Lutheran Theology Doing Theology:

Lutheran Theology Steven D. Paulson, 2011-04-14 Principles of Lutheran Theology Carl E. Braaten, 1985 First published in 1983 Principles of Lutheran Theology has guided students into theological reflection on the landmarks of Christian faith as understood in the Lutheran confessional heritage for a generation. The book sets forth the main principles of classical Lutheran theology but with an eschatological accent. Canon, confession, ecumenicity, Christ-centeredness, sacrament, law, gospel, and two kingdoms are all examined not only in terms of their original meaning and historical development but also in light of current reflections. In this new edition, Braaten takes stock of the research and reflection of the last twenty-five years and also adds a chapter on the distinctive Archimedean Lutheran insight into the hiddenness of God as a fount or ground of all theologizing. This new edition cross-referenced to key readings in Luther's Works and The Book of Concord will both equip and facilitate the search for a contemporary articulation of Christian identity in light of the church's historic commitments.

Doing Theology in Today's World John D. Woodbridge, 1994-07 This volume focuses on a central question: What does a person need to know for developing a theology? In other words, this book will not only answer objections lodged against the study of theology but will explain to students, pastors, and laypersons alike what a theologian actually does. It will also present different approaches to the study of theology and review the present status of theological reflection in various Protestant, Orthodox, and Roman Catholic traditions. In the first section of the book, evangelical Protestant scholars describe the contributions various disciplines make to the study of theology. In the next section, evangelical Protestant scholars explain the distinctives of their approaches to doing theology. In the third part, theologians who do not identify with evangelical Protestant convictions seek to explain the distinctives of their approaches to doing theology. In the final section, Dr. Kantzer provides a summary analysis of how he does theology and interacts critically with a number of essays in this volume.

 par excellence an informed chronicle of the chief theological conflicts of the twentieth century that have put the integrity of the gospel to the test The Oxford Handbook of Sacramental Theology Hans Boersma, Matthew Levering, 2015-08-06
 As a multi faceted introduction to sacramental theology the purposes of this Handbook are threefold historical ecumenical and missional The forty four chapters are organized into the following parts five parts Sacramental Roots in Scripture Patristic Sacramental Theology Medieval Sacramental Theology From the Reformation through Today and Philosophical and Theological Issues in Sacramental Doctrine Contributors to this Handbook explain the diverse ways that believers have construed the sacraments both in inspired Scripture and in the history of the Church s practice In Scripture and the early Church Orthodox Protestants and Catholics all find evidence that the first Christian communities celebrated and taught about the sacraments in a manner that Orthodox Protestants and Catholics today affirm as the foundation of their own faith and practice Thus for those who want to understand what has been taught about the sacraments in Scripture and across the generations by the major thinkers of the various Christian traditions this Handbook provides an introduction As the divisions in Christian sacramental understanding and practice are certainly evident in this Handbook it is not thereby without ecumenical and missional value This book evidences that the story of the Christian sacraments is despite divisions in interpretation and practice one of tremendous hope

The Promise of Lutheran Ethics Karen L. Bloomquist, John R. Stumme, 1998-08-01 Here ten Lutheran theologians explore Lutheran emphases themes and approaches to offer their account of Christian ethics as a way of life in today's world Writing in dialogue they raise foundational concerns of biblical and theological sources and norms of Christian freedom and responsibility of call and social witness of justice and formation in prayer Then in a lively Table Talk the participants discuss and debate the tradition's insights and oversights and show how it might illumine today's burning ethical issues such as homosexuality

