo connects his argument with the unfolding of history in the first decade of the twenty-first century.
