Lud Heat A Of The Dead Hamlets By Sinclair Iain 2012 Paperback:

Lud Heat Iain Sinclair, 2012 Originally published London Albion Village 1975 Postdigital Storytelling Spencer Jordan, 2019-10-16 Postdigital Storytelling offers a groundbreaking re evaluation of one of the most dynamic and innovative areas of creativity today digital storytelling Central to this reassessment is the emergence of metamodernism as our dominant cultural condition This volume argues that metamodernism has brought with it a new kind of creative modality in which the divide between the digital and non digital is no longer binary and oppositional Jordan explores the emerging poetics of this inherently transmedial and hybridic postdigital condition through a detailed analysis of hypertextual locative mobile and collaborative storytelling With a focus on twenty first century storytelling including print based and nondigital art forms the book ultimately widens our understanding of the modes and forms of metamodernist creativity Postdigital Storytelling is of value to anyone engaged in creative writing within the arts and humanities This includes scholars students and practitioners of both physical and digital texts as well as those engaged in interdisciplinary practice based research in which storytelling remains a primary approach The Literary Psychogeography of London Ann Tso, 2020-09-21 This Pivot book examines literary elements of urban topography that have animated Alan Moore Peter Ackroyd and Iain Sinclair s respective representations of London ness Ann Tso argues these authors write London psychogeographically to deconstruct popular visions of London with colonial and neoliberal undertones Moore s psychogeography consists of bird s eye views that reveal the brute force threatening to unravel Londonscape from within Ackroyd s aims to detect London sensuously since every new awareness recalls an otherworldly London Sinclair s conjures up a narrative consciousness made erratic by London s disunified landscape Drawing together the dystopian the phenomenological and the postcolonial Tso explores how these texts characterize London ness as estranging Space(s) of the Fantastic David Punter, C. Bruna Mancini, 2020-12-29 This book provides a series of new addresses to the enduring problem of how to categorize the Fantastic The approach taken is through the lens of spatiality the Fantastic gives us new worlds although of course these are refractions of worlds already in being In place of real spaces whatever they might be the Fantastic gives us imaginary spaces although within those spaces historical and cultural conflicts are played out albeit in forms that stretch our understanding of everyday location and our usual interpretations of cause and effect Many authors are addressed here from a variety of different geographical and national traditions thus demonstrating how the Fantastic as a mode a genre a way of thinking imagining and writing continually traverses borders and boundaries We hope to move the ongoing debate about the Fantastic forward in a scholarly as well as an engaging way Mapping Cultures L. Roberts, 2012-05-29 An interdisciplinary collection exploring the practices and cultures of mapping in the arts humanities and social sciences It features contributions from scholars in critical cartography social anthropology film and cultural studies literary studies art and visual culture marketing museum studies architecture and popular music studies London and its genius loci Philipp

Röttgers,2019-11-06 London is a powerful and mysterious city its spirit stands outside of time certain places have influenced the behaviour of its citizens Philipp Röttgers leads you to these places Follow him into the heart of darkness into the area of Jack the Ripper to the churches of Nicholas Hawksmoor along the routes of From Hell Meet William Blake and walk along Ripper Street Discover London's genius loci its spirit of place This alternative travel guide has two sides A scientific trip through the depiction of London's genius loci in literature by authors such as Iain Sinclair Alan Moore Ben Aaronovitch Neil Gaiman and Peter Ackroyd And the tour stories that lead you to the historical genius loci Connect places become the flaneur the walker the wanderer This book approaches London the only two ways according to Röttgers that it can be experienced properly through literature and through walking Twenty-First-Century British Fiction and the City Magali Cornier

Michael,2018-07-18 The essays in this edited collection offer incisive and nuanced analyses of and insights into the state of British cities and urban environments in the twenty first century Britain's experiences with industrialization colonialism post colonialism global capitalism and the European Union EU have had a marked influence on British ideas about and British literature's depiction of the city and urban contexts Recent British fiction focuses in particular on cities as intertwined with globalization and global capitalism including the proliferation of media and with issues of immigration and migration Indeed decolonization has brought large numbers of people from former colonies to Britain thus making British cities ever more diverse Such mixing of peoples in urban areas has led to both racist fears and possibilities of cosmopolitan co existence