Truth-Telling and Other Ecclesial Practices of Resistance Christine Helmer, 2021-05-25 In this book leading American Lutheran theologians inspired by the Scandinavian emphasis on theology as embodied practice ask how Christian communities might be mobilized for resistance against systemic injustices They argue that the challenges we confront today as citizens of the United States as a species in relation to all the other species on the planet and as members of the body of Christ require an imaginative reconceptualization of the inherited tradition The driving force of each chapter is the commitment to truth telling in naming the church's complicity with social and political evils and to reorienting the church to the truth of grace that Christianity was created to communicate Contributors ask how ecclesial resources may be generatively repurposed for the church in the world today for church building grounded in Christ and for empowering the church's witness for justice The authors take up the theme of resistance in both theoretical and pragmatic terms on the one hand rethinking doctrine on the other reconceiving lived religion and pastoral care in light of the necessary urgencies of the time and bearing witness to the God whose truth includes both justice and hope

A Liberation Theology of the Brain Carmelo Santos-Rolón, 2025-06-10 Drawing on experiences from the lab the local congregation the immigrant rights movement the university classroom the global church and brain science this book invites readers to discover the transformative possibilities that arise when we recognize that the insights of science and theology can complement and transform each other Brain science and theology can be powerful partners in God's work of liberating all of us from the internalized structures of oppression that colonize imaginations imprison emotions subjugate bodies and fracture societies Trained as a scientist a pastor and a theologian Carmelo Santos Rolón brings together insights from various fields in neuroscience and the cognitive sciences such as the neuroscience of religious experience the neuroscience of emotions the cognitive science of religion and the neuroscience of decision making with data from liberation postcolonial decolonial and Lutheran ecumenical theologies to analyze the spiritual experience of holistic liberation The result is a theological framework informed by science that allows us to appreciate how the Spirit of God is at work in with and under neurons bodies and communities in all their beautiful messiness and complexity In the tradition of liberation theologies which insist that action and reflection belong together and must inform each other this book aims at a theology with dirty hands and worn out shoes It is meant for a people who are not just intellectually curious about who God is and how religion affects our brains but who are eager to join in God's work of bringing healing and hope to a wounded world Theology and neuro science together allow us to witness how the Spirit of God is at work deep inside the nooks and crannies of our brains in the chemistry of our nervous systems in the emotions that orient our actions and in the communities that shape our identities Through tangible means such as words and rituals symbols and narratives sacraments and community God liberates us for lives of meaning and purpose at the service of the beautiful future that God is bringing into being

Remembering Theologians - Doing Theology Dirkie Smit, 2013-10-01 Theology for me has always been about friendship whether with students postgraduate students colleagues ministers ecumenical believers from different traditions theologians from abroad or simply books and publications articles and sources This volume is a witness to some of these friends and some of these conversation partners dead and alive near and far like minded or from totally different backgrounds and persuasions I have met over several decades and with whom I have been privileged to engage doing theology Dirk J Smit

Doing Theology Today Schubert M. Ogden, 2006-07-01 Here is an essential handbook for all those who would do theology today written by one of America's most distinguished theologians The book is divided into four parts Theology of Theology which extends deepens and renders more persuasive the author's lines of thought on theological prolegomena Theology and Christology which argues that to do theology today one must be concerned above all with the fundamental questions of God and Jesus Theology of Religions which implies that to do theology today is to do it in a truly global context in the presence of the plurality of ways of being human including those represented by non Christian religions Theology in Conversation which claims that to do theology today is to enter into close and sustained conversation with others who either are or have been engaged in the same task of critical reflection

Lutheran Tradition as Heritage and Tool Niclas Blåder, 2015-09-23 All of the member churches of the Lutheran World Federation LWF are related to Lutheran theology in one way or another However that does not mean they act similarly or draw the same conclusions about any particular issue Rather Lutheran churches around the globe display great diversity This book has its background in a study of five Lutheran churches the ILCO in Costa Rica the IECLB in Brazil the ELCI in Iceland the FLM in Madagascar and the HKBP in Indonesia It addresses the questions of how the Lutheran heritage today is expressed in different churches and what is the role of Lutheran theology in how they handle their respective situations. The churches in this study share with other churches the need to handle dilemmas such as the relations between community and pluralism, openness and particularity, power and servanthood, and closeness to culture and being an alternative to culture. In doing this they use their culture and history as well as their Lutheran heritage as tools.

