Gujarat Police Training Manual:

Training manual for surveillance of suicide and self-harm in communities via key informants World Health Organization, 2022-12-31 This World Health Organization manual provides comprehensive guidelines for the surveillance of suicide and self-harm in communities utilizing key informants. It emphasizes the importance of high quality surveillance data in suicide prevention, highlighting the need to capture data not only from official health and police records but also from community sources, especially in remote areas with limited official documentation. The manual is intended for training fieldworkers such as health workers in data collection and interview techniques, aiming to ensure accurate case registration. Supervisors receive additional training on quality assurance and data management. The manual encourages adaptation to local cultural contexts and resources with the goal of identifying vulnerable populations and emerging trends to inform effective evidence-based suicide prevention strategies.

The Truth Machines Jinee Lokaneeta, 2020-02-26 Using case studies and the results of extensive fieldwork, this book considers the nature of state power and legal violence in liberal democracies by focusing on the interaction between law science and policing in India. The postcolonial Indian police have often been accused of using torture in both routine and exceptional criminal cases, but they and forensic psychologists have claimed that lie detectors, brain scans, and narcoanalysis, the use of truth serum (Sodium Pentothal), represent a paradigm shift away from physical torture. Most state high courts in India have upheld this rationale. The Truth Machines examines the emergence and use of these three scientific techniques to analyze two primary themes. First, the book questions whether existing theoretical frameworks for understanding state power and legal violence are adequate to explain constant innovations of the state. Second, it explores the workings of law science and policing in the everyday context to generate a theory of state power and legal violence, challenging the monolithic frameworks about this relationship based on a study of both state and non-state actors. Jinee Lokaneeta argues that the attempt to replace physical torture with truth machines in India fails because it relies on a confessional paradigm that is contiguous with torture. Her work also provides insights into a police institution that is founded and refounded in its everyday interactions between state and non-state actors. Theorizing a concept of Contingent State, this book demonstrates the disaggregated and decentered nature of state power and legal violence, creating possible sites of critique and intervention.

Gujarat Under Modi Christophe Jaffrelot, 2024-02-29 In 2012, Narendra Modi became the first Hindu nationalist politician thrice elected to lead a state of the Indian Union, his stewardship as Chief Minister of Gujarat being the longest in that state's history. Modi and his BJP supporters explained his achievement by pointing to economic growth under his leadership, yet detractors point out that Modi has been more business-friendly than market-friendly to the benefit of large industrial corporations and at the cost of great social polarisation. In 2002, an anti-Muslim pogrom of unparalleled ferocity occurred in Gujarat, leading to the biggest number of Muslim deaths since Partition. The state's Hindu majority immediately rallied around Modi. No serious riot has occurred in Gujarat since, but polarisation was key to Modi's strategy there and he has deployed that strategy again and again since he became Prime Minister of India in 2014. For Modi has cultivated a communal image. A marketing genius, his messaging combines the politics of Hindutva with economic modernisation to the clear appreciation of Gujarat's middle class. Christophe Jaffrelot's revealing book shows how Modi's Gujarat served as the laboratory of Modi's India not only in terms of Hindu majoritarianism and national populism but also of caste and class politics.