Contemporary Olson David Herd,2016-05-16 As poet critic theorist and teacher Charles Olson extended the possibilities of modern writing From Call Me Ishmael his pioneering study of Herman Melville to his epic poetic project The Maximus Poems Olson probed the relation between language space and community Writing in the aftermath of the Second World War he provided radical resources for the re imagining of place and politics resources for collective thought and creative practice we are still learning how to use Re situating Olson's work in relation both to his own moment and to current concerns the essays assembled in Contemporary Olson provide a major re assessment of his place in postwar poetry and culture Through a series of contextualising chapters discussions of individual poems and reflections on Olson's legacy by leading international writers and critics the book presents a poet who still informs contemporary poetry whose thought and compositional innovations continue to provoke Remote as some of his fascinations must now seem Olson is shown nonetheless to offer a poetry and poetics that speaks clearly to our own fraught historical moment Contemporary Olson opens this major writer to new readings and new readers Writing Ecofiction Kevan Manwaring,2024-07-19 This creative writing textbook introduces students to ecofiction narrative writing that focuses on the environment Also known as climate fiction or cli fi an increasing number of short story writers novelists and pioneers of emerging forms such as interactive fiction are taking up the call to develop their own creative responses to the climate crisis This guide explores a cross section of genres and ways of writing about our world as well as the ethical and technical challenges involved It offers a discussion of classic and contemporary texts literary criticism and creative writing exercises The book covers a broad range of themes and styles of writing from works that engage with nature and landscape writing to those that take a more activist approach to climate change With an awareness of the Global South and the subaltern the framing of the Anthropocene wilderness and nature writing is challenged Each chapter offers a new perspective on ecofiction for the creative writer with reading suggestions and connections to other writers and texts and writing activities Designed for upper level undergraduate and postgraduate writing modules on the environment the book is also suitable for independent writers looking to expand their skillset Featuring 20 interviews with ecofiction authors Ana Filomena Amaral Austin Aslan Denise Baden David Barker TC Boyle Lynn Buckle Adam Connor Michelle Cook Julie Carrick Dalton April Doyle Anna Holmes Somto Ihezue RB Kelly Gill Lewis Anne Mordell Anthony Nanson Midge Raymond Manda Scott Mary Woodbury John Yunker An extensive and enthusiastic guide into the wild and varied worlds of eco fiction James Canton Director of Wild Writing MA University of Essex UK

Edinburgh Companion to the Short Story in English Paul Delaney, 2018-11-27 This collection explores the history and development of the anglophone short story since the beginning of the nineteenth century Shadow-Makers Stephen Kite, 2017-10-19 The making of shadows is an act as old as architecture itself From the gloom of the medieval hearth through to the masterworks of modernism shadows have been an essential yet neglected presence in architectural history Shadow Makers tells for the first time the history of shadows in architecture It weaves together a rich narrative combining close readings of significant buildings both ancient and modern with architectural theory and art history to reveal the key places and moments where shadows shaped architecture in distinctive and dynamic ways It shows how shadows are used as an architectural instrument of form composition and visual effect while also exploring the deeper cultural context tracing differing conceptions of their meaning and symbolism whether as places of refuge devotion terror occult practice sublime experience or as metaphors of the unconscious Within a chronological framework encompassing medieval baroque enlightenment sublime picturesque and modernist movements a wide range of topics are explored from Hawksmoor's London churches Japanese temple complexes and the shade patterns of Islamic cities to Ruskin in Venice and Aldo Rossi and Louis Kahn in the 20th century This beautifully illustrated study seeks to understand the work of these shadow makers through their drawings their writings and through the masterpieces they built The Cambridge Companion to British Poetry, 1945-2010 Edward Larrissy, 2016 This Companion brings together sixteen essays that explore the full diversity of British poetry since the Second World War Focusing on famous and neglected names alike from Dylan Thomas to John Agard leading scholars provide readers with insight into the ongoing importance and profundity of post war poetry A Horror and a Beauty: The World of Peter Ackroyd's London Novels Petr Chalupský, 2016-02-01 Peter Ackroyd is one of the foremost contemporary British London writers He focuses on the capital its history development and identity both in his fiction and non fiction The London of his novels is thus a highly idiosyncratic construct which reflects and derives from its author's ideas about the actual city's nature as well as his concept of the English literary sensibility in general as he outlines them in his lectures and historical and literary studies. It is an exceptionally heterogeneous city of enormous diversity and richness of human experience, moods and emotion of actions and events and also of the tools through which these are represented and reenacted. According to Ackroyd, this heterogeneity mostly originates outside the sites and domains of the established or mainstream cultural production and social norms and conventions, particularly in occult practices, subversive acts and the plotting of radical individuals or groups, criminal and fraudulent activities of various kinds, dubious scientific experiments and the popular dramatic forms of ritual and entertainment whose permanent encounters with and contesting of the officially approved and prescribed forms instigate the city's vitalising energy for dynamic change and spiritual renewal. This book presents the world of Ackroyd's London novels as a distinct chronotope determined by specific spatial and temporal properties and their mutual interconnectedness. Although such a concept of urban space in its essence defies categorisation, the book is thematically organised around six defining aspects of the city as Ackroyd identifies them: the relationship between its past and present, its uncanny manifestations, its felonious tendencies, its inhabitants, psychogeographic and antiquarian strategies, its theatricality and its inherently literary character.