Exploring Protestant Traditions W. David Buschart, 2009-09-20 Protestant is shorthand for a spreading family tree of church and theological traditions. Each tradition embodies a historically shaped perspective on the beliefs, practices, and priorities that make up a Christian community. Whether you are an insider to one tradition, a hybrid of two or three, or as many Christians today, an outsider to all, Exploring Protestant Traditions is a richly informative field guide to eight prominent Protestant theological traditions: Lutheran, Anabaptist, Reformed, Anglican, Baptist, Wesleyan, Dispensational, and Pentecostal. Clearly and evenhandedly, W. David Buschart traces the histories of each tradition, explains their interpretive approaches to Scripture, and identifies their salient beliefs. As a result, you will gain a sense of what it is to believe and worship as a Reformed or Pentecostal Christian, who the traditions' heroes are, and where the theological accents are placed. Charts displaying the denominational representatives of each tradition and bibliographies mapping the path for further explorations add to the value of this guide. This is a book that seeks to receive rather than evaluate, to listen and understand rather than judge or correct. This is a model of theological hospitality that encourages you to open your doors to the varied ways in which Protestantism has taken root in history and human society. Some things take time, like coming to know a religious tradition. But Exploring Protestant Traditions is an excellent place to start.

The Blackwell Companion to Nineteenth-Century Theology David Fergusson, 2010-03-18 Bringing together a collection of essays by prominent scholars, The Blackwell Companion to Nineteenth-Century Theology presents a comprehensive account of the most significant theological figures, movements, and developments of thought that emerged in Europe and America during the nineteenth century. A new reference work providing a comprehensive account of the most significant theological figures and developments of thought that emerged in Europe and America during the nineteenth century. Brings together newly commissioned research from prominent international Biblical scholars, historians, and theologians, covering the key thinkers, confessional traditions, and major religious movements of the period. Ensures a balanced ecumenical viewpoint with essays covering Catholic, Russian, and Protestant theologies. Includes analysis of such prominent thinkers as Kant and Kierkegaard, the influence and authority of Darwin, and the natural sciences on theology, and debates the role and enduring influence of the nineteenth-century anti-theologians.

Scripture in the Theologies of W. Pannenberg and D.G. Bloesch Frank M. Hasel, 2004-03-01 Scripture has always played an important role in Christian theology. This study provides an issue-oriented overview of the concepts of Scripture in Protestant theology from the 16th century Reformation onward It then sets forth the concepts of Scripture in the theologies of two contemporary systematic theologians W Pannenberg and D G Bloesch It analyzes compares and evaluates the theological and anthropological presuppositions that have influenced their concept of Scripture Despite fundamentally different starting points and other significant distinctions Pannenberg and Bloesch reveal surprising similarities This seems to suggest that for both the concept of Scripture is determined ultimately by presuppositions that are derived and shaped extra scripturam

Postcolonial Resistance and Asian Theology Simon Shui-Man Kwan, 2013-11-07 Presenting a fundamental re thinking of Asian theology this book focuses on theological indigenization in Asia in light of the postcolonial theory of resistance advanced by Homi K Bhabha among others Two types of anti colonialist resistance within Asian theologies are identified and interrogated The first is nationalistic in kind operating from a theological language that is binaristic and oppositional The second is illustrated by that which was mounted by the three Chinese Christian thinkers whose indigenous theologies are analysed in this book as case studies This second kind postcolonial in its character is characterized by collaboration rather than antagonistic binarism In spite of much dissimilarity between these two kinds of resistance the book argues that they are similarly anti colonialist and both can be equally valid in resisting colonial forces Given that the binarism and antagonism imbedded in the Asian theological movement are historically contingent and that the sole reliance on this resistance has made the movement self ensnaring the book suggests that the Asian theological movement widen its choice of colonial resistant strategies Drawing attention to the otherwise subtle politics of the Asian theological indigenization discourse this book addresses the relationship between postcolonialism and Asia contextual theology and is of interest to students and scholars of Asian Religion and Philosophy