From the Shadows Owen Hopkins, 2015-11-15. Nicholas Hawksmoor 1662-1736 is one of English history's greatest architects, outshone only by Christopher Wren, under whom he served as an apprentice. A major figure in his own time, he was involved in nearly all the grandest architectural projects of his age and he is best known for his London churches, six of which still stand today. Hawksmoor wasn't always appreciated; however, for decades after his death, he was seen as at best a second-rate talent. From the Shadows tells the story of the resurrection of his reputation, showing how over the years his work was ignored, abused and altered, and finally recovered and celebrated. It is a story of the triumph of talent and of the power of appreciative admirers like T.S. Eliot, James Stirling, Robert Venturi and Peter Ackroyd, all of whom played a role in the twentieth-century recovery of Hawksmoor's reputation.

Romantic Cartographies Sally Bushell, Julia S. Carlson, Damian Walford Davies, 2020-12-10. Romantic Cartographies is the first collection to explore the reach and significance of cartographic practice in Romantic period culture. Revealing the diverse ways in which the period sought to map and spatialise itself, the volume also considers the engagement of our own digital cultures with Romanticism's map-mindedness. Original exploratory essays engage with a wide range of cartographic projects, objects and experiences in Britain and globally. Subjects range from Wordsworth, Clare and Walter Scott to Romantic board games and geographical primers to reveal the pervasiveness of the cartographic imagination in private and public spheres. Bringing together literary analysis, creative practice, geography, cartography, history, politics and contemporary technologies, just as the cartographic enterprise did in the Romantic period itself, Romantic Cartographies enriches our understanding of what it means to map literature and culture.

City Visions Jenny Bavidge, Robert Bond, 2021-03-04. City Visions: The Work of Iain Sinclair collects fourteen pathbreaking essays treating the panoramic oeuvre of novelist-poet

filmmaker and essayist Iain Sinclair This book aims to reflect and develop the current strong interest in the work of Sinclair who is widely recognized as one of the most significant figures in contemporary British literature and culture The essays herein cover the key genres and periods of Sinclair's output discussing his poetry prose and filmmaking and are developed from the proceedings of the first academic conference on Sinclair which was held at the University of Greenwich in 2004 Following the introductory chapter which includes a brief survey of Sinclair's career up until now the collection is arranged thematically in four sections The first part Contexts features essays which comment on the critical categorization and definition of Sinclair's work The second part Culture and Critique includes essays which explore the political import and contexts of Sinclair's oeuvre The articles in the third part Connections look at the links between Sinclair and other writers addressing the often noted intertextuality of his writing and the final section Spaces contains three considerations of Sinclair's treatment of London's urban spaces This collection provides access to the latest research by the leading scholars working in this area and will be a key point of reference for anyone interested in Sinclair's production To some the field of London writing may increasingly look like an indifferent over populated wasteland Iain Sinclair however remains pre eminent by virtue not only of the amplitude of his knowledge of the city but of the intensity and complexity of his thought about it He is the redemptive memorialist of a host of disregarded London cultures that lie quite beyond the reach of contemporary pieties In that respect he is less our Blake as he sometimes seems to believe than our Pepys or our Defoe At the same time he is an audacious experimenter with prose forms in the modernist tradition from Joyce to Burroughs and beyond Like the Sinclair phenomenon itself this valuable collection of essays is multifaceted illuminating its subject from a variety of different angles whilst very well aware that it is part of a work in progress It offers important testimony to the scope and power of a writer engaged in an original serious and necessary project Andrew Gibson Research Professor of Modern Literature and Theory Royal Holloway University of London This is an important and timely collection about arguably the most significant living London writer who is increasingly being recognised as an important contemporary English author in every sense Lawrence Phillips Principal Lecturer in English University of Northampton At last Iain Sinclair has the readers he deserves at least on the ample often provocative and always fascinating evidence of City Visions a collection of essays marked equally by panache and verve awareness of alternative cultural history and theoretical sophistication Over fourteen chapters critics with wide ranging interests gather their restless energies and obsessions in response to the scatter gun agitprop and guerilla intellectualism of Sinclair to produce a necessary and necessarily edgy volume In this admirably relentless collection Jenny Bavidge and Robert Bond offer an unnerving and inventive critical topography that uncovers the dark heart of a writer who is simultaneously the enfant terrible and minence grise of English letters Belles lettrists and other dilettantes be warned this is not a volume for the faint hearted these essays manifest an evangelical zeal equal to their subject's own in doing so they take us on an exhilarating intellectual adventure so refreshing in the world of lit crit where the polite formulas of sensible reading
